THE LATEST NEWS.

SWEPT OVER NIAGARA FALLS.

Frank Triggs Commits Suicide in the Presence of Many People.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 20.—A party of young people on the Third Sister Island, the nearest to the main channel of the Niagara River above the falls, were horrified to see a young man walk rapidly past them this afternoon and throw himself into the water.

The stranger had been noticed sitting on a bench and it was thought that he was carving his name. On the bench was found a card, on the face of which was written: "Telegraph I have gone over the falls."

The suicide was Frank Triggs, of Washington, who has been on a visit. He was a passenger agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, and about twenty-five years old. The New York Central ticket agent here said that Triggs left him in front of the International Hotel about 4 o'clock and was in as good spirits as usual.

A Stage Coach Robbed by Highwaymen.

BALLWIN, St. Louis Co., Mo., June 20.—The Ballwin and Manchester stage, which runs from here to Barretts on the Missouri Pacific twice a day, was stopped this afternoon about 6 o'clock when returning, about a mile from Barretts, by three masked men. The men were concealed in the thick underbrush which skirts the road on both sides near what is known as Sugar Creek bridge, and as the stage, with its fifteen passengers, approached, the robbers advanced with drawn revolvers and ordered Mr. Bennett, the driver, to stop and the passengers to fall in line.

Directors Liable for Deposits.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 20.—An important decision has been rendered by the Supreme Court in a bank case which has been in the courts for several years. Gardiner Case was a depositor in the Bunker Hill Bank at Bunker Hill, Ill. The bank failed while holding his deposits and he brought suit against the directors individually, setting up the claim that if deposits were received when the directors, by exercising due diligence might have known that the bank was insolvent, they were legally liable for the deposits.

A Riot.

LIVERPOOL, June 20.—A riot, growing out of the Jubilee Celebration, occurred yesterday between Orangemen and Socialists, sticks and stones were freely used. The police dispersed the brawlers and made several arrests. No serious casualties resulted from the affair.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Train on the Va. Midland Collides With a Hand Car.

LYNCHBURG, Va., June 20.—A terrible accident occurred on the Va. Midland railroad, 2 miles from Lawyers depot, below this city at 6:30 this afternoon. A special freight train coming from the South by some unaccountable means, had not been reported to the train dispatchers. At the point assigned, it came in collision with a hand car containing Mr. John Martin and his family, consisting of himself and five children and a Mrs. Sprouse, returning from the funeral of one of his children. The collision was attended with fatal results. The following is a list of casualties: Lizzie Martin, seven years of age, instantly killed, John Martin, 80 years of age, skull crushed, recovery doubtful. Three other children, George, Charlie, and Cordelia Martin, were also slightly hurt. Mrs. W. J. Sprouse was badly injured about the head. The wounded were all taken to the Home and Retreat in this city, where they are being properly cared for.

Panic at a Circus.

CHICAGO, June 20.—During the performance of a circus at New Lisbon, Ohio, Saturday night, a panic occurred. An elephant, which was performing, became unruly and attacked a clown, injuring him seriously. The trainer, who was coming into the ring with another elephant, hastened to the clown's assistance, when the larger animal also started on the rampage, causing a stampede. The confusion for a time was terrible, men, women and children yelling and crowding for the entrance. When quiet was restored, it was found that one young lady's leg had been broken and several women and children badly bruised, one of the lady equestriennes, during the excitement, fell in the midst of four horses, she was riding and was terribly injured about the head and chest. Her condition is precarious.

Insanity Among the Royal Families.

LONDON, June 20.—The taint of insanity that pervades the royal families of Europe is assuming alarming proportions. Succeeding the sad case of the Duchess of Cumberland comes that of the Duchess d'Alencon. Oddly the Duchess d'Alencon was engaged to the late King of Bavaria, who, it is now recognized, was hopelessly mad for nearly twenty years. She is also a sister of the Empress of Austria. The royal family of England are not exempt from the scourge of kings. George III. was insane at his jubilee in 1809. His blood flows in the veins of the royal family.

Poet Tennyson's Substitute.

LONDON, June 20.—Lord Tennyson is really indisposed, suffering from several attacks of gout. He has been ordered off for a cruise in the Channel. Mr. Lewis Morris, who has been appointed assistant laureate for this occasion only, is author of "The Edict of Hades." He is a protege of the Prince of Wales.

Warned Not to Enter.

FLEMINGSBURG, Ky., June 20.—The Rowan county war leader, Craig Tolliver has just notified Dr. J. A. Huff, Republican prohibition candidate for State Senator, that he must not enter Rowan county. Tolliver accuses Huff of writing dispatches to the press giving facts that sting.

Requiem Mass.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Father Lan-kin, a very prominent Priest, who has charge of Holy Convents Parish, will celebrate a Solemn Requiem Mass, in his church here to-morrow, the Queen's Jubilee Day for 1,500,000 persons who have died from hunger and eviction under British misrule.

