THE LATEST NEWS. DRANK ACONITE.

Singular Case of Self-Destruction in a Tennessee Drug Store.

VOL. I.

NASHVILLE, May 31.-In East Nashville to day John G. Bernal, an old man, a painter, and very much addicted to joking, went into a drug store and going back to where George Donelson, a clerk, was putting up medicine, said: "George, I'm tired of living, what-will kill me?" Donelson, who was measuring aconite, said: "Here's something that will kill you mighty quick-aconite-if you just drink enough." "All right," said Bernal; "get me something to drink it out of." Donelson poured out an ounce graduate full and said: "All right; here she is." He did not notice Bernal, who took it up and drank it. Donelson, looking up a moment later and seeing the empty glass said:

"My God! Did you drink that?" "Yes," said Bernal.

"Then you'll die," said Donelson and rushed off for help. Six or seven physicians were summoned and did all they could, but it was too late. Bernal said he had no idea of killing himself and no idea that the glass contained poison. His wife two grown sons were also called and were with him when he died. Donelson is much depressed and claims that he knew the old man was joking, but thought he would not drink the poison after being told what it was. Bernal was about sixty years old and thought well of by everybody.

AT NOTRE DAME.

The Victims of the Opera Comique Fire Are Instrred With Much Ceremony.

PARIS, May 31.-The funeral services over the remains of victims recovered from the ruins of the Opera Comique were held to day in the Cathedral of Notre Dame, the Archbishop of Paris taking a leading part in the ceremony. The edifice was filled with a dense crowd, including Senators. Deputies, members of the theatrical profession and many distinguished persons. The thirty coffins containing the remains were covered with wreaths and other floral offerings. Many in the crowd wept audibly. Two hundred thousand persons lined the route to the cemetery. The funeral procession was half a mile long. The remains were buried in the cemetery at Pantin. M. Goblet and M. Berthelot delivered orations at the grave.

The Archbishop will preside at another special service at St. Roch on Wednesday. Donations for the suffers have already reached 1,500,000 francs. The Comte de Paris subscribed 10,000 francs and Earon Rothschild gave 15,-000 francs.

The total number of bodies recovered is gr. Several of those who have been working in the ruins have been taken into custody charged with stealing jewelry and other valuables found in the debris.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE CITY OF GREENSBORD, AND OF THE STATE.

"What am I doing at present, you ask? Well, I am just now giving the last touches to a manuscript that will eventually form my third volume of poems. It will appear in due season. Lalways carry one of my rhymes with me, and in a cafe, streeet car or concert an improvement often occurs to me which I make forthwith. For instance, here is a ballad based on the Magna Charta episode in English history. I have had it here in my pocket all winter, and it is now quite ready for the printer. Poetizing is, therefore one of my chief and perhaps I may say one of my most agreeable, occupations in this beautiful and inspiring city."

The Citadel of Chivalry.

A young lady said at the recent meeting at the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in Savannah: "Chivalry, which has fled from all other quarters, has taken refuge in the newspaper offices." Flames in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 31.-A fire broke out here a little before eleven o'clock to-day in the dry goods store of David Welshein, on Broughton street, the main shopping street of the city. The fire began in the top story and raged with great fierceness. There was some delay in obtaining a strong pressure of water, owing to the incomplete change in the city's supply from the river to the artesian wells. The whole fire department turned out, but the fire spread to the neighboring stores on either side. On the east was the large millinery establishment of M. Krouskoff, and on the west the hardware firm of Lovell & Lattimore. In this latter store was stored a considerable amount of powder and great uneasiness was felt. The powder was, however, removed in time, but the stock in the three establishments is a total loss. The block of three buildings is owned by Edward Lovell and is very much of a ruin. The loss so far on stocks and buildings is not less than $100,000.

Desperate Love for a Ten-Year Old Girl.

BALTIMORE, May 30. - Daniel Pfennig, of this city, a handsome youth of eighteen, fell in love with a miss of ten years, and wooed and won her. The elder Pfennig, hearing of the engagement, forbade his son from ever seeing the girl again. This action so angered the boy that he ran away from home, vowing never to return. He went to his brother-in-law's house and related what had occurred at home, adding, "I will either have that girl or die." Then he ran out followed by his brother-in-law, who feared he meant mischief. Owing to the darkness Pfennig escaped his brother-in-law and reached Union dock, where he was caught by a policeman just as he was about to plunge into the water. When arrested by the of-

Pleasing Legend of a Bell.

A bell at Mii-dera has quite an interesting mythical history, the oldest story of all being the one which accounts for the scratches visible upon its sides. The priests of a neighbor-NEW YORK, May 31 .-- Morris ing monastery stole it once and carried it to their place in the mountains, but every time it was struck it called out in loud tones, "I want to go home to Mii-dera!" And echo carried the sound everywhere, until the priests in anger hurled the bell down the mountain side, when it received the scratches. It was found by its rightfal owners, and ceased at once its plaintive, home-sick cry .- Japan letter to Sacramento Record-Union.

Earthquakes and Cyclones.

NOGALES, Arizona, May 31.-A severe shock of earthquake at one o'clock yesterday afternoon caused considerable excitement, although no damage was done. Ten minutes afterwards there was another shock, but it was a very light one. On Sunday evening a terrific dry cyclone visited this place. A great many Mexican huts and a few more substantial buildings were unroofed, but no one was injured.
