THE LATEST NEWS.

CARDINAL MANNING.

Text of His Letter Regarding Knights of Labor.

BALTIMORE, March 31.—A special dispatch from Rome gives the following as the text of the letter of Cardinal Manning, Archbishop of Westminster, England, regarding the Knights of Labor to a prominent divine of that city:

My Dear Lord: I have read with great assent Cardinal Gibbon's document in relation to the Knights of Labor. The Holy See will, I am sure, be convinced by his exposition of the state of the new world. I hope it will open a new field of thought and action. It passes the understanding that officious persons should be listened to rather than church officials. Surely the episcopate of the world is the most powerful and direct instrument in the hands of the Holy See for gathering correct local knowledge and enforcing its decisions.

[From internal evidence in the above we feel sure that Cardinal Manning never expected to see the above in print. Had his correspondent left out "It will, I think, qualify me for knighthood in the order," it would have been a good thing to put in print.—EDITOR NEWS.]

A Question Exciting Much Interest.

CINCINNATI, March 31.—The citizens of Avondale, O., a suburban town, have started a prohibition movement that is of extraordinary interest to the temperance people, and to liquor men as well, because it is not made by prohibitionists, and is not even based upon hostility to the drinking of intoxicating liquors.

Restricting the Revenues to Two.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Miller, has issued directions to collectors to the effect that not more than two members of the same family (each family to be regarded as including all its relatives by blood or marriage) shall be appointed or retained in the internal revenue service in any collection district.

Harrison Induced to Accept.

CHICAGO, March 31.—The committee of five Democrats appointed at last night's meeting to select a candidate for mayor, called on Mayor Harrison to-day and induced him to accept a nomination for mayor. A member of the committee said at noon that Mr. Harrison had accepted and would positively make the race.

Conscience Money.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The President has turned over to the Secretary of the Treasury an anonymous letter and an enclosure of $500 which he received from some person in Brooklyn, N. Y. The writer says he owes this amount to the Government for Customs duties.

Seven to Two.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 31.—No official score. Eight innings. Savannah 2; Detroit 7. This winds up the game here.

Ex-Congressman Reid.

[Special to Charlotte Chronicle.]

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Post says: "A brother of Ex-Congressman Reid, of North Carolina, was in the city yesterday on business connected with the affairs of his brother. New notes have been given for the debts of the Ex-Congressman and it is said he will return to this country and make a complete settlement of all his affairs."

A Revengful Woman.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 31.—Some time ago Miss Annie Finday, who claims to be a sister of Frank and Jesse James, reached here and obtained lodging with Mrs. Rose Lee. Mrs. Finday became angry at Mrs. Lee for some cause and proceeded to take revenge. She built a fire in the stove and kept quiet until the stove was red hot. Mrs. Finday then grasped Mrs. Lee and was in the act of laying her on the stove to roast, when a servant entered. Mrs. Finday is in prison and attracts much attention.

Fruit Killed About Lynchburg.

LYNCHBURG, Va., March 31.—It seems that the recent sudden change in the weather has destroyed all of the early fruit in this vicinity. Intelligent farmers near here inform us that upon a careful examination of the early peach crop they find that the fruit has all been killed. The same is doubtless true in the adjacent counties where the weather is colder than here.

The Record Nearly Cleared.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—There are now 2,340 Presidential postoffices in the United States, since March 4, 1885. Changes from old to new postmasters have been made in 2,140 of these offices, leaving 200 of the postmasters who were in office March 4, 1885, still in office.

Certificates all in But One.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The certificates of all the members of the fiftieth Congress are in, with one exception: that of H. C. Bowen, of Virginia.

Charleston's New Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31.—Albert H. Mowry was to-day appointed postmaster at Charleston, S. C., vice Huger, deceased.

STATE NEWS.

But few people know that Roxabel was at one time the wealthiest place in the State. She had then $10,000,000.—Windsor Ledger.

The Alamance Gleaner states that a young man named Haywood Payne, aged about 19 years, son of Laban Payne, was drowned near Cedar Cliff, about the middle of Tuesday afternoon. He was in a boat which sprung a leak.

The Wilmington Review is of the opinion that Clarkton, in Bladen county is a healthy place. It cites the fact that there are three sisters now living near there whose average age is 84 years. Think of an aggregate of 252 years for three people.

The Salisbury Herald says Mr. S. T. Muffy has concluded a sale of the Cid mine, adjoining the Fisher mine, in Davidson county, to a company in London. Arrangements for operating the mine have nearly been perfected, and work will begin in a very short time.

