

The Morning News.

VOL. I. GREENSBORO, N. C., SATURDAY, JUNE 25, 1887. No. 140

THE LATEST NEWS.

The President Opposed to an Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—It is now generally accepted that the President has concluded there will be no necessity for an extra session of Congress. He has since extra session talk began, expressed himself as being opposed to it, and stated on several occasions that he hoped that Congress would not assemble before the 1st Monday in December.

The Jury at the Railroad Accident.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., June 23.—The coroner's jury in the railroad accident on the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore railroad at this place Monday, rendered the following verdict this morning: "We do say upon our oaths that on June 21, '87, at Havre De Grace, Alexander Grantom came to his death by a collision between passenger trains Nos. 41 and 66, and that we do censure the railroad company and its employes for the reckless manner and high rate of speed of running their trains through our city, thereby endangering the lives of our citizens and of the travelling public."

English Cabinet.

LONDON, June 23.—A Cabinet meeting was hastily summoned today for the purpose of considering the hitch in the Anglo-Turkish convention providing for the administration of Egyptian affairs.

A Wholesale Slaughter.

CHATTANOOGA, June 23.—News of a wholesale slaughter comes from Ringgold, Ga. Farmers Dennis and Clark quarreled over the result of a law suit and Dennis to save his life thrust a knife into Clark's throat. Clark's father and brother who witnessed the fight then attacked Dennis, each armed with a club. Dennis stabbed the brother, inflicting a fatal wound and turning plunged his knife into elder Clark's heart leaving it sticking there. Dennis fled.

Postal Matters.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—A statement prepared by the postoffice department shows that the sale of postage stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards for the month of May at the 76-First class postoffices aggregated $1,733,689, which is an increase of $155,533 or 9.86 per cent. Fifteen of the seventy-six offices show a decrease.

A Tramp Sues A Railroad.

NEBRASKA CITY, June 23.—A tramp named John Gallagher has brought suit against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad for $15,000 for failing to sustain charges brought against him of attempted train wrecking, on account of which charge he laid in jail six months.

Swindling the Lottery.

HAVANA, June 23.—The Royal Havana Lottery, after the last drawing, was mulcted to the amount of $85,000 through counterfeit fractional portions of the ticket bearing the ticket drawing the capital prize. The capital prize called for $200,000. The forgery was not discovered until after the above amount had been paid out. Active efforts are being made to discover the perpetrators of the swindle.

The Successful Cadets.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The war department is informed that 163 persons successfully passed both the physical and mental examinations, for admission to the West Point Military Academy, as cadets. Six applicants failed to pass the physical examination; 35 failed in the mental examination and 63 failed to report.

A World of Meaning in Four Lines.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—A few days ago the press dispatches contained a short item that the post office department had awarded a contract for mail catchers to a Montgomery firm. The item did not embrace four lines, yet it contained a world of meaning. For the particular article awarded there were bidders from Pittsburg, Cleveland, Buffalo and other northern cities, all in the heart of Iron districts, but the recent development of South, under existing tariff conditions, enabled a southern firm to underbid all competition. This is the first time within the history of this department that an iron contract has been awarded to a southern firm.

Prohibition of American Publications.

VIENNA, June 23.—The privilege to circulate through the Austrian post-office without prepayment has been withdrawn from the periodical Slovian, published at Bryan, Texas; the publications of the International Library at New York, and the Polish newspaper Wiarus, of Winona.

The Kaiser Leaving for Ems.

BERLIN, June 23.—Emperor William will go to Ems on Monday next. He has sent a letter to Minister von Boetticher expressing his thanks for the manner in which the Minister expounded the imperial views of the Reichtag.

A Liquor House Assigns.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—Keyser & Hanger, wholesale dealers in wines and liquors at 57 East Second street, assigned this morning to Samuel W. Smith, Jr. The assets are $15,000; liabilities about $25,000. This is a result of the Fidelity Bank failure.

Eating Rattlesnakes.

From the San Francisco Chronicle. An old frontiersman, who has been forced to the test when in the mountains, says that the flesh of the rattlesnake when cooked is as white as milk and very delicate. He told the wondering circle of listeners in the Baldwin lobby how he relished it after being without food for forty-eight hours. "Of course," he added, "care must be taken to see that the poison-bag is promptly removed and that the snake has not previously put her fangs in her own body."

