COLORED PEOPLE'S EXPOSITION.

The Florida State Fair Will Show the Race's Progress.

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 21, 1887.—The first annual colored State fair and exposition will take place at the State Park Grounds, in this city, beginning March 15 and lasting one week. Much interest is displayed by colored citizens, and already exhibits are pouring in. The association is backed by the Plant Investment Company, and a large display is expected. The colored people of this State have made great progress since the war, and many of them are large property owners.

Two schooner loads of exhibits, consisting of shell work, needle work and various articles manufactured from the products of the Bahama Islands, are on the way, one of them from Cat Island or San Salvador, which has an almost exclusively colored population. Five military companies of colored troops will participate; also brass bands, civic societies, &c.

J. W. Thompson, editor of the People's Journal, is president of the association. The secretary, John R. Scott, a prominent Methodist, has been forced to resign on account of the horse races which will take place on the grounds.

A Too Much Married Man.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 22.—Samuel Guttman, alias Goodman, aged 30 years, and a man of genteel appearance, was arrested to-day, charged by Anna Guttman, his wife, with committing bigamy in Pittsburg, on the 30th of last May, by marrying her when he had a wife living in Brooklyn, N. Y. This afternoon the woman, who was neatly dressed, and is about twenty-three years old, called on the Chief of Police, accompanied by her father, Harris Grealtnauer, of Pittsburg. She showed a letter from the Chief of Police at Pittsburg, requesting Guttman's arrest. Chief of Police Frey detailed two detectives, and the pretty little German woman and her father accompanied them on their search, the deserted wife being positive her husband was in Baltimore. He was found in a house in East Baltimore. She charged before a magistrate that he had a wife living in Brooklyn. It is also charged that he had obtained over $100 worth of goods in Pittsburg and left without paying for them. He did not deny his marriage to Miss Grealtnauer, and admitted that he was married to a girl in Brooklyn about ten months ago. When he was married in Pittsburg he was told that his wife in Brooklyn was dead. Guttman, it is said, also has a wife living in Cincinnati, where he went from Pittsburg, before coming to Baltimore.

A Quaker's Big Loss.

ATLANTA, Feb. 22.—Jacob Miller, an Ohio Quaker, has been in the city for several weeks negotiating for lands upon which to settle a colony of his people who desire to come South. He took lodgings at No. 22, Houston street, and yesterday he concluded a trade for a large tract of land adjoining the city, the papers for which were to be signed to-day. This morning when he put his hand in his pocket he was surprised to find his purse missing, and with it $27,000 in money and certified bank checks. On retiring the night before he placed his clothes upon a chair, and it must have been while he was asleep that the money was stolen. The contents of the purse consisted of $3,240 in bank bills and silver, one ten thousand dollar check on the Fidelity Bank of Cincinnati, Ohio, drawn by W. C. Miheffer, payable to Jacob Miller; one eight thousand dollar certified check on the Bank of Lebanon, O., and another check for eight thousand dollars on the same bank. A woman who has been staying in the same boarding house is under suspicion and was searched to-day by the police.

Spanish Moss.

The supply of moss in Louisiana, on the seaboard and on the streams in the lower parishes, is immense—probably inexhaustible. Thousands of square miles of forest are festooned with it, and, were the present crop gathered and the woods left bare, but a few years would elapse before it would be as abundant as before. The low, wide-spreading live oaks and sweet gum, and the facility of running wagons everywhere under the trees, present advantages for gathering it not found elsewhere. Its merits and cheapness have created a large demand for it in England, and as it becomes known throughout Europe it must inevitably supersede all other materials for the purposes for which it is adapted, and certainly become an important item in our export trade as well as home consumption.—Abbeville Meridian.

VICTIMIZED MARY WOMEN.

A Gay Detective Comes to the End of His Tether.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Edson Pease, who in Elmira, has been known as Charles B. Thompson, is in jail here for winning the confidence and affections of a wealthy lady of Havana and borrowing money of her under the name of A. B. Horton and then abandoning her. The woman is Mrs. Delia Messenger, said to be a "grass" widow.

Pease had served five years in a Pennsylvania penitentiary for deserting one wife and taking another, and not long ago married a reputable Christian woman in Elmira while still having a wife living in Ilhaca. The Elmira lady at once began an action for divorce as soon as she learned his perfidious character.

