

GRATIFYING.

Training School For Guilford County.

It is a source of much gratification to a small group of club women with whom a training school for neglected boys has long been a hobby...

Among those present were: County Superintendent of Public Instruction Thomas R. Foust, Dr. W. M. Jones, Rev. Melton Clark, Dr. J. L. Mann, Professor W. C. A. Hammel, Mr. R. C. Hood and Judge S. Glenn Brown...

Better Homes for Negroes. With a view to meeting the demands for better homes for negroes an association to be known as the Laborers' Building and Loan association has been organized...

The New Creamery. A new up-to-date creamery seems now a certainty for Greensboro, it being understood that it will be in operation by or before the first of April.

Successful Campaign. In the two days' canvass for members by the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce this week many new members were secured and nearly $1,500 subscribed by live business men who appreciate the good work being accomplished by the Chamber.

A Standard School. County Superintendent of Schools Thomas R. Foust and County Superintendent of Health W. M. Jones have made plans for what they consider a standard school...

A Live City. Richmond is just getting ready to advertise in all the towns in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Prof. Holt Recovering. His many friends throughout the state will be glad to know that Professor J. Allen Holt, of Oak Ridge Institute...

MOB LAW.

A Negro Lynched Within Eighteen Miles of State Capital.

Jim Wilson, a negro, who confessed that he murdered Mrs. William Lynch—was shot to pieces by a mob of some three hundred otherwise law-abiding citizens.

Newsboys Entertained. One of the most delightful hospitalities ever dispensed at the local Y. M. C. A. was the banquet given the carrier boys of the Greensboro Daily News...

Act of Heroism. The heroine of the hour in Greensboro is Lizzie Reid, a negro woman, who on Monday afternoon rescued from a frightful and certain death two little white children who had wandered from home and gotten on the railroad tracks...

Still After Grafters. Mr. James W. Osborne, now of New York, but once a Tar Heel lawyer, is investigating the grafters in the wicked city—and the front page is called into service to tell the wonderful things that have been done.

Miss Annie E. Isler Dead. After an illness of several weeks Miss Annie E. Isler died Thursday morning at St. Leo's hospital.

Just a Small Item. The census report of the Agricultural Department anent the worth of Uncle Sam's farm animals, horses, cows, sheep, etc., shows that he has invested something like six billion dollars in them.

For Seventeen Years. Chief Deputy Marshal Bailey has retired from the game of politics because he is a republican and republicans do not eat pie these days.

Apologized. Dr. Lankford, of Norfolk, a practicing physician, and a red hot prohibitionist, issued a statement the other day that was intemperate.

The Governor Regrets. Referring to the Johnston county lynching, Governor Craig said: "With all good citizens I regret that the negro, Jim Wilson, was lynched."

Catholic Priest Dies. Father Cyril De Myunch, a Catholic priest, who was brought to St. Leo's hospital about two weeks ago, from Lynchburg, for treatment, died Monday afternoon...

BITE ANY TIME.

The Old Black Bass Must Eat All Winter.

People who think black bass won't bite only in the spring and fall are very much mistaken. Last Wednesday we saw Col. Z. V. Conyers land a couple of real beauties at Hamburg—and your uncle hung one, but in the excitement of the moment let him get away.

Improving the Service. The Southern railway is improving its service on the Asheville branch in order to accommodate the many tourists who visit the Land of the Sky.

Mrs. John Wilson III. All Greensboro was shocked and grieved when the news spread Monday morning that Mrs. John N. Wilson had been stricken with paralysis while attending services at Holy Trinity church Sunday evening.

Home Talent Play. Mr. John W. Sherman, of Roanoke, Va., was in Greensboro this week with a view to staging a home talent play. We have not learned the result of his efforts, but Greensboro has plenty of histrionic talent.

Few Know It All. Mr. W. M. Jones, of Jamestown, one time a railroad man and now a tiller of the soil, says that many men know many things, but he has found it a true bill that no one man knows it all.

The Mayor Takes a Hand. Mayor Walter H. Woodson, of Salisbury, issues a proclamation endorsing the commercial club of his city, and calling upon all loyal citizens to lend a helping hand.
