DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE CITY OF GREENSBORO, AND OF THE STATE.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Special Correspondence of the News.

WASHINGTON, July 3, 1887.

A conference of Democratic leaders will be held in this city in a few days to discuss generally the political situation and to consider particularly the revenue reduction problem. This is the nightmare which confronts the Democratic party, and in which they are wise enough to realize is involved much of vital concern to their hopes for continued supremacy. It is hoped by an interchange of views among the party leaders at this conference, or series of conferences to be held, to agree upon a definite plan of action as to what they propose to do in the matter of reducing the revenue, in order that, upon the reassembling of Congress, the party may present a united front on this question. But at the very entrance upon this subject the discouraging and altogether alarming fact remains that Mr. Randall has not receded from his old position, but still adheres to his former attitude; and moreover during the interim he has exchanged views with a large number of members, trying to win converts to his own tariff doctrines, which fact it may be expected will render still more doubtful the success of the efforts now being put forth by the Carlisle wing. It is thought, at this conference the proposition will be entertained looking to the repeal of the tobacco tax. It is also hinted as a possibility that a disposition will manifest itself among those who are most outspoken in their resentment against Mr. Randall favoring the withholding from that gentleman of all committee honors, especially directing their enmity to depriving him of the appropriations chairmanship in the next Congress, the most conspicuous position among the committees in the House. Mr. Randall does not stand in high favor with his party on account of his opposition to free trade theories. On this question he is substantially a Republican, and upon other great issues he has acted in sympathy with the Republicans. Consequently the free trade Democrats not being able to defeat his re-election, now seek to degrade him in the estimation of the party by stripping him of all power and influence other than that incident to his representative capacity. Mr. Randall has remarkable staying powers, and the efforts to "down him" will be a contract very difficult to execute.

The reduction in the public debt during June, as shown in the statement issued by the Treasury Department, was $16,852,725, and for the fiscal year ending June 30th, the total debt now, less cash in the Treasury, amounts to $1,279,428,737. The total net cash or actual surplus now in the Treasury is $40,853,639, while a year ago it amounted to $75,200,000.

One year ago at the beginning of the fiscal year the Treasury net gold fund was $156,893,840, and this fund now aggregates $186,875,000, an increase of over $30,000,000. The net silver fund was $96,229,539, and on July 1 was $73,348,425, a decrease of about $23,000,000 during the year.

Standard silver dollars are steadily accumulating, and the Treasury now holds $211,483,970 of this coin, or nearly $30,000,000 more than July 1, 1886. There are now $55,000,000 standard dollars in circulation against about $52,000,000 a year ago. The silver certificates outstanding aggregate $142,118,017, against $88,116,225 on July 1, 1886, an increase of $54,000,000 during the past fiscal year.

A very exaggerated case of dangerous crankism was that of a foreigner, who came to Washington a few days ago, and publicly avowed his intention to kill the President, claiming that Cleveland owed him $600,000,000. His plan, as he announced it, was to shoot the President in church on Sunday morning. The police kindly took care of him and placed him where he will not be allowed to indulge in the innocent pastime of shooting at Presidents.

No injurious effects can follow the use of Ayer's Ague Cure. It contains an unfailing antidote and specific for miasmatic poisons, together with remedial agents which purify and re-invigorate the system.

THE LATEST NEWS.

WHITE-WINGED PELICE.

No more North, No more South, but a Grand United Country.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 3.—Gettysburg presented a gay and animated scene last night. Houses were decorated with flags, evergreens and bunting. The streets were brilliantly illuminated and thronged with thousands of people. During the day visitors arrived on all the trains, and when the Philadelphia brigade arrived at 6 o'clock, with two thousand more, the hotels and boarding houses overflowed, and quarters were as hard to find as they were twenty years ago to-night.

At 8 o'clock Mrs. Gen. Pickett arrived, accompanied by her son, and was immediately driven to the Springs Hotel. After securing quarters, the Philadelphia brigade, escorted by the Grand Army band of Gettysburg, marched to the Harrisburg depot to receive their guests.

At 8:35 a ringing cheer from the Philadelphia brigade, promptly and heartily answered to the well known rebel yell, announced that the visitors had arrived and two hundred of Pickett's veterans marched out and surrendered themselves to the hospitality of their friends.

As the procession moved along Chambersburg street to the public square, cheers and applause greeted it at every step. The Confederates, who were armed with rockets, discharged them as they marched along, proudly bearing the stars and stripes in their midst, the only flag in the line, and responded heartily to the greetings with their peculiar battle yell, so well known here, to the great delight of the assembled crowd.