When the officers began searching for Pease to serve the papers on him he shaved off his heavy beard, trimmed down his mustache and dyed his hair and eyebrows, assuming the name of Horton. While thus changed he visited Havana and made his conquest. Horton, not knowing that his identity had been discovered, said that he intended to marry Mrs. Messenger, and claims that all the money he got from her she gave to him. Pease will be taken to the Schuyler county jail, at Watkins, tomorrow.

A Four Story Tenement House Burned.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 22.—The four story and basement tenement house known as the Criterion flat and the barn and stables under the same, situated on 260 Kinzie street were completely gutted by fire last night. There were twelve families (about 75 people) in the building, all of whom lost everything they had, with no insurance. The scene was indescribable. When it was found the tenement house was on fire, from every door poured men, women and children, who crowded down the narrow stairs and jostled each other in their rush for life.

The Danville System.

The Washington Star says the recent purchase of the square bounded by Maryland avenue and E. Thirteenth and Thirteenth-and-a-half streets, by General W. H. Payne, of Winchester, Va., is understood to be for the Richmond and Danville railroad system. It is stated that it is contemplated to erect a freight depot on the square.

The Alexandria Gazette says that the Danville system has been offered a good price for their property in Washington and have declined to sell.

Sister Genevieve's Position.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Feb. 21.—Sister Genevieve, who recently severed her connection with the convent at Newark, O., is here with Mrs. Malone, an old friend and a former nun who was with Sister Genevieve in the convent. There has been no denial of her religion. Sister Genevieve simply feels that a wider field of usefulness awaits her in the world outside the convent, and she has applied to the Pope for leave to retract her vows.

No More Bait.

Mormon Proselyting.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 22.—Twenty-five Mormon elders from Utah have arrived in the city, and will leave on Monday for various portions of the South to engage in their proselyting work. There are now more than one hundred missionaries in the South. Elder John Morgan, in charge of the Southern headquarters, says there is a greater demand for elders than can be supplied. The semi-annual hegira of Southern converts takes place in March, and many hundreds will leave their homes.

Robbers Routed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—The News' special from El Paso, Tex., says: "It has just been learned here that the stage which carried about $12,000 of express money was attacked last week while passing through the canyon near Creators, Tex., by a band of highwaymen. The passengers were armed to the teeth, and a pitched battle with the robbers took place. The latter were finally driven off and the stage went on."

Lost in New York is the name of Leonard Grover's new play. It will be produced next month in Boston.

John T. Raymond will appear in his new comedy, A Gold Mine, at the Walnut, Philadelphia, early in May.

Mlle. Rhea will make her last appearance on the American stage in Chicago on Saturday evening, April 2. She is now playing in the South.

Mrs. Langtry tells an interviewer that a young girl's morals are safer on the stage than amidst the dangers of a fashionable drawing-room. If she refers to a London fashionable drawing-room no one will dispute her word.—Norristown Herald.

May Fortescue, according to a Pittsburg journal, got off the following recently in the Smoky City: "Sometimes one wants to admit a boy to the theater, and is afraid he will sell the pass. The boy wears no cuff to write upon, and what can you do? Just make him hold his head up and write his pass upon the side of his collar. He shows it at the door of the theater, and in he goes safe enough."

His Salary Didn't Go Up.

"I had been working for three years for one of our old time wholesale houses, said a Detroit who was calling up reminiscences, "and I finally concluded that I ought to have a raise of salary. I began on $4 per week and was raised to $6, but there it had stuck for two years. The head man of the firm was a cold, stiff, austere man, who seldom recognized an employe and was known to be hard hearted. I hesitated a long time before daring to approach him on the subject nearest my heart, but one day I slid into the private office when I knew he was alone. "Well, sir," he snaps out, short as pie crust. "I—I came to—to—to—" "Came to what, sir?" "I came to ask you if you—you didn't think?" "See, here, William!" he said as he wheeled around on me, "if my daughter loves you, and you love her, I've no objection to your marriage. Fix it up between you and don't bother me again. "The old reynard! He had a daughter, but I had never spoken to her in my life, and he knew it. He answered my the way he did to stop me from asking for a raise of salary. It was a year and a half after that before I was lifted to $8 per week."—Detroit Free Press.
