THE TRADE DOLLAR BILL.

Text of the Measure now Awaiting the President's Signature.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The following is the text of the Trade Dollar bill as it passed both houses to-day: Be it enacted, &c., That for a period of six months after the passage of this act United States trade dollars, if not defaced, mutilated or stamped, shall be received at the office of the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer of the United States in exchange for a like amount, dollar for dollar, of standard silver dollars or subsidiary coins of the United States.

SEC. 2.—That the trade dollars received by, paid to or deposited with the Treasurer or any assistant treasurer or national depository of the United States shall not be paid out, or in any other manner issued but at the expense of the United States, shall be transmitted to the coinage mints and received into standard silver dollars or subsidiary coin, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, provided that the trade dollars received under this act shall not be counted as part of the silver bullion required to be purchased and coined into standard dollars, as required by the act of February 28, 1878.

SEC. 3.—That all laws and parts of laws authorizing the coinage and issuance of United States trade dollars are hereby repealed.

THE WAR SHADOW.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—The Rome Opinions (newspaper), in an officially inspired article, assures France of Italy's continual disinterested friendship.

The Journal de Saint-Petersbourg denies that Russia has impeded the settlement of the Bulgarian difficulty.

The Gaulois prints an interview with a diplomat, who confirms the statement that Prince Bismarck will demand the neutrality of France in the East.

The Lower House of the Hungarian Diet, by a unanimous vote yesterday, passed the extra credit of $5,110,000 for the equipment of the Hungarian Landwehr.

The North German Gazette (Prince Bismarck's organ) says that if another dissolution of the Reichstag be needed the Emperor will issue a personal appeal to the nation.

A conference of the Railway Military Commission of Mobilization has been held at Weisbaden, which was attended by delegates from all the German railways and numerous army officers. Exhaustive arrangements for a scheme of transit were completed. Absolute secrecy is maintained regarding the plans formed.

Twenty thousand applications have been already received for officers' commissions in the Hungarian Landwehr. Rich women are seeking positions in the ambulance service.

The Budget Committee of the Austrian Reichsrath by a unanimous vote have agreed to the credit of 12,000,000 florins for the equipment of the landwehr and the landsturm.

RAILS OF ROSES.

America Carries off Honors at the Carnival at Nice.

NICE, Feb. 21.—The famous battle of the Flowers came off yesterday with splendid effect, in spite of a gray sky and a piercingly cold wind. The Comte d'Eu, heir apparent of Brazil, drove a smart looking coach and four, covered with flowers, his pretty children frisking about on the top seats, pelting everybody with flowers. The Princess Louise de Bourbon occupied the seat of honor. The wheels and body of the coach were splendidly decorated with lilies of the valley and Mimosae. Mr. and Miss Roosevelt, and Miss and Mrs. Saponoff followed in a large landau artistically adorned with Japanese screens and blue plumes. Mr. and Mrs. Thomson occupied a carriage radiant with gilliflowers and tea roses.

MORE DISTINGUISHED PARTICIPANTS.

In the de file were noticed the Duke of Leuchtenberg, Prince L. Ingen, Princess Troubetskoi, Countess Loris Melnikoff, Prince Firstenberg, Mr. Morgan, Duke de Pomar, Mr. and Miss Houston, Countess Aspremont and others. The Baroness de Fava, wife of the Italian Minister at Washington, who is recovering from recent indisposition and is now looking strong and well, ventured out in a beautifully decorated open victoria. The Prince and Princess Labormsky closed the de file in a landau covered with violets.

At a fancy ball preceding the carnival the first prize of three silk and gold banners was awarded to Mrs. Hayes, a very pretty American, who appeared to great advantage in the costume of an incroyable.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 21.—Though pretty Cora Stickney died almost three months ago, her body is still unburied. It lies, hard frozen, in the little white cottage of her mother at No. 420 Fifth Street, northeast.

WATCHING FOR A MIRACLE. A Mother Relates a Girl's Dead Body Expecting Life to Return.

The weird and pitiful story of the widowed mother's effort to restore life in the daughter's inanimate form is as follows:—The girl died November 30th, and was interred in Maymay's Cemetery. The body had been buried but a short time when Mrs. Stickney, who has been a strong believer in the faith cure, resolved to take it from the tomb and restore it to life, if possible.