Everything has a language of its own. Even a clock has a dial-act. Sixty-two persons went to Goldsboro from Wilson to hear Fred Warde, and not one regretted the trip. A crying baby is the roar of the tied. The road to economy is a prudent buy way. A rock was thrown against our window yesterday, and now we want a remedy for the window pane.—Wilson Mirror.

Wagoners from Watauga yesterday reported fresh snow drifts two feet in depth in that county, thus accounting for the bitter weather of the past few days. The peach crop in this section, except in the mountain orchards that are above the frost lines, have been destroyed by the icy blasts from the Watauga table lands.—At Davidson College yesterday a difficulty occurred between Prof. Bingham and a student—a freshman named J. D. Cochrane—in which blows were passed, but no harm was done. It seems that the student had insulted the Professor and the Professor demanded an apology, stating that the matter would not be brought before the faculty. Cochrane refused to give answer until yesterday 12 o'clock. At that hour he told the Professor that he would not apologize. A personal encounter followed and several blows were passed before the combatants were parted by the bystanders.—Passengers who came in on the train from Statesville yesterday, report that on Wednesday there was a heavy snow storm throughout the western part of the State. At several places around Charlotte there was a fall of sleet.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Naval Stores Outlook in the South.

A gentleman who has been travelling through the turpentine country in South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, says that the cold weather recently experienced in the South has given the crop a set-back, and the prospects are that the season will be later than usual.

Turpentine men say that the sap flows faster at night than in daylight, and that where chipping has begun, the cool nights in the past two or three weeks has greatly checked the flow.

Last year's crop is reported as all marketed. The river trade will probably increase the coming season, while the railroad shipments are almost sure to fall off. This will be due to the fact that a number of manufacturers have moved back further into the country a greater distance from the railroads and nearer to the steamers, by which they will ship their output. In regard to the output this year opinions differ. The gentleman quoted above thinks that it will be one-fourth less than last year. Other naval stores men think that it will be greater.—Wilmington Star.

They Will!

NEW YORK, March 31.—There is a coolness between the under graduates of Vassar college and the faculty over a matter of dress. The girls want to wear the regulation cap and gown, and the faculty won't sanction their doing so. When a committee of the young ladies waited upon President Taylor, who has been in office only one year, and requested him to urge upon the faculty the adoption of the cap and gown he, it is reported, cited passages of scripture in answer to the petition to point out what awful things happen to people whose pride conquers them. Then the girls got mad at what they regarded as a slap at their vanity and for several weeks past the liveliest sort of agitation of the question has been going on. The girls seem determined to have their own way, and a reporter was assured by a leader in the movement yesterday that it will not be long before all but the class of '87 will be attired in the mortar-board and gown.

THE NEXT STATE FAIR.

We copy the following from the Raleigh News and Observer: The next Fair will be a more thoroughly State Fair than any heretofore held. Up to the last two or three years, competition was open to the world, but for the last two or three Fairs, no premiums have been awarded to cattle owned outside of North Carolina. This was done to encourage cattle raising in our own State. This rule was also applied to horses at the last Fair, except horses which were entered for trials of speed, which competition was open to the world. This rule will be applied to this department at the next Fair, and only horses owned in the State will be permitted on the track.—It may be interesting to our readers to learn something of the yields produced by North Carolina farmers last year. The premium for largest yields were awarded as follows: Cotton—Five acres, yield 8,414 pounds seed cotton, J. C. Williams, Winslow, Harnett county; premium, $50; second premium, 7,180 pounds seed cotton, J. C. King, Louisville, Franklin county, premium, $25. Cotton—One acre, yield 2,656 pounds seed cotton, John W. Jones, Forestville, Wake county; premium, $25. Mr. Jones also took the premium of $50 in gold offered by the Raleigh Fertilizer Company for the largest yield where Raleigh Standard guano was used. Mr. G. B. Alford took the second premium offered by said company, which was one ton Raleigh Standard guano. Corn—Five acres, yield 227 bushels, James Norwood, Orange county; premium, $50. The premium of $50 in gold, for largest yield from one acre, where Raleigh Standard guano was used, was awarded to M. W. Buffalo, of Wake county, the yield being 75 1/2 bushels. Wheat—Five acres, yield 145 bushels, James Norwood Orange county; premium $50.00. Oats—five acres, yield 314 bushels, L. Banks Holt, Alamance county; premium $50.00. Rice—one acre, yield 68 1/2 bushels, B. M. Denmark, Wayne county; premium $20. Field peas—one acre, yield 18 1/2 bushels, B. J. Upchurch, Wake county. Ground peas—one acre, yield 35 bushels, Dora Kelly, Chatham county; premium $20. Hay—Perhaps the most astonishing yield under the heading of field crops, was that of Capt. E. P. Williamson, of Raleigh, who cut from one acre of land 12,571 pounds clover, herds grass, &c. There were several competitors for this premium. The others were as follows: James Norwood, 10,200 pounds; L. Banks Holt, 7,900 pounds; L. Banks Holt, (second lot) 6,716 pounds; L. Banks Holt, (third lot) 6,455 pounds.

