DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE CITY OF GREENSBORO, AND OF THE STATE.

VOL. I GREENSBORO, N. C., FEB. 19, 1887.

THE LATEST NEWS. KILLING NO MURDER.

Southern Jury Acquits the Slayer of Man Who Defamed

His Sister. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 16, 1887.—The most sensational irial in the history of criminal annals in Tennessee resulted yesterday in the acquittal of Russell Godwin for the murder of James T.

Dalton on the 6th day of December last, in broad daylight, in the lobby of the Peabody Hotel, under circumstances of unparalleled atrocity, The social position of the parties involved and the under current of scandal that ran through the case made it a matter of absorbing interest to the public, and the reports of the trial, as published in the daily papers, were awaited with interesting leagerness and read with avidity. The murderer, Russell Godwin, is the son of John R. Godwin, a prominent cotton merchant and bank president. The victim, Dalton, was a handsome young shoe clerk out of employment, who was suspected of having a liason with Mrs. J. B. Polk, the married sister of the murderer, with her.

SHOT DOWN. Young Godwin found Dalton one afternoon in the Peabody Hotel, sitting with friends, engaged in conversation, and, without a word of warning, shot him through the body with a pistol. more shots into his prostrated body. The defence was transitory insanity, superinduced by brooding over defamatory stories circulated by Dalton about charge the defence proved that about six months ago an anonymous letter was received by the husband of Godwin's sister charging the latter with gross misconduct at a watering place. A letter from Dalton to Godwin's father, requesting an interview, fixed the authorship of the anonymous letter upon Dalton. The elder Godwin granted the interview and was informed by Dalton that he was in possession of compromising letters from the former's daughter, which he was prepared to sell for $100. Godwin consulted with friends, and upon their advice purchased the letters, first taking care to mark the bills as a foundation for a charge of blackmail. The money was paid and Dalton placed under arrest by the police for blackmail and, without a trial, trightened into leaving town. Upon his promise never to return, the money paid him was taken from him and returned to the elder Godwin, and only a ticket and a few dollars in currency left him.

. HE REPEATED THE STORIES.

Dalton went to Marianna, an according to depositions of reliable witnesses there, openly boasted of his criminal amours with Mrs. Polk.

A few days before the killing Dalton returned to attend his sister's wedding, and the shooting occurred as above.

Letters were introduced that bore a of Mrs. Polk breathing the most ardent affection for Dalton, and containing such endearing terms as "My blue eyed darling boy."

THE PRISONER ACQUITTED.

The Court charged the jury clearly as to the law, but it availed nothing. After twenty-four hours' consultation a verdict of not guilty was rendered. The true inwardness of the verdict lies in the fact that some of the jury are supposed to have been favorably to Godwin before they were sworn. There are no male Dalton's left to avenge the murder, and the case will probably rest where it is. The killing, far from vindicating the sister, has only tended to circulate among millions what had been heretofore confined to the few. The majority of the public are disgusted with the result, but the chivalry element think it all right. As one of the counsel expressed it, "The dead man was a defamer of woman and deserved to die a dog's death,"

Burned While Kneeling in Prayer.

Mr. Mackey seized a blanket and ex- der great mental excitement, and tinguished the fire, but not until his that her imagination worked the misister had been burned in a terrible manner. The injuries, which are confined to the lower limbs, are not in themselves fatal. The nervous shock, however, was so great that last night the worst was feared. Miss Mackey is resting easier this morning and her physician is hopeful that she will yet recover. The accident occurred while the young lady was in the act of kneeling in prayer. Miss Mackey has of late been subject to fainting spells, and as she knelt she was suddenly overcome and fell prostrate in front of the grate. A burning coal dropped from the fire into the folds of her gown and when she recovered consciousness she was enveloped in flames. Miss Mackey is 19 years of age and is a beautiful and accomplished lady.

Bill Nye's Cow for Sale.

Bill Nye publishes the following advertisement which we copy gratuitiously out of regard for his patriotic services: Owing to ill health I will sell at my residence in town 29, range and who, it was alleged in extenuation of the killing, boasted of his intimacy with her.

18, West, according to Government survey, one crushed-raspberry colored cow, aged 6 years. She is a good milkster and is not afraid of cars-or anything else. She is a cow of undaunted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boom. She is very much attached to her home at present, by Dalton fell and Godwin fired three a trace chain, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right. She is one-fourth short-horn and three-fourths hyena. Purchaser need not be identified. I will also Godwin's sister. In proof of this throw in a double-barrel shot gun which goes with her. In May she generally goes away somewhere for a week or two and returns with a tall, red calf, with long, wabbly legs. Her name is Rose, and I would prefer to sell her to a non-resident.

A PENNILESS BRIDE.

Not so When Wooed, but Left so After Being Wedded.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 16 .-'Captain " C. H. Leroy, of Boston, who has been prominent as a riding master here, married a Chicago lady a few days ago and is now a missing

Leroy was engaged some months ago as instructor in a ladies' riding school opened in the armory of the Light Horse squadron of this city by that crack cavalry organization. He came well recommended and became very popular.

He went to Chicago early last week, and in a Chicago paper there soon appeared a notice of the marriage of C. H. Leroy and Miss Jones. With a lady he drove up to the Plankinton House on Tuesday, and in the hotel register appeared the entry "C. H.

Leroy and wife, Boston." The bride was sent back to Chicago next day, Leroy telling her he would strong resemblance to the handwriting join her in the evening. During the day he told a friend who had seen the marriage notice that it was a mistake. He also said that he was going to Boston that night, since which time he has not been seen here.

