> Large Attendance at Morehead -Local Option Case.

> RALEIGH, June 14 .- This afternoon a special train passed here on its way to Morchead with the members of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly. Over four hundred left here in eleven cars for Golsboro. At the latter place two hundred were added to the party and one hundred were taken on board between Goldsboro and Morehead. The train reached the latter place at ten o'clock to-night.

The Supreme Court to day rendered a decision in the habeas corpas case of Richard Giersch, indicted for violation of the local option law here. The decision is that the Court has no power to dispose of the matter in its present shape, but that it must first go before the Superior Court, and then come up before the Supreme Court in regular order. The Court does not pass upon the question as to whether beer and wine are spirituous liquors.

His Position Wholly Misunderstood.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 14 .- Gen. J. L. Rosser, whose recent attack in Sheridan's proposed military trip up the Shannandoah Valley, aroused some discussion has returned to this city. He said this morning:

"My position is being wholly misunderstood. I've made attacks in no spirit of hatred to Northern soldiers. It was indecent for Sheridan to camp in the Valley where had ruthlessly been burned the homes of harmless women. I would say the same thing of Confederate General Jubal Early, should he visit Chambersburg, the town he burned wontonly. Early ought to have been hung for the act and the people would be justified in taring and leathering him if he came. The South will receive any living union General with open arms, except as I do and isn't going. We want to welcome all Union soldiers who were 12:30, P. M.-Resenfield & Co's, and he had a terrible gash on the side of the head. Thompson was badly hurt. Billings was taken to Salem Hospital. His condition is critical. Both men were, unconscious up to a late hour to-night.

To be Localed at Washington.

NEW YORK, June 14 .- Bishop Heare, of Richmond, who arrived on the Servia yesterday from Rome saysthe new Catholic University will undoubtedly be located at Washington, though no mandate has been given to that effect. The Bishop took occasion to deny two statements lately made through the press to the effct that he approved Dr. McGlynn's course and that he had accused Cardinal Simani of condemning Henry George's doctrines without reading them. Both statements were untrue.

CLEVELAND, June 14 .- There was an ncipient riot at the New York, Pennslyvania & Ohio Railroad docks this afternoon between the striking ore hands and the non-union workmen. The row was started by a negro "scab' who threw a stone at majan who had left a vessel to get some dring water. The missle struck the white man on the leg, breaking that limb below the knee. Then there was a rush for the negro by a crowd of strikers and the non-unionists was joined by about 20 of his fellow workmen. Sticks, stones and bricks were used indiscriminately for a few minutes but beyond a few broken heads no damage was done.

Great Market Panic.

CHICAGO, June 14 .- There is a panic in the wheat pit, on the Board of Trade this afternoon. The giant wheat clique is utteraly demoralized and is said to have gone back on to-day's sensational drop in prices. Moretz. Rosenfield & Co., one of the clique house, said, at 12:30 this afternoon: "This wheat clique has not kept its engagement, and we will have to suspend." It is found that a number of night.

his ears, a portion of his beard and all the hair on his breast were burned off. All the brass buttons disappeared from his clothing, his watchchain was cut in two, a small hole was bored through his watch-case and tha watch-glass was shattered. He suffered severely, but is recovering.

A Big Metoric Stone.

and and a stranger

At Evansville (Ind.) special says: An ærolite of great size tell near St. Juseph Sunday morning. The residents were startled by a sharp, quick sound and a severe jarring of the earth. It was at first thought to be an earthquake, but a young farmer soon brought the intelligenc that some great projectile had imbedded itself in the woods near by. The neighbors went to the spot and found that the aerolite in falling had come in contact with a huge oak, and denuded it of many of its branches. Passing downward in a slightly slanting course, it buried itself in the earth to a depth of at least filteen to eighteen feet. The sandy sides of the hole made by the meteoric stone had caved in upon it, leaving it buried beyond sight. Several tragments of the stone lay scattered about, and the atmosphere about the place was impregnated with the smell of sulphur. The meteoric fragments were of a dull grayish and dark color, indicating a combination of ob-idion tractile and pumice. They will be brought to this city and sent to the Smithsonian Institution. The depth to which the aerolite imbeded itself will involve considerable labor to bring it to light, but the stone will be dug out not only for scientific purposes, but also to satisfy the curiosity of the people. From the great orifice made by the stone it is estimated that it cannot weigh less than two tons.
