RUSSIA AGREES TO ARBITRATE

Our Claims for Seizure of Sealing Vessels in Behring Sea.

London, October 24.-Russia, it has been learned by the Associated Press, has at last agreed to arbitrate with the United States the claims resulting from the seizure of sealers in the Behring sea, which have been pending for about eight years. A protocol between the two governments have been drawn up; the final formalities are expected to be concluded next month and the arbitration will probably take the form of the Venzuelan court.

October 24.—These Washington, claims originated in the seizure by the Russian authorities off the coast of Siberia, of three American sealing vessels, and the damages claimed aggregate about $150,000. The vessels were the James Hamilton Lewis, the Cape Horn Pigeon and the C. H. White. In each case the largest Item of the claim is on account of the sufferings of the American officers and crew while under arrest. The cases differ from those claims presented by British sealers, which were settled by the Behring sea arbitration, in the fact that while the British vessels were seized by the American Tevenue cutters on what the arbitration declared to be the high seas, the Russian men-of-war seized these American sealers within seven miles of the Asiatic coast. The protocol through which the arbitration was arranged was prepared in St. Petersburg by United States Minister Tower, and the Russian foreign office. It was agreed by the parties is certain at a very early date. London, October 24 .- The parliamenary secretary of the war office, George Wyndham, in the house of commons today, announced that Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, the commander-in-chief of the forces, sums the situation in Natal today as follows: "General Yule has fallen back to ef-

The two are now in a position to offer battle. Free State troops they will offer battle to Commandant General Joubert. Only forty miles now separate the two Boe forces. Hence the need for swift and telling action. "The two sections of the Boer army together outnumber the entire British force by three to one. Hard fighting

General White's "successful action." announced in Parliament by Mr. Windham, seems to have resolved itself into de ided advantage. Ruhlin floored him a mere engaging of the attention of the e times in the fourth and put him the Free State troops while General Yule is slipping southward. It is evident from the official dispatches that both Commandant Generall Joubert's column on the north and the Orange Free State troops on the west now occupy strong positions and that nothing hinders the Boers from other dispatches that have not yet been published. The secretary of state for war left Mr. Choate's residence immediately at the end of the banquet to General Harrison and proceeded to the war office, where, even after midnight, there was considerable activity, many visitors calling to inquire for information, among them a sister of General Sir Archibald Hunter.

ENGLAND'S FRUITLESS VICTO-

London, October 25 .- Although there s no reason to doubt the accuracy of the dispatch from Cape Town to The Daily Mail regarding General Yule's movement, it is curious that General White's telegram to the war office, which is also dated at 9 p. m., makes no mention of joining of forces. When the war office dispatch was issued just after midnight the officials announced that nothing would be communicated until Wednesday morning so that it is before itreating on the subject, and his impossible to confirm or deny the news. day over the Stratford slopes and the Zurfontein table, both over 5,000 feet Mr. Choate was found, to a certain exhigh, and arrived after dusk at Beith, tent, unprepared. The only reply he which is half way between Rorkes drift and Waschbank. He had a still heavy march and was hardly expected to join General White at Ladysmith until today.

His movements were actuated by sound judgment, since he soon would have been surrounded and in a desperate position. The combined forces at Ladysmith, now amounting to some 12,000 men, will be amply sufficient to act on the defensive. A few more vic-tories like Glencoe and Elandslaagte, however, would leave the British troops without officers.

While the Boers have failed to take advantage of their strategic position, owing to the incompetence or haste of their leaders, the British have no cause for congratulations over the results of the Natal operations. They have suffered heavy losses in men, and their victories have practically gone for nothing, the whole of northern Natal eing now abandoned to the Boers. It would have been better to have concentrated on Ladysmith in the first instance, but General White and General Symons had to yield to political exigencies and to the local reluctance to abandon an inch of territory more than was necessary. It is not expected that the wounded left at Dundee will suffer, except in being prisoners of war.

It is very different from her forthe Canadian minister of marine and fisheries, Sir Louis Henry Davies, late tonight before the latter sailed, and dispatched today to Washington by the against the Tagalos. Aguinaldo has officials of the United States embassy.

"That the boundary line be arbitrated upon terms similar to those imposed by the United tates and Great Britain over Venezuela, particularly those provisions making fifty years occupancy place and are awaiting the arrival of title, occupancy of less than that period Commandant Cronje. No Boers are to to be taken as equity allows under international laws.

"That as a condition precedent to and bsolutely preliminary to arbitration, Skaguay and Dyea would be conceded to the United States without further claim, if Canada received Pyramid habor. "In other words, Canada gives up much of the disputed gold country in eturn for a seaport, but stipulates that agrees to arbitrate the boundary line." The propositions of Sir Louise Henry Davies were made privately and were, apparently, the result of an unexpected communication from his government for Sir Louis, the day previous, expressed no inkling that he was empow ered to make such sweeping proposals. The Canadian statesman, heretofore, has insistently denied the United States' contention that Dyea and Skaguay change of front and the concession of two such important points are apparently intended as a coup, and could make was that he would inform the authorities at Washington and await their advices, as his instructions did not contemplate such a change of base by Canada. The Associated Press is reliably informed that Canada's new position was greatly influenced by imperial pressure and it can be stated definitely that Mr. Chamberlain advised concession as much as possible in order to gain a port of entry free from the United States control, with the professed reason that commercial advantages would accrue trior motive is to increase British naval was killed and the latter injured. strength by making Pyramid harbor a strong naval base.

Regarding the probable action of the United States in these altered conditions, British official opinion is that the United States, having been granted accept the identical form of arbitration. they compelled England to take toward Venezuela. This course is contingent upon the United States deciding that the gold bearing country is nore valuable than Pyramid harbor. Washington, October 24.-It is said at the state department that the proposition as to a permanent Alaskan boundary laid down by Sir Louis Davies is nothing more or less than a summary of claims heretofore preferred. When the commission was in session last spring and the Canadian proposition was made to settle the boundary question by arbitration the American commissioners replied with an offer to accept arbitration, with the proviso that no point occupied by Americans for a specified term of years should be submitted to arbitration. In other words, the term was so fixed by no possibility could the title to Skaguay, Dyea, or any other place that the Americans had occupied for a period represented by the discovery of the Klondike field be called into question by the arbitration. This was one of the final propositions rejected by the Canadian commissioners which caused the failure of the joint conference. Since that time there have been several suggestions in the nature of compromises and included among these was one like this embodied in Sir Louis Davies' propositions namely: "That the United States should confirm the Canadian ditle to Pyramid harbor in return for Canadian confirmation of the American title to Skaguay and Dyea. It is not possible to accurately forecast the view that the state department will take of this last proposition, but it may be proper to recall the fact that in the opinion of the department, Canada has no more claim to Pyramid harbor than it has to Skaguay and Dyea and the British government has already been informed of that belief. Therefore, it seems probable that Sir Louis Davies' proposition will not materially advance a permanent settlement of the boundary question, and that the two countries will continue to act for some time to come under the terms of the modus vivendi recently Rome, October 24.-The following is arranged by Secretary Hay and Mr.