A letter that has been received here from a friend of Mrs. Leroy stated that Leroy had deserted his bride, who was anxious to find him. It stated that after the couple were married in Chicago they drove directly to the bank, where Mrs. Leroy drew out $600, her entire possessions, and gave it to him. She is now left penniless.

RESURRECTING THE DEAD

Great Sensation Created in Minneapolis by the Action of Faithists.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 17 .-The remarkable story of a mother's boundless faith given yesterday was the talk of the town. The faith healing mania has raged with much fury in this city, but no one was prepared for this manifestation. The fact that LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. .17-Miss | the lady is apparently a woman of in-Josephine Mackey was perhaps fatal- telligence and culture adds to the mys lady was found enveloped in flames, ed, but the theory is that she was un- 1$100 or $1,300 in all.

racle reported. Mrs. Stickney's recital of the experiences of that memorable Sunday night is decidedly graphic. The Christian scientists who believe faith can heal all maner of disease are not gratified over this affair. They think it will tend to injure their cause. The Salvation Army are deeply interested, and have known something of the case prior to the publication of the facts; in fact, it appears that quite a large circle of people who have caught the faith fever had caught wind of the matter, but were keeping very mum and anxiously awaiting the outcome. A prominent physician said:

No. 32

"This is the most remarkable case 1 ever heard of. Of course I don't take any stock in the woman's story about life really coming back to a body that had been in a vault two months, and must have been frozon. It is possible that some of the things she thought she saw were the result of the action of heat on the frozen corpse, but the remarkable thing is that there should be a sane person in this day and enlightened community that should undertake such an operation. This lady, according to all accounts, is not simply sane, but more than ordinarily intelligent, and a church member in good and regular standing, and there seemed to have been plenty of people to encourage her, too. It's a wonderful story, any-

A Wealthy Chinaman's Funer-

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 17 .-- Rarely has a funeral ever attracted so Jarge a crowd as was brought together to-day at the obsequies of Wung Lung, a wealthy Chinese laundryman, He was a Mason of high degree, and half a dozen brother Masons came on from San Francisco'to attend his funeral. For nearly two weeks the body had lain in state, and to day before the ceremonies took place, by actual count 3,411 perosns passed through the house and took a look at the dead chinaman. Several thousand people gathered in the streets about the house. In the coffin were placed pieces of white and red muslin, a tan and a triangular slip of paper with Chinese inscriptions symbolizing his masonic rank. The peculiar Chinese rites were then performed, and a procession carrying a a large canopy, Chinese lanterns, flags and banners of various designs made its way through a crowd of 20,000 people to the cemetery. Dishes of rice, chicken, pork and sugar were placed upon the

A DIABOLICAL PLOT.

The Arrest of a Prisoner Reveals the Plan.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 18 .- The airest of Elisha Greig here last night reveals a diabolical plot to commit murder and arson. On Sunday night the residence of Mr. Jesse Nolar, a farmer in Davidson County, was burned and the inmates of the house-Miss Mattie Orment and Mrs. Hamlet barely escaped cremati on. The fire was supposed to be incendiary and last night Greig made a confession of having set fire to the house. He said he had been hired by a larmer neighbor, Jim Bulleyjack to burn the place. Bulleyjack had planned, he said, to burn Miss Orment who had refused him in marriage. The plan was to eatch her if she escaped burning and murder her. They took a rake along to drag her to the river and throw her body in. After they sat the house on fire both got frightened and aroused the ladies who were alone. Mr. Nolar being in Nashville. The men ran off before the ladies, who had barely time to get out, could see who they were: Greig was arrested on suspicion and confessed as above related. Bulleyjack has disappeared but officers are after him. Miss Orment was to have married Bullyjack's rival last week and hence his desire for revenge.

Another Comet Discovery.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 17 .- Dr. Lewis Swift, director of the Warner obtery of a faith which, in the days of servatory, received a dispatch this morn-Mr. M. J. Mackey, No. 727 Seventh street. Miss Mackey retired to her street. Miss Mackey retired to her this materialistic age, did bring about discovery last evening of still another only a few moments when all were ry can be credited. A LADY'S WONDERFUL YERVE.

She Stops a Runaway Horse and Saves Several Lives.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Feb. 17.-A runaway accident occured here this forenoon which afforded an estimable lady an opportunity to shame every man in town. The horse of Mr. John R. Styles becoming frightened at a piece of paper in the roadway dashed down the street. The sleigh was broken, and the animal ran through several thoroughfares with only the broken shafts attached to it. When near the First Reformed Church, where Mrs. Van Slyke, wife of the Rev. Van Slyke, D. D., pastor of the church, was walking, there was danger it might run down and injure several children there playing in the street. Mrs. Van Slyke ran out in the roadway, caught hold of and hung on to the reins, and finally succeeded in stopping the freightened animal. The children's danger was witnessed by a crowd, but she was the only one who had the pluck to risk personal injury that the lives of others might not be endangered. Men quickly gathered to say that she had wonderful nerve and presence of mind, and then they suddenly remembered that important business required their presence elsewhere.

Horrible.

A story comes through the Morganton Star, of a woman named Crowson, living with her mother in Mitchell county, who had two children. They were very poor, and the question of making some disposition of the children they could not support came up, and drowning them was decided on. On the way to the river with her little boy, who it seems heard the discussion, he said, "Mamma, please don't throw me into the river to-day, it's so cold." The child's body was found in the river two weeks after, and a jury of inquest caused the arrest of the woman and she is now in jail at Bakerville, awaiting her trial for mur-