POLITICAL POINTS.

Henry George's campaign may be a labor of love, but it is hardly a love of labor.—Lowell Citizen.

Robt T. Lincoln says he is not to be the Republican candidate against Cleveland unless the Labor party runs a candidate. This shows great discretion.—Wash. Post, Dem.

The impression is gaining ground that Sherman has destroyed his chances for the Presidential nomination with the same weapon that Sampson used to slaughter the Philistines.—Detroit Free Press, Dem.

All the so called Democrats who harp about protection, are engaged in business which the tariff subsidizes and are directly interested in the proceeds of the robber revenue laws.—Louisville Courier-Journal Dem.

Senator John Sherman, who has foolishly asserted that the revenues from duties on imports are collected mainly upon articles consumed by the rich, now says there will be a reduction on numerous items in the tariff. When he is asked to specify he can think of nothing but sugar.—Phil. Record, Dem.

Mr. Chandler must not be too harshly dealt with for seeking to revive the war feeling. It is not long since Mr. Chandler was Secretary of our formidable Navy, and in so warlike a situation it is no more than natural that a man should acquire a few blood-and-thunder habits.—Louisville Courier Journal, Dem.

Water Melons.

Will receive a car load of water melons on Friday the 24th. Send in our orders to J. H. West.

Another Exposition.

Atlanta, Ga., is to have another exposition in the fall, towards which the enterprising business men of that city have subscribed $150,000. It is to be called the Piedmont Fair, and the Constitution says "it will equal the Cotton Exposition in every respect and surpass it in many respects. Its buildings will be as large and its equipment much more complete. Its programme is more attractive and will bring larger crowds. The interest in the Piedmont region is a hundred times greater now than it was in 1881, and visitors from all sections of the North will be in Atlanta in large numbers to study the resources of this section epitomized at the exposition."

Col. Lamont on His Way Home.

Col. Daniel S. Lamont was in the city yesterday. He arrived from Washington in the morning and registered at the Hoffman House. During the day he went downtown and called at the Custom House. He left last night for Cortland, his native place. It is said that he will spend a day there and then return to Washington in company with Mrs. Cleveland. She is at Aurora, which is only a short distance from Cortland.—Wednesday's World.

Around the Mahogany.

"Yes" said Miss Breezy, of Chicago, "it is a pleasure to dine at the Washashes. Mr. Washash is naturally hospitable, and aside from the general excellence everything is served in a way that is positively delightful to a person of cultured tastes. And her soups are delicious. 'Why, do you know' went on the young lady, 'that last evening I was served to soup three times, and could easily have gone one more.'—New York Sun.

Candidates for Paralysis.

From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. It is about time for Fairchild to issue a general order paralyzing the Forty-sixth Ohio Regiment, which has for the past two months been engaged in a treasonable attempt to restore a captured flag to a Louisiana regiment.

Sixty Million Kings and Queens.

To the editor of the World: There was quite a fuss made over a dozen, more or less, of kings and queens in London yesterday. But that same gathering should come over here on the Fourth of July. Then they would see 60,000,000 kings and queens in the unequalled splendor of American citizenship, with a birthright earned, an independence gained by the thrashing of this particular Queen's ancestral armies.

AN OLD TORONTO BOY.

New York, June 22.

A Flagless Warrior.

From the Boston Herald. Gen. Butler, in his talk about the flags, reminds us of the man who heard that a bank had failed, and ran home to see if he had any of its bills. He discovered none of that or any other bank.

More Trophies Called For.

From the Jacksonville (Fla.) News. Let us now send North and get the spoons Ben Butler captured at New Orleans, the prestige Pemberton dropped at Vicksburg, the head that Beauregard lost at Shiloh, the socks Gen. Rosser ran out of when Phil Sheridan got after him in the Shenandoah Valley, the "all" that was lost "but ho!" at Appomattox, and the sour apple tree Jeff Davis was (not) hanged on after the surrender.

Pat Riley, a plasterer by trade, left Oxford last July for Littleton, N. C., to get work. I have not heard from him since. Any information as to his whereabouts, will be thankfully received. State papers please copy. I wish to hear if dead or alive. MRS. C. A. RILEY, wife of Pat Riley.