When the procession reached center square the Union and Confederate lines were drawn up facing. The Confederates stepped forward, saying: "Here we are once more together. Let us shake hands. Let us trade coffee."

The bands played "Way Down South in Dixie." Fireworks lit up the sky, and all the people cheered.

At 9:35 the procession moved to the court house, where a camp fire was held. The doors were thrown open and the band entered, followed by Pickett's men. They proceeded to the front and seated themselves in chairs. In a few minutes the building was filled to overflowing. Standing room could not be obtained. When all was ready General Burns assisted Mrs. General Pickett to the stand and, amid tremendous cheers, which shook the building, introduced her and her son to the audiences. She was visibly affected, and with difficulty restrained the tears. Whenever General Pickett's name was mentioned the cheering was tremendous. When Colonel Ayette, becoming excited and branching off somewhat from his prepared oration, mentioned the name of the Union the whole audience arose and shouted itself hoarse. As soon as the President's letter was read, General Burns jumped up and proposed "Three cheers for the President of the United States." These were given standing and with telling effect.

A Boy Attacked by a Leopard.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 4.—Halsey Gaines, aged fifteen years, had his scalp partially torn off and one arm deeply lacerated this morning by a leopard in one of Barnum's cages. The lad climbed upon the leopard's cage and was peering in when the brute tried to drag him inside. He was only saved by the efforts of one of trainers.

Eos in a Millinery Store.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 4. A cow walked into Mrs. Josephine Feentz's millinery store to day, and it took four policemen to get her (the cow) out. In the course of their efforts, she broke $50 worth of show-cases and scattered bonnets, ribbons and laces in every direction.

England and Turkey.

LONDON, July 4.—England has refused to grant Turkey any further time for signing the Anglo-Turkish Convention.

A Mathematical Wonder.

Higginsville, Mo., has a mathematical wonder who doesn't know a letter of the alphabet or one printed figure from another, but who is wonderfully strong on mental calculations, making them off-hand. His name is Reuben Fields, and he is thirty years old. He claims that his gift was given from Heaven, and says it came to him suddenly when eight years old. He says the Lord made but one Sampson, one Solomon and one Reuben Fields. To the one he gave strength, to the other wisdom, and to himself mathematical instinct. He guards this instinct with the utmost care, and will not answer questions unless he is paid, fearing that it will be taken from him should he use it to satisfy idle curiosity.

The Weather and the Crops.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The following is the weather-crop bulletin issued to-day by the signal office for the week ending July 2:

"Reports from the cotton region indicate that the weather during the week, owing to abundant and well-distributed showers, has been favorable to cotton, although its growth may have been slightly retarded by the cool weather."

"The weather has been favorable for harvesting wheat and hay from the Lake region and the Ohio Valley eastward to the Atlantic coast, while in the Missouri and Mississippi valleys showers have delayed harvesting in those sections."

"The weather has been especially favorable in the corn region, and the recent rain have extended over a great portion of the corn belt. Excellent growing weather is reported from New England and the Middle States, whose large hay crop has been secured."

Wheat Prospects.

CHICAGO, July 4.—This week's issue of the Farm's Review will say: The reports on the yields of the winter wheat crop are now coming in, and thus for corroborate our previous statements as to the shortage might be expected. Missouri leads in her average, and is followed by Illinois, while other states have the following relative position: Kentucky, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, and last, Kansas, where chinch bugs have done very serious damage.

A Boy of Fourteen Kills a Little Girl.

FORT SMITH, Ark., July 4.—A deputy marshal arrived yesterday from Children's Station, Cherokee Nation, having in custody a fourteen-year-old boy named George Smith, who is charged with the murder of a ten-year-old girl named Mareha Shaw last Sunday. He does not deny the killing, but claims it was an accident. He shot her in the breast, killing her instantly.

Bank Wreckers Arraigned.

CINCINNATI, July 2.—E. L. Harper and Benjamin E. Hopkins, of the Fidelity Bank, did not appear before Commissioner Hooper this afternoon, but by their attorneys they waived examination, and in default of bail—$200,000 and $100,000 respectively—were finally committed to answer at the October term of the court.

Raising Partridges with a Hen.

A new enterprise has been started at Apex, and we are told that Mr. R. H. Jenks has engaged in raising partridges. He sets the eggs under an ordinary hen, and he has several broods of young birds of various ages. They are quite tame and become domesticated.

"It commands," says a house agent's advertisement of a "desirable residence," "not only a view of the pretty little railway station, but also of the people who miss the trains."—Plain Dealer.

No medicine is more conscientiously prepared, more powerful, or more highly concentrated, than Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Its standard of excellence is the result of careful study. This preparation is acknowledged by the medical profession to be the best blood purifier.