At one time she thought she saw signs of life in the body. They disappeared on her faith weakening. So positive is she, however, that the body will yet be given life that she keeps it at her home, and will allow none but her intimate friends to see it.

Dr. Quimby, the health officer, visited Mrs. Stickney's residence yesterday and the lady, after refusing to allow him to view the body, refusing also to divulge the names of the individuals who removed it from the cemetery, said:—"The body is at present in the house, and no longer ago than February 14 Dr. Palmer, of this city, assured me that there were signs of animate life, and that if he were in my place he would not allow it to be removed from the house until it showed signs of decomposition. Dr. Palmer related a case which occurred during his student life. The body of a girl had been frozen/solid and carried around the country for a time, and was finally brought to the dissection room. The moment he introduced his knife the blood flowed. She was resuscitated and finally returned living to her parents."

The health authorities will investigate the matter, at once.

SHAMEFUL EXHIBITION. A Murderer Posing as a Show in Jail at Five Cents a Head.

HUDSON, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Oscar F. Beckwith, who has four times been tried and found guilty and has four times been sentenced to be hanged for committing a most horrible and revolting crime, is now posing in the role of a five cent " freak" in the Columbia County jail in this city. Beckwith is not only a murderer but he is also a cannibal, for he cooked and partly ate the body of his victim, S. A. Vandercook, a miner in the "Austerlitz Mountains," a few miles from here.

Beckwith's jailers allow him to exhibit himself in his cell at five cents a head to morbid young men, women and boys from the rural districts. The murderer-cannibal also gives what he calls the "bona fide Free Mason's grip" for a nickel, and all the "grips" for a dime. Beckwith's revenue from this source is considerable.

The spectacle of a hideous old man under the shadow of the gallows exhibiting himself and giving "grips" is not an edifying one by any means, but it can safely be said that it is "the only exhibition of its kind in this country."

Dr. Deems, on Bishop Berkeley.

The Rev. Dr. Charles F. Deems will deliver an address upon the famous Irish philosopher, Bishop Berkeley, before the members of the historical section of the Gaelic Society, at the rooms No. 17 West Twenty-eight street, between Broadway and Fifth avenue, New York tomorrow evening at eight o'clock.

PATHEPIC PICTURE. A Child Found Frozen Over the Body of Her Grandmother.

LOWELL, Mass., Feb. 19.—The lifeless body of Mrs. Cornelius O'Leary, an aged woman, who left the house of her son-in-law over forty-eight hours ago and wandered away toward North Chelmsford, was found in the woods, about four miles out of this city, this afternoon. Across her breast lay the body of her little granddaughter, Ursula, with her arm clasped about the neck of her grandmother. After a long time the child showed signs of life and will probably recover, though her feet are badly frozen.

ROME, Feb. 20.—Cardinal Gibbons has been very busy since his arrival here. No definite information of the business of the Propaganda is known but it is certain that the great questions touching Catholic interests in America will be considered carefully. Cardinal Gibbons is expected to express an opinion on all questions submitted for his views because of his great acquaintance with the present American questions and his strong love of American Institutions. It is difficult to believe that the conclusion reached will be of an unfavorable character. Time is required for the settlement of the Cardinals in the Curia.

Catholic Interest in America --a Papal Anniversary.

Bishops Carr, of Melbourne, and Keane, of Richmond, Va., congratulated the Pope in the Vatican to-day upon the ninth anniversary of his pontificate. The Pope in his discourse described the Baltimore Council as an honor to America and to the whole Church. Bishop Keane afterward thanked the Pope.

In Opera House in Ashes.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 21.—The Emory Opera House, in this city, caught fire from exploding fire-crackers on the stage this evening, just previous to opening to opening the doors for to-night's performance, and was burned to the ground. The loss is estimated at $40,000, with very little insurance. Several adjacent dwelling houses were also consumed.

New Catholic Church.

STRAFORD, Conn., Feb. 20.—Right Rev. Bishop McMahon, of the diocese of Hartford, assisted by local clergy, will this morning dedicate a new Catholic Church to be known as St. James.

The church is a frame structure of pretty design, standing near the railway station, and in it for the first time since the town of Stratford was incorporated, nearly two hundred and fifty years ago, resilient Catholics will have the pleasure of assembling in a church of their own. Until now they have been obliged to make a four-mile journey either to St. Mary's, Bridgeport, or St. Joseph's, Millford.

