We soon learned that with its absurd principle of absolutely demanding that twelve men shall agree or there is a mis-trial. We keep the jury fiasco and humbug for particplar attention at intervals. It is such a shabby excuse for justice we take vast satisfaction in jobbing it with our stylus, hoping to make a hole or two in the contemptible system of miscarriage of justice and invitation to

Much criticism, we hear, is making npon Judge Oliver H. Allen's recent decision in the New Hanover county not purpose to attempt to give an opinion. This writer is a very intimate personal friend of Judge Allen, having known him since he first went er, grandfather and many others of his tian, an honest, upright judge, then we are deceived beyond anything else connected with mankind in a long life.

Now for the decision. We ask lawdecision rendered by Judge Allen, if there is not at law, (we believe that is if there is not. Does not the judgement in the Bladen case and the New stood if not exactly stated in the language of the court. Does not the New Hanover case differ in this-that it power of the judge to grant an inwe gather it, in a quo warranto proceeding. If there is no difference in these processes then our question may

Another question for good and court of North Carolina said with all positiveness that injunction will not lie in an action to try title to office? We have been so impressed. Indeed, we have been so informed. If the highest court has thus held were not Judge Allen's hands tied. We are seeking to find the right simply in this matter, corruption in office? Whatever may be the opinion of the lawyers as to the decision, we are quite sure that the ty controlled Judge Allen in his decision. Who can possibly doubt who knows the man where his feelings, in a case like this, if he were not controlled by higher responsibilities and a lefty sense of conscientious duty. He must believe that any talk of judicial probity and most delicate sense of

SOME FACTS FOR THE ST. LOUIS GLOBE DEMOCRAT

While northern newspapers and a St. Louis republican newspaper abuse North Carolina for dilatoriousness in raising troops for the war, the fact remains that the war department has not been able to supply the Second North Carolina with proper arms and clothing up to now. This incapacity back and sides, no appetite-gradually has caused Col. Burgwyn to hurry to physicians had given me up. have been more than ample three regiments-makng thus far five regiments tenderedand three companies up-to-date. We call the attention of the slanderous St. Louis Globe Democrat, a republican organ, to this statement. That paper, not having the fear of God before it when it wrote, or being too ignorant of facts to know better got off this infamous reflection upon North Caro-

"The difficulty of getting troops out of North Carolina for the Cuban war is but an experience had by the Southern Confederacy during the civil war. President Davis had more trouble raising troops from that State than from any other State in the Southern Confederacy.

Let us give this unkind republican organ some most needed information North Carolina raised troops in the great war between the States with great enthusiasm and intense energy after it succeeded. It not only sent to the front quickly very large regiments, but regiments that fought with a spirit, pluck and interprise second to no troops in the war on either side.

In 1860, in the last vote for Gevernor, it colled 112,500 white votes. Under the great Vance an army Roster of North Carolina troops in the war was prepared and has been published by the State of North Carolina in three mas-State had more than 126,000 in the war. We cannot give the precise figures not having the Roster at hand. We know t is more than 126,000. No other State came in 20,000 of that number.

Again, the Records of the war pubished by the United States Government now having reached 109 volumesshow that North Carolina lost a great many more men than any other Confederate State-that its loss was in ound numbers 41,000-that of these 15,-000, in round numbers, were killed and wounded inbattle, which is more than ,000 more than the loss of any other

North Carolina opened the ball at he little battle of Bethel and at Appomatox surrendered more than any other State-we believe more than all the other States combined.

It will be generally regretted by the Masons and the friends of their noble and bartering the principles of the work at Oxford that Superintendent party A. M. Lawrence, has resigned his place in the Orphan Asylum. This is a decided misfortune. We hope he can be persuaded to remain. It must not be overlooked that Governor Russell squarely and emphatically denounces the report that he telegraphed abroad that North Carolina State troops were panic stricken. We are glad for the sake of the State and for the Governor that he was not guilty of that most foul and damning sin.

The Rocky Mount Argonaut, and the Wilson News have (begun the publication of a daily. We wish both experiments abundant success. and sacrifices of principle have been lifted. The party has renewed, its vigor at the fountain of pure and unadulterated democracy and is the better for the coming contest with the enemies of good government. Party newspapers and party speakers and party workers and party voters are not to be handicapped by allegiance to Butler and to Ayer and other political demagogues who are responsible for the present deplorable condition of affairs in North Carolina. No, the way is now clear to a vigorous exposition of the dark deeds of the man who have betrayed the mother state and sold their own birthright for a mess of pottage, and the way is clear to the best and strongest fight that we are able to make for the permament res-Carolina-such a fight as we made years gone by, when the sceptre of the despoilers and a white man's government was reestablished.-Winston Delegates returning from the state convention tell us that there was a large and intelligent sentiment among hose who were there, after the platform was adopted and the policy of the party outlined, to the effect that with judicious nominations and a wise and vigorous campaign the democrats can carry the state this year. The case resolved itself into this: On the one hand the possibility-as remote as anything could be-of a barren victory this year resulting in infinite complications and final demoralization; on the other, a more than probable victory this year coming clean and unencumbered, or if defeat, the certainty of an overwhelming and permanent success in 1900. Between the prospect of the one hand and that on the other, a wise party could not hesitate and the democratic party did not .- Charlotte Observer.
