The Fisheries Dispute.

TORONTO, Ontario, April 23. The question to-day, says: "The announcement made by cable respecting the re-ported decision reached by the Salisbury administration in the fishery dispute will disappoint those Canadians street that the long-talked-of deal is who imagined that the English Premi- likely to be consummated, and that er would prove a fire-eater. Lord was assigned as the reason for the Salisbury is willing to revert during the coming fishing season, and, if necessary, for a further term, to the treaty of Washington, without requiring a pecuniary indemnity from the United States. That is to say, that for the present, at any rate, American fishermen are to fish in our waters and to enjoy free access to our harbors, with Yerby-about two months ago, organthe privilege of buying bait, transship-Salisbury has acted wisely. Had our cruisers resumed operations against American fishermen we should have felt the full force of the retaliation bill and England might have been dragged into very ugly quarrels. As it is, all concerned will have ample time in which to reach a friendly settlement. Mr. Cleveland and his advisers, as well as such Republican leaders as Messrs. Sherman and Butterworth, are anxious to effect a settlement that shall be mutually advantageous, and if we are wise we will leave our gunboats in dry dock, to which Lord Salisbury has just consigned them, and negotiate with Americans as with friends and neighbors who wish us well.

A Terrific Cyclone.

NEVADA, Mo., April 23.-A terrific cyclone swept over the northern part of this (Vernon) county last night. The clouds were plainly visible here, San Francisco two days, and were paspassing only about eight miles from sing through a rather rocky and dusty this city. The cyclone seemed to district, when an Englishman got twenty degrees below zero. It is selcome down Marmaton river from the aboard the train and entered the Pull. dom that a more gorgeous spectacle is Kansas line, dealing death and destruction wherever it struck. Fences, and his party and the Englishman went houses, barns and everything in the out on the rear platform to enjoy the line of the cyclone, which was about half a mile in width, was picked up, sent into splinters and cast down hundreds of yards away. Trees were torn up by the roots, over thirty houses destroyed and about fifteen persons killed. There were only five members of the Melton family, four of whom were killed. The baby, aged two years, was dropped in the yard and found unhart this morning. Parts of the Melton residence and furniture were found strewn over the fields for fully a mile from where the house formerly stood. Reliable news has been received from Osay township, and it is thought the death roll will swell to over twenty-five. A heavy gale passed over this city, damaging the Methodist church and other build-

The 4th Section Suspended.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The inter-State Commerce Commission has made an order suspending the 4th section for 90 days subject to reservation and with proviso that the international rates shall not be raised abovs those in force of April 20. This applies to the Northern Pacific, Southern, Atchison, Topeka and SanteFe, and the St. Louis and San Francisco lines.

A Town Wiped Out.

FORT SCOTT, Kansas, April 24.-A Monitor special from Prescott, in this county, reports a terrible cyclone on Thursday evening at about 6:30 o'clock. There were seventeen persons killed at different points throughout the county, and an incalculable amount of damage done to all kinds of property. Prescott was literally wiped out of existence, not a single building being left standing to mark the site of the once prosperous and thriving place. Reports are coming in from all over the country of the damage done by the terrible storm. It was a genuine cyclone, but came from the Northwest Successful Treasure Hunting.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.- The project of washing the debris of the Del Monte at Monterey and treating it like the tailings of a mine, is being carried out with better results than were anticipated. So lar in one half the debris sluiced, property to the value of $10,ooo has been recovered. The diamonds have nearly all been found in their settings, but most of the coin has been melted. The hotel books have been found and will prove a value in various ways. There is a general belief that the hotel was fired by an incendiary.

B. & O. Stock Booming.

BALTIMORE, April 24.-There was quite a flutter at the stock board today because of the anxiety manifested Mail, in an editorial on the Fishery to invest in Baltimore and Ohio railroad stock. The price advanced from 163 to 170, and the latter figure was bid for 500 sharea at the close of the first board. It was rumored on South rapid rise in the price of shares.

MISSION SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Editor Morning News: It is not generally known that a Mission Sunday School exists near the city. Two young men-Isaac W. White and Mr. ized a class of about a dozen ehildren. ping cargoes, etc. without money and and by their efforts have gradually in-without price. In our opinion Lord creased the number to fifty, last Suncreased the number to fifty, last Sunday being the largest attendance. This school is held in the open air opposite Dr. Benbow's dairy farm, and much good is being done. These young men are trying to raise lunds to erect a suitable building, and have $100 sub-scribed. Mr. S. S. Brown donated the lot. They deserve encouragement from the citizens, and it is hoped the people will extend a helping hand. It is a very worthy cause. The school is in a neighborhood where great good can be done. Interest in the meetings is spreading, and a little help extended now will open up the way for a chapel and regular organization.