Shot Two--Killed One.

ATTICA, N. Y., Feb. 21.—William Nelson, a well known farmer living a mile and a half south of this town, shot his wife and then himself this afternoon. He is dead, but she is not fatally injured.

Just as Good.

Some ten or twelve days ago a dignified and respectable appearing woman visited the Gratiot Avenue Police Station to secure advice in a rather delicate matter. As she stated the case:

"A man has been paying his attentions to me for two years past, and we have been engaged for over six months. All at once I discovered a coldness; he comes at longer intervals; he is not the same man. I reproach him; and now he seems to have skipped. Can't I have him arrested for breach-of-promise?"

She was given some sound advice and went her way. Yesterday one of the officers met her on the street and asked her how the matter stood, and she cheerfully replied: "Oh, that's all right. He has acted the part of a perfect gentleman." "Then he has married you?" "Oh, no; he has married my daughter. It seems that he was loving her all the time instead of me."—Detroit Free Press.

It Wasn't the Cat After All.

A night or two since Mr. Wellington Blakely stepped outside of his door for a moment, in obedience to the request of his wife, to bring the cat in for the night, the animal being usually kept in the cellar. He picked up what he supposed was the cat, brought it into the house and laid it down. The family shrank back in affright when they saw the strange looking animal, and made preparation to leave. What the Commodore thought was a cat proved to be an opossum of good size.—Elizabeth Journal.

Killed a Monster Lion.

About two weeks ago Absalom Beasley, better known by the name of "Rockie," killed a monster California lion, measuring nine feet six inches in length and weighing about 200 pounds, between Mrs. Logwood's place and the Tasajera Springs. Rockie says he was a regular old resident and had killed not less than twenty hogs for Mrs. Logwood and thirty goats for Mr. McPhail, of the Tasajera Springs.—Savannah Democrat.

THE FOOTLIGHTS.

The latest song is "Little Mischief You."

While being pushed in the well in "Lady Audley's secret" one night last week in Richmond, Va., Mr. Fuld accidentally kicked Miss Pomeroy. Mr. Elliott, her husband thrashed Mr. Fuld; an action for battery and assault, also a civil suit for salary were instituted. Mr. Fuld is no longer with the company.

One night last week while "Jack" was being played at the Standard Theatre, Chicago, during the half-hour wait between the first and second acts, Myron Calice, who plays Major Spot, played "shoeshine" with the eyes of a stage-carpenter for interfering while about to do as much for Eben Plympton.

General Maxwell, a member of Wilson Barrett's company, who went crazy at Cincinnati, is a son of Miss Braddon, the famous English novelist. Miss Braddon constantly sends cablegrams to Cincinnati inquiring of her son's condition. Physicians say there is no hope for the recovery of his mind, which is entirely gone.

Here is a stanza of a song by the leader of the procession of ghosts in the last act of Gilbert and Sullivan's latest comic opera "Ruddigore:"

As the sob of the breeze sweeps over the trees And mists lie low in the fen, From gray tombstones are gathered the bones That once were women and men, And away they go, with a mop and a mow, To the revel that ends too soon; 'Tis cockcrow limits our holiday— Dead of the night's high moon.

The full score of the opera is in the hands of stage-manager Cripps of McCaull's and during the next two weeks will be rehearsed constantly. Miss Geraldine Umar is the only American in the troupe which landed in New York Saturday.

—The Aromatic Steam Cooker is The Greatest Wonder of The Age.—A simple and convenient method of cooking. Your food is cooked by steam, thus retaining the delicious aroma. You can cook one, or as many different articles of food at the same time as you like, on only one hole, on any kind of a stove, coal, wood, oil, gas, or gasoline, and the food cannot burn. You can cook onions next to pudding and not flavor the pudding. Remember that this is the only practical steam cooker out, and it is the cheapest. We do not ask you to buy one until you have tried it. We have bought the right to three counties: Guilford, Mecklenburg and Forsyth. Our circulars will show you the cuts and give full directions as to the use and management of the steamer. Look out for our big ad. in another column in a few days. Manufactured and sold only in this territory by C. H. DOUGHERTY, 17.