Thirteen Deaths at Key West.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 20.—No new cases of yellow fever have appeared in the city since yesterday, but three sailors sick with the disease on board the British bark Brothers and Sisters have been removed to the hospital. There have been two deaths at the hospital since yesterday, namely, Ed Dietrich and Fred Wornan. The record up to date stands as follows: Cases, 34; deaths, 13; discharged cured, 7; remaining sick, 14.

Cleveland and the Old Flag.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, who is in the city, said to a reporter to-day: "Our folks in the south are all for Cleveland, and the old flag, not these battle flags, but the old flag of the Union. God knows that we don't want the battle flags. We are too busy to waste time in old issues of that sort."

Decision Confirmed.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 20.—The Supreme Court to-day confirmed the decision of the St. Louis Criminal Court in the case of Maxwell alias Brooks, under sentence of death for the murder of C. A. Preller at the Southern Hotel in St. Louis, April 5, 1885. The date of execution is fixed for August 12.

THE DUDE'S LAMENT.

"I'm reduced to despair,"
Quoth the dude, with a stare,
"When the Prince gets his 'tips'
from the wild, woolly West.
If Buffalo Bill
Sets the styles at his will,
Shall the fashions be altered at Red Shirt's behest?"

"Have we suffered in vain
All this cerebral strain
In aping the Prince as he held us in tow
Who, with favor and praise,
Now affects the wild ways
Of Buffalo Bill and his outlandish show?"

BOOKS AND AUTHORS.

It is said that Carlyle read on an average a dozen books a day.
Mrs. Henry Wood is said to have left five or six posthumous novels.
Rider Haggard is only 31 years old and is a practicing barrister of Lincoln's Inn.
Susan Coolidge has a parrot, and it is said the bird can recite whole passages from the novels of its owner.

Oscar Wilde, ex-apostle of aestheticism, just appears as a novelist in a serial story, "Lord Arthur Serville's Crime." It is a story of chiro-mancy, and a lurid one.

The highest price ever paid for a book in Germany is said to be $1,650, given for a copy of the original Latin edition of the "Letters of Columbus," printed in 1493.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT.

[From the World.]
Adj.-Gen. Drum has received his reward. Not a paper in the country has failed to make a pun on his name; hence his pun-ishment.
Edwin Booth frankly acknowledges that he is no business man. He might go further without violating the truth and confess that he is no longer an actor.
Archibald Forbes, the celebrated journalist, traveller and lecturer, is suffering from a very severe attack of eczema. He is thought to be on the road to recovery.

When John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, makes a speech he puts his hands together as though he were about to pray. His long experience as a Sunday-school superintendent has begotten the habit.
The wife of the late Mark Hopkins, ex-President of Williams College, survives him. She was Miss Mary Hubbell, of Williamstown, and married Mark Hopkins in 1832. Three daughters and four sons are also living.
The tuition rates at Yale are to be increased. Since Staggs was offered $3,000 for a few months' work as a professional pitcher the University has felt that it was offering the advantages of its curriculum to the public at too great a sacrifice.

The Battle Flag Incident.

Governor Fitzhugh Lee was asked if he had seen the dispatches of some of the Northern Governors in reference to the return of the Southern battle flags. The Governor said:

"I was amazed at the demagogism displayed after the war had been over for twenty two years. I do not regret that the flags were not returned. I hope all the papers will publish Governor Foraker's dispatch to the New York World. Virginians ought to read it, because he was one of those imported in Virginia to make speeches in behalf of the Republican party during the late gubernatorial contest, and yet in Cincinnati a year or two ago he was very temperate and courteous. On that occasion Governor Foreaker said the war had settled the differences between the South and North for all time. 'How strange,' said Gov. Lee, 'that Foreaker should have been selected a year ago to be the fraternal delegate from the Northern Methodist Church to the General Conference of the Methodist Church South! The South is back in the Union. The whole country deserves benefit when kind and generous feelings are shown by the victors to the vanquished, and the whole country suffers by the abuse of any one section by another. The Southern soldier is supporting, in good faith, the flag of the Union. I am glad the President was so manly and prompt as to rescind the order when he found the authority to return the flag was lodged elsewhere. I hope the papers will ascertain how many of these flags were captured by the men who are most abusive of the President's action, for it will be found to be in inverse ratio to the noise they have made.'"

Not Bound for the North Pole.

From the Burlington Free Press.
A good deal of interest will be taken in the New York World's balloon expedition, whose objective point, it is now alleged, is the North Pole. The fact that the adventurers have a photographer with them would seem to indicate that they intend to combine business with pleasure. A newspaper balloon expedition to the North Pole will be a new and big thing in journalism.
