Washington, March 16 .- The main development in the Spanish situation today was in connection with the definite repetitions submitted by the Spanish government to the state department concerning the assembling of a large fleet of American warships at Key West, the war preparations, and the influence which these have had on the ready ordered. appraoching elections in Cuba. These representations were exactly in line with the semi-official utterances given in these dispatches last night and accredited to a high official conversant with the yiews of the Spanish cabinet. Fear and Yadkin Valley, or as Chairman Caldwell puts it, wanted a double cut. R. W. Hicks appeared before the commission regarding freight rates on molasses to interior points of the state from Wilmington. He made a strong presentation of his claim that there was discrimination in this matter against Wilmington, and in favor of Richmond and Norfolk. The commission served notices on the rallways to show cause why the molasses' rate to interior points in 'North Carolina should not be as low as from Richmond and Norfolk, considering difference in mileage.

The commission gives notice that it will meet tomorrow morning and render a decision as to whether its order reducing passenger rates shall stand or be revoked.

> SPAIN NOT AFRAID OF WAR. La Lucha in its leading editorial this afternoon says it is unable to explain the bellicose attitude of the United States and inclines to the belief that this is the fault of business syndicates like the sugar trust, or due to some new desire to annex Cuba which has "changed the physiognomy of the American people." It claims that Spain has done nothing to hurt the pride of the United States and refers with Spain, and that it did not evento the friendliness of Spain for the American colonies when they were fighting England, and also to the "strict neutrality maintained during Key West, Fla., March 16 .- The arrival of the court of inquiry from Havanabnilhe Mangrove today was not un expected, but the excitement and mystery which has surrounded the behavior of its members during the day is in strong contrast with their former conduct at Key West. The most definite statement obtainable was from a member of the court who, after supulating that his name should be suppressed said: Among naval officers and others, it is generally believed that the court of inquiry has come to the definite conclusion that the explosion was external and that the court is now only busied over minior technical details." One of the officers of the Maine said to the correspondent: "I believe the Maine vas blown up from the outside; but judging from the questions asked by nembers of the court when previously here, I am utterly unable to ascertain whether they have even countenanced such a solution of the disaster. I have talked with fellow-officers, and hasing their opinions on the character of the questions asked, they too, were bound to confess that they were just as much in the dark."
