THE LATEST NEWS. DONNAN-TALMAGE.

The Streets Crowded with People—Four Thousand Persons in the Tabernacle—The Ceremony the Doctor's Own Composition.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Feb. 15.—Brooklyn Tabernacle, the church of Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage, presented an exceedingly festive scene tonight. It was the occasion of the marriage of Miss Edith Talmage, daughter of the pastor, to Mr. Allan E. Donnan, of Richmond, Va. Long before 8 o'clock, the hour of the wedding, the street about the church was filled with crowds of people struggling for entrance while the church itself was thronged with a brilliant assemblage of those fortunate enough to possess tickets. Fully 4,000 people were present.

The procession came down the aisle headed by four bridesmaids. These were followed by the bride leaning on the arm of her sister, Miss May Talmage, who was maid of honor. Behind the bride were four groomsmen, and last of all came Daisy and Maud Talmage, the little sisters of the bride. The bride was met at the altar by Mr. Donnan accompanied by his best man, Major James D. Patton, of Richmond. Dr. Talmage, assisted by his brother, Rev. George Talmage, solemnized the marriage. The doctor used an impressive ceremony of his own composition and before he gave his blessing addressed the couple in a few words of encouragement and advice.

Providing for the Payment of Marshals.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—To-day Attorney General Garland sent to the House the treasury estimates, aggregating $4,300, to cover the expenses of the Marshal for Alaska. The Attorney General states that this instance represents several other similar cases in other districts, and it is his duty to bring the matter to the attention of Congress, so that the just claims of individuals, witnesses, jurors and jailors growing out of the discharge of their duties in obedience to law shall be in some way paid. It is represented that adequate deficiency appropriations should be made to pay not only the accounts which have been adjusted by the treasury, but also sufficient to pay the outstanding claims of fiscal years that have remained unpaid, through no fault of the department.

A Republican Nominating Convention.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 15.—A Republican District convention was held in Blackstone hall, this city, to nominate a candidate for the Congressional vacancy caused by the unseating of Maj. Pierce. Geo. Carmichael, Jr., of Charlestown, presided, and Samuel Stone and Christopher Rhodes were chosen secretaries. When nominations were called for Mr. Beriah H. Lawton nominated Maj. Wm. A. Pierce of Johnston. The nomination was nearly unanimous. A committee of three then waited on Maj. Pierce and presented him to the convention.

The House Committee Evenly Divided.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—There was another meeting of the House committee on foreign affairs this morning, at which the fisheries bills were discussed without conclusion. The committee is about evenly divided on the Senate and House bills. To-morrow another meeting will be held when a vote will be taken.

ALLEGED OUTRAGES.

The Ballot Boxes Demanded by Masked Men Armed, and from this There was Bloodshed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.—The investigation by the sub-committee of the Senate committee on privileges and elections of the alleged political outrages in Washington county, Texas, was begun this morning. Marshall Booker, a farmer of Independence, testified that while conveying the ballot box from Lotts precinct on the third of last November in company with Col. C. P. Spann, one of the judges of election, to Brenham, they were stopped by three armed and masked men who demanded the box. Spann refused to give it up, whereupon the leader commanded his companions to keep their arms aimed at the occupants of the wagon while he approached and took the ballot box and tally sheets. Witness and Spann drove to Erenham and reported the circumstances. On cross examination witness stated that the election at the precinct was quiet and orderly.

Col. C. P. Spann was sworn. Is a Democrat; was clerk of elections at Lotts store; 189 votes were cast, 156 of which were Republican, and 33 for the people's ticket; the 33 votes were cast by white men; the colored men voted solidly for the Republican ticket. The witness corroborated Booker's testimony in respect to the robbery of the ballot box by the armed and masked men, and added that in the afternoon, when he heard of the murder of Bolton in a neighboring precinct, he started at once to transfer the ballot box, which he did not intend to do until the following Saturday. He said that there were negro candidates on both tickets, but that there was not a straight Democratic ticket in the field. Witness had no knowledge as to which party was responsible for the capture of the ballot box; Washington county had a colored majority, though the Germans held the balance of power. He had never known the straight Democratic ticket to be elected in the past ten years, except two years ago, when the Republicans split up.

T. M. Jones, (colored), clerk of the election, testified that while the count was in progress at night men in disguise entered the house, presented pistols and captured the ballot box. Just before this judge Kirk had entered the room and made a note of the vote on certain candidates. He then called Robinson, judge of the election, out of the room and the armed men entered. Witness saw no colored men armed. Dewese Bolton, son of the candidate, was killed in the melee. Adjourned until to-morrow.

A Large Outlay and an Immense Amount of Work Involved.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.—Major J. W. Powell, director of the Geological Survey, in response to a resolution of the House adopted Feb. 1. calling for names of persons who have heretofore been, and are now employed in any manner by or in the office of the geological survey, distinguishing between those appointed under the Civil Service rules and those who were not, together with date of appointment, nature of work, compensation, etc., has replied that the labor necessary to prepare this information is of great magnitude, that the facts called for involve a statement of the disbursement of $2,500,000, in items averaging less than $5 each, affecting more than 200,000 vouchers and sub vouchers. In addition to this he says several thousand men have been employed during the time embraced in the resolution, and it would be necessary to examine the history of the survey. The director asks for an appropriation of $1,800 for the compensation of a chief accountant and $13,400 for eleven accountant clerks at $1,200 each per annum, in all $15,000 to be expended in preparing a reply to the resolution of inquiry of the House.