ONE FRIENDLY TO THE MISSION. Not Familiar With Tickets.

Ex-Secretary of War Lincoln, his family and several friends were on their way East from the Slope a few days before the Interstate Commerce law went into effect. They had been out of vening breeze. The conductor joined them a few moments later. The Englishman went down into his pocket. pulled out a long string of tinted paper and handed it to the ticket puncher.

The New York Herald says:

Some of our southern neighbors seem to have boom on the brain. It is a fascinating and ecstatic malady. A stranger saw a number of them ploughing recently on a plain. He supposed, of course, that they were getting furrows ready for corn plant-ing. One of them explained, however, in this wise:-

Man alive, them ain't corn furrows over thar. They air streets, and this here is a city. You air now on the corner of Commercial and Emporium streets, and not in the check of a corn row as you mought suppose.

There is a good deal of truth in the above. A gentleman of Danville, who recently returned from Alabama, describes just such a scene witnessed ten miles out from a southern city. Of course such things will not last forever, nor will human life, but as the Herald well says "it is a fascinating and ecstatic malady."-Danville Register.

All the mortgages given by persons who obtain their supplies from his store are there drawn up. Another curious fact, in the same line, is that ex-tax collector Harrington, who is serving out a four months' sentence, also, keeps his tax books in jail, and the business of collection proceeds as usual, being only in the jail instead of the court house. -Raleigh correspondent Richmond Dispatch.

Tobogganing in Canada.

The scene upon a winter's evening is picturesque and gorgeous. Shortly after dusk the guests begin to assemble, young and old, men and women, being for the greater part apparelled in proper costume, and bringing with them skates and toboggans. The lady wears a suit of blanket cloth, white, blue, myrtle, or magenta, the same being fancifully trimmed with colors to match. Upon her feet she has buff moceasins, and upon her head a toque of rich color with a long streaming tassel. The men wear similar costumes, knee-breeches, and long black stockings. It frequently happens that nei-ther moon nor star is to be seen upon one of these festive evenings at the hall, and then an enormous bonfire, constructed of many cords of dry logs, burns in the midst of the grounds, its gusts of flame playing among the pines and waking a thousand shadows into mad revel. Those who are afraid to descend the dizzy slides stand in the glare of the giant fire, and the ear furthest from the flame may turn white, while the nigh one is red, for the mercury is at the moment probably man car, About sundown Mr, Lincoln | presented than when a couple of hundred costumed guests gather about this fire, the colors of their garments brightened by the glare, and the gloomy depths of the pine woods forming a background for the picture.

But all the excitement is in another direction. From the head of each of the slides, already referred to, descends an ice trough, and along each side hangs a row of Chinese lanterns, whose sober, unwavering glow is a constant rebake to the mad reveling down the slippery steep. Each toboggan accommodates from two to four persons, the steerer throwing himself upon his side and steering his conveyance in its lightning career by a quick touch of his moceasined toe. The speed of the toboggan is equal to that of a lightning express, and during my first descent I imagined that I was falling sheer down a precipice; and my heart and complete interior economy seemed to rise into my throat. No object is distinguishable during the downward plunge. Chinese lanterns, returning tobogganers, the icy bank, and the motionless spectators all being mingled like the passing ensemble of a kalcidoscope. No one seems to enjoy this exciting passage so much as the Canadian girl, and a picturesque sight it is to see her as she is shot past, her toque and head-wrap streaming behind, her eyes gleaming with excitement. But either by night or day there is only the space of a heart beat given you to note her look, for she goes past, bravely reliant upon the gallant steersman, with the impetuosity of a shotbolt .- Brooklyn Magazine.

First Act in a Society Drama.

An artist received not long ago a visit from a lady heavily veiled. When she entered the studio she saw that besides the artist there was in the room one of his pupils, and she shrank back involuntarily.

"Come in! come in!" called the ar tist, cheerily. "Can I see you alone?" asked the visitor, in a faltering voice. "You may speak before this young gentleman," was the reply. The artist divined at once that the veiled lady was an applicant for employment as a model. "Talk away. This young man is an artist, too." Nevertheless the young man got up from his easel and withdrew. When he had gone the lady threw aside her veil and threw herself at the artist's feet. She was handsomely dressed and was a girl of uncommon beauty. " Can you help me?" she asked. "Won't you give mer work as a model? I'll do any honest work for my liv-
