THEERUIT FAIR. POMONA, July 13. '87. Editors Morning News :- I see in the MORNING NEWS you ask what has become of the Annual Fruit Fair. If you will examine your own fruit market you will find the answer to your qu'st tion. There is no fruit. We were making arrangements to hold our Fruit Fair this year, Aug. 18th and 19th, at Winston, and had everything ready for the press, but we began to inquire about the crop and found it the poorest ever known in North Carolina, and as we did not want to make a failure, the Executive Committee of the Horticultural Society authorized me to hold no fair this year. I have, however, made a call for a two day's meeting of the Society to be held in Raleigh, Aug. 4th and 5th, at the same time the Wake County Horticultural Society will hold a Grape Show, and it promises to be a big meeting. I sold during the last half of June and first week in July over $400 worth of peaches and plums, but have none years he had been a friend of the now, and it seems there is no fruit in this State anywhere except what I have.