Mr. Editor:—I write simply to endorse the suggestion of Mr. Farrar's name as a commissioner in the approaching municipal election. We need him on the board, because he is an ingenious mechanic and can see to it that the city is not defrauded by botch-work. We need also a good lawyer on the board and I take the liberty of suggesting Judge Schenk. JACK-PLANE.

Here is the latest! Mocksville is soon to have a weekly paper, we see it announced, to be called the Philanthropic Humorous Eye Opener. What does the Greensboro News think of that for a name? It seems specially interested in such things.—Charlotte Chronicle.

We just think that the ingenious projectors are determined to give their bantling an odd and unique name; one they can get a patent on, for there is no such name in all newspaperdom. The nearest approach to it is the Apalachian Philosopher, published in Jefferson, Ashe county. Evidently, they intend to cause somebody to stare. But the thought comes, why not add and Mouth between Eye and Opener, so the title may read Philanthropic Humorous Eye and Mouth Opener? However, we are happy in the thought that the above named new candidate for public favor is destined to fill a long-felt want. Hallelujah!

REVIVAL IN THE A. M. E. CHURCH

Editor Morning News.—The last account we gave of the protracted meeting of the A. M. E. church, March 24, was quite a favorable one. But we are very glad to inform you that it has increased, at the lowest calculation, to 50 per cent., up to March 30. The total number who have been converted during the series of meetings, is between 70 and 80. The number who have connected themselves with the church is 55.

We are glad to say the greater number is among the best young men of the city. Among these, are some of the students of Bennett Seminary. They have not only joined the church, but have become active members of the Sunday School, so the A. M. E. Sunday School has become second to none in this city. We counted at the anxious seat 97, who seemed to be very serious indeed, and others are coming every meeting.

Our pastor in charge, the Rev. C. Sampson, seems to be unwearied in his efforts. A few ministers have assisted him in the revival, among them may be mentioned the Rev. C. L. Davis, a Baptist minister of our city, who is quite a scholar and whose sermons and advice have been very effective.

"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."

THE GAMBLING CASE.

GREENSBORO, April 1st, '87.

Mr. Editor.—It is with a deep sense of mortification and regret that the writer pens these words, and especially that circumstances do exist in our midst which justify such a communication.

In the Mayor's Court yesterday afternoon, there was the disgraceful spectacle of several persons arraigned for gambling, and at the same time a trial for intimidating a witness which was the outcome of the gambling. Had the whole affair been unmasked, it would show a most deplorable state of affairs, as it was only partially developed the whole truth was not brought out. It is high time that the respectable, intelligent and law-abiding citizens of our growing and lovely city, aided by her officers, put a stop to such things, and we believe now is as good a time, perhaps the best time, to sift this thing to the bottom and wipe out this whole business, so that it will be known by these blacklegs, and vampires, that they cannot with impunity, corrupt our young men. Let them have a lesson administered by the stern and rigid enforcement of the law, that there is no room for them, in Greensboro, and all of them who do not land in prison will seek other pastures.

WAY DOWN BELOW!!

Editor Morning News:—Should not our overseers look after our public roads and fill up some of the worst holes? Only yesterday one of our most prominent citizens was coming into town, and driving through one of the worst mud holes, in front of the colored M. E. church, he discovered a hat. Getting out of his buggy, he fished for the hat, but soon desisted, for he heard a voice say, "hold on! don't take my hat; I am only untying my name strings to raise my horses from this mire. I will be out in a few minutes." FAX (?)

Drought in Texas.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 31.—In many portions of the territory tributary to this city, the suffering from drought is severe.

Robins are said to be very plenty along Muddy Creek. A large number of them have been killed by parties who go their roosts in the reed thickets of nights. We were told that one party killed more than 500 of these birds in one night, a few weeks ago.

At Henry Mottership's sale in Davidson county, on last Friday, a mare was sold which bore a brand showing that she did service in the cavalry of the late civil war. She must be more than 27 years old, and is still as lively as a colt.—Statesville Landmark.