Tennessee to Vote on Prohibition.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 15.—The amendment prohibiting the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors in this State, passed the House yesterday—87 to 47. It has passed the Senate and must now be submitted to the people. The date of the popular vote on the amendment has not yet been fixed.

THE LASH AND THE PILLORY.

How Delaware Punishes the Transgressors of the Law.

WILMINGTON, Feb. 15.—Had a stranger, unacquainted with Delaware's mode of punishing thieves, visited the county jail yard at New-castle this morning he at first would probably have imagined that several prize fights were to occur soon. About the middle of the forenoon the jail yard was thronged by a motley crowd, hooting and jeering at ten men who stood shivering in front of a pillory and a whipping post. These men resembled pugilists in that they were stripped above the waist. In them the braggadocio and mien so common among pugilists were lacking. Although hardened in crime the raw air and the taunts of the crowd affected them unpleasantly and they said not a word to those jeering them. They were convicts and during the week had been found guilty of larceny or burglary. Two of them were white and all were young.

Promptly at ten o'clock Sheriff Lambson entered the yard, and William H. Baker (white), convicted of stealing a horse and wagon, was lashed to the post, and to his back the Sheriff applied the cat-o'-nine-tails twenty times. When Baker was taken back to his cell, Charles Matthews (white), convicted of the larceny of clothing, was fastened to the post and was given ten lashes. Next came six colored men—Weldon Collins, William Parsons, Robert Sewell, George Anderson, Joseph Griffin and John Walter, who each received ten lashes except the last three, who each were given five. Collins was convicted of stealing $31 from an Italian; Parsons stole some fence rails; Walter robbed a companion of $25; Sewell stole some flowers from a nursery; Anderson's crime was the theft of an overcoat, and Griffin's was stealing chickens.

In addition to receiving twenty lashes Baker had to stand in the pillory for an hour. Terry Cooper and Francis Layard, both colored, convicted of stealing $14 from a farmer, also stood an hour in the pillory. The administering of the punishment was not finished until the middle of the afternoon, and when the last convict had returned to his cell the throng of spectators rushed through the jail yard gates and hurried off in search of their dinners.

Parnell not Sick.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The alarmist news lately sent to America all about the alleged serious illness of Mr. Parnell is exciting amazement here. Everybody in the lobby of the House of Commons is saying, "How much news we learn from some London correspondents!"

Mr. John Brady, secretary of the Irish Land League, said this morning, after reading three-quarters of a column describing Parnell's horrible condition:—"There's scarcely a word of truth in these sensational statements. As for Parnell having had 'bronchitis, the forerunner of consumption,' 'Bright's disease,' &c., the statements are entirely wrong. I believe he is certainly going to take a rest, like Churchill, Gladstone and others overworked. But we will never allow him to resign his leadership of the Irish party."

A River Higher Than it Has Been for Fifty Years.

STERLING, Ill., Feb. 16.—The river at this point is higher than it has been for fifty years and everything is at a standstill. The mills and factories are all being closed. The ice has gorged the river for miles, and grave fears are entertained. At least 50 families have been driven from their homes without being able to move any household goods. Judging from the present appearance the worst has not come. The Larchwood briding farm is entirely submerged.

A Horseshoe Contest.

DETROIT, Feb. 16.—A novel departure from the usual form of sport was the horseshoe turning contest in this city tonight between John Campbell, of Buffalo, and Martin J. Dunn, of this city, who first completing one hundred horseshoes taking the stakes, $200. Dunn came out winner in one hour and forty-seven minutes, being six shoes ahead, and beating the world's record by nearly half an hour. It is understood he will be challenged by the Milwaukee and Detroit smiths.

Young But Very Jealous.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16.—Last evening William Davison, aged sixteen, son of State Senator Cavisson, shot and severely wounded Lizzie Cragham, aged sixteen. Young Davison had become greatly enamored of Miss Cragham, and became very jealous last night because she accompanied a rival on a sleighing party. He called her from the sleigh at the corner of Twelfth and Hickory sts., and, drawing a revolver, shot her in the side, seriously though not necessarily fatally wounding her. In the confusion following the shooting Davison made his escape.

Killed Himself on His Wife's Grave.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Frank Winkleman, aged sixty years, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head at his wife's grave in Mount Hope cemetery to-day. A note in his pocket said "Take me to the dead house. A half-smoked cigar and a revolver lay by his side."

It Is.

It is high time the newspapers all over the country were speaking out and in such language as will not fail to reach the understanding and comprehension of those blatant demagogues who seek to perpetuate their official existence through the instrumentality of pension bills, and consequent robbery of the people's Treasury.

Let Britons Tremble.

The American Eagle may have emitted a slight screech, but, bless your soul she isn't really excited yet. If it becomes necessary to teach Canada a lesson the old bird will claw the whole of that country into the Atlantic Ocean and make it a cause-way reaching clear across, on which she will build a railway and bankrupt all the English steamship companies.—Col. Eco.
