(Copyrighted by Associated Press.) off Santiago de Cuba, Tuesday, June 14, 8 p. m.-By Associated Press Dispatch Boat Dandy, via Kingston, Ja., June 15, 8 p. m .- The United States cruiser New Orleans, having been ordered by Rear Admiral Sampson to destroy the new emplacements half a mile east of el Morro, on which a large number of Spaniards had been working, took up a position at 5 o'clock this morning about 800 yards from shore and 2,000 yards from the Morro battery.

She opened upon the emplacements with her rapid-fire guns. Red clouds of sand rose on the hill top where the emlacements were building. Following the fifteenth shot, the Morro batteries replied with one shell that fell near the stern of the flagship New York. After twenty minutes gun practice Admiral Sampson signaled the New Orleans to cease firing. Then, as she retired, the Morro batterie sent ten shells after her,' but without damage. In addition five field pieces mounted at angles in the trenches, and the machine guns poured a hail of bullets into the chapparel, scattering the main body of the Spanjards in all ditheir midst as they ran.

A few of the enemy stood their ground desperately on the left flank and the crack of the Mauser rifles and the "pings" of their buildets were heard severe test of endurance for the mafor an hour. The Panther fired 6-pounders into the Spaniards while the marines were engaged in beating off the attack.

Only one man was wounded and he sustained a slight injury on his hand. The Cubans, who acted well last night were with difficulty forced out of the a hill top, the Americans caught sight skirmish line this morning. Some of them refused to be driven even when wstruck by their officers with the flat of their machetes, but they were not censured. They try to work out their knowledge of the methods of the Spanfish guerillas, and as guides they are havaluable. Our men are at a great disadvantage with the guerrilas, who are past grand masters of this peculiar plan of campaign of savage rather than civilized warfare. The men slink through the tropical undergrowth as flank. The enemy's bullets were whirlas shadows, noiselessly with their naked bodies concealed with palm leaves, so that they are neither as unconcernedly as though at target seen nor heard. As the Dauntless left the bay the smoke of two Spanish gunboats in the nner harmor could be seen and the Dolphin stood up the channel to meet the attack, if the Spaniards had the audacity to make one. When ten be necessary to dislodge the enemy miles off shore, the booming of guns when suddenly the latter began to could be heard and the harbor was weiled in smoke.

TESTING THE VESUVIUS.

Off Santiago de Cuba, on Monday night, the dynamite guns of the Vesuvius were tested with great success. Three shots were fired at the Spanish fortifications and it is believed great damage was don'e.

On Tuesday marning the New Or-the fighting ceased. The marines were compelled to march in single file following the mountain trail. Meonwhile the Cubans darted backward and forward to right and left on the scout. It was noon when from of the Spanish camp lying on a ridge below them. It consisted of one large house the officers' quarters surrounded by numerous "shacks" and huts, all clustering about the precious well. The Americans began a cautious advance and were within 200 yards of the enemy before the crack of a rifle from the Spanish lines announced that the Spaniards had discovered them. The troops quickly moved into line of battle, with the Cubans on the left some ing viciously over the Americans, but the marines settled down to their work

Very few Spaniards were in sight. They were lying behind the huts, and in the brush, but the puffs of smoke revealed their positions and enabled the Americans to do effective work. For twenty minutes both sides maintained a terrific fire. The Spanish shots were generally wild and spasmodic, while the Americans coolly fired away, aiming carefully and shooting individually to kill. For the most part the Americans' firing was done individually but at times the officers could direct firing by squade, always with telling effect. It was beginning to look as though a bayonet charge down the slope would break for a thicket 100 yards further on. Little groups could be seen fleeing from the camp, separating, darting through the brush and zigzaging to escape the bullets. It was then the American fire became most deadly. Man after man could be seen to fall in a vain rush for shelter; and the fire from the Spanish became scattering and almost ceased.

Two Cubans lay dead and four wounded, and Private Walker, of company .D., had to limp to the rear with a slight wound in his ankle. The easy victory put the command in high spirits. The little black Cuban warriors. waved their machetes and howled curses at the Spanish in savage fashion. Their firing had been wild throughout, but they all displayed the utmost contempt for the Spanish bullets, apparently being absolutely without fear. As the enemy were breaking camp, the Dolphin, which lay out at sea, was signaled and began pitching shells toward the thicket for which the Spaniards were making. Meanwhile Lieuforty men as reinforcements, and Cap-

The programme was brightened with humorous recitation by Miss Mary Mohr who recited "Too Late to Catch the Train." She gave the recitation with splendid effect and created great aughter and applause.

One of the most delightful features was a piano trio by Mrs. E. Schulken, Mrs. George Haar and Miss Minnie Glameyer who sat at one instrument and most skillfully played "Fancredi.", A storm of applause attested the appreciation of their novel performance. The Mandolin Club again played several selections and they closed the programme with ringing applause for their playing.

The whole affair was one of the pleasantest we have ever attended, and will be long remembered by all who were fortunate enough to have been present. The human machine starts but once and stops but once. You can keep it going longest and most regularly by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation and all stomach and liver troubles. For sale by R. R. Bellamy."

Happy Nuptials Soon to be

On the evening of the 29th- instant Miss Celestia Estelle Leach and Herbert McClammy, Esq., will be joined together in the holy bonds of matrimony. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride elect's parents, Mr. sending out the Hopkins board was to and Mrs. J. T. Leach, of Gulley's Mills, N. C. The happy couple will be at home in the city after July 10th, at No. 403 Market street.

> The bride elect is a most charming young lady of rare interlectual accomplishments, and the groom is one of our popular young citizens and successful members of the bar.

S. C. P. Jones, Milesburg, Pa., wries: -"I have used DeWitt's Little Early Risers ever since they were introduced her and must say I have never used any pills in my family during forty years of, house keeping that have such sion to join them, promising to observe satisfactory results as a laxative or cathartic.
