Mr. Bellamy had been in feeble health ever since he finished his "Equal ity" eight months ago. Indeed, long before it was done he had the most significant warnings that his vital energies were being undermined, although it was not until August his physicians definitely told him that one of his lungs was effected. At the earnest solicitations of his physicians and family he resolved to try the effect of the Colorado climate and early in September last removed with his family to Denver, Colorado, where he was welcomed by a host of friends. He received, however, little or no benefit from the change and since January failed rapidly. When re recognized that recovery was impossible he became anxious to get back to his old family homestead

Attitude of the Powers Toward the War. London, May 23 .- The Madrid correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says: One point of interest in the reconstruction of the cabinet lies in the obstinate refusal of Senor Leon y Castillo, the Spanish ambassador to France, to accept the foreign secretaryship. I am enabled to state that the ambassador's motive for refusal was the following: Senor Sagasta's cabinet is by its own formal declarations determined to carry on the war with all possible vigor; whereas Senor Leon y Castillo is aware 'that Spain's friends among the powers, France in particular, are resolved to in-sist upon her suing for peace at the first favorable moment. France possesses a two-fold interest in having peace conluded-financial and political. The former would be severely damaged if Spain were utterly ruined and the latter would suffer if the United States retained possession of the Philippines The leading idea which actuates the statesmen responsible for the political scheme favored by Senor Leon y Castillo s that as Spain must be worsted in the long run, it is advisible to save as much as possible from destruction and that the sooner peace is concluded the more tolerant will be the terms acquisced in by the United States. The most importan of these terms, in the eyes of Spain's friends' and protectors, is the possession of the Philippines, which can be utilized for further political combinations

To become a member of a war cabinet therefore, at the very moment when the friendly powers are resolved to press upon Spain a speedy peace, appears im prudent to Senor Leon y Castillo, who is possession of all the threads of the negotiations. Spain's importance as a political factor in the far east is now oroughly understood and everything possible will be done to gain time and profit by it. The first and most important step at present, therefore, is to utilize the most propitious moment for con luding peace on the basis of Spain's reention of the Philippines: When that time has come-and it is believed to very near, now that the Spanish squad ron is at Sentiago-Spain will be asked to propose pour parlers and friendly efforts will be made to induce the United States to rest satisfied with Cuba's indeendence or with annexation and te abandon the scheme of running perma nently or occupying temporarily the Philippines. These are the grave considera-tions which determine Senor Leon y Castillo, who is a party politician and usually submissive to the head of his party, to insist upon remaining as ambassado at Paris.
