THE LATEST NEWS. TWO GIRLS ASSASSINTED feel bad."

2.00 White Steeping They Are Attacked by a Fiend With a Hatchet.

GAINSVILLE, Tex., July 14.-This morning about 3 o'clock a shocking tragedy was enacted here in which Miss Genie Watkins, of Dallas, and Miss Mamie Bostick, of this city, were the victims of a fiend who attempted to murder them while they slept. At the bour mentioned Mrs. Bostick heard a scuffling in the room in which the young ladies were, and as she entered the room to ascertain the cause she saw a man jump out of the window and disappear. Then she saw the two girls, who were sleeping in seperate beds, weltering in blood. She screamed and soon neighbors were on the scene. On investigation it was found that though the young girls were seriously wounded and unconscious, they were still alive.

Miss Bostick had been struck on the forehead and right temple with some sharp instrument similar to a hatchet. The upper lip was almost entirely severed, Miss Watkins received a cut on the forehead and a blow on the right temple, which knocked her eye out of its socket, She cannot survive. Bloodhounds are on the track of the assassin.

DALLAS, Tex., July 14.-This morning news reached Dallas that Miss Genie Watkins, of this city, who is visiting at Gainsville, had been horribly murdered and that Miss Mamie Bostick, whom she was visiting and who was sleeping in the same room with her, had received wounds at the hards of an assassin that would prove fatal. The first news of the terrible tragedy was received by Mr. J. C. to break the terrible news gently. The telephone message was:

"Come at once. Genie is very ill, and is not expected to live."

As Mr. and Mrs. Watkins had received a letter from their daughter written only yesterday, in which she made no reference to being ill, Mr. Watkins suspected the worst and telegraphed for the facts. The terrib'e, crushing answer was that his daughed by an unknown man, and that they through the city. could not live.

Abe Norwood, who is a clerk at the Blankenship & Blake Company, who was engaged to Miss Watkins, was apprised of the fearful fate of his intended, and he and the father and mother left on the 12:30 train for Gainsville.

Miss Watkins was a beautiful brunett, graceful and possessed of a very lovable disposition. She was a pupil of the High School and stood high in her classes. She was a member of the "We Mean Business"_Society, com posed of the young ladies of the Mc-Lloyd Street M. E. Church South.

Her Two Hundred Cats Seized.

MONTREAL, July 14.-A case of much interest between the Health Department and Mrs. Stevenson Morley, a tashionable lady residing in the East End, will come blore the Court in a few days. The lady is a great lover of cats, and keeps in her house, at No. 300 Hubert street, all that she can collect. The neighbors tired of midnight serenades of innumerable felines, and also on account of the sanitary condition of the neighborhood owing to the number of cats, complained to the police. Yesterday the house was raided. It has fourteen large rooms, all tenanted by scores of cats. The house is in a terrible condition. There were over two hundred cats in all. The lady is very wealthy, and will fight the cause in the courts.

UTICA, N. Y., July 13 .- There are The polce are guarding the street, four Grand Army Posts in this city. and not one turned out to-day. A F. Bull, commander of Bacon Post | may occur. Preliminary information cheerfully said: "We received an invitation to go to Clinton, and then we had a meeting to see how many would go Although Cleveland's name was not mentioned, the boys voted not to go as a body. I think the President's letter to St. Louis made the boys

Charles H. Lange, of Harrier Post, said: "I would not go around the street to see Mr. Cleveland under any circumstances. I have the feelings of an old soldier." McQuade Post had accepted the invitation and subsequently reconsidered and refused to go.

THEY WANTED TO DIE TOGETHER.

Ernst Kammy Killed His Wife in Fairmount Park, But Only Wounded Himself.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.-Ernst Kammy and his wife, Marguerite, entered East Fairmount Park shortly after daybreak this morning, with the avowed purpose of ending their lives together. They went into a ravine with brush-covered banks, near Strawberry mansion, a seclude spot well suited for their purpose. Kammy shot his wife twice in the head and in the breast. Either would have been instaneously fatal. right side of the head, in the mouth and in the breast. None of the wounds is necessarilly fatal.

The couple lay in the bushes undiscovered until this afternoon, when Kammy crawled over 300 feet to a spring for a drink of water. A little girl with a picnic party discovered the blood-covered man at the spring and gave the alarm to the park guard. Kammy was removed to the hospital, but it was not until sometime afterwards that he suggested to the police they should look for his wife, who was dead somewhere in the park. Her body was found after a search. Kammy and his wife were penniless and out of work. They are comparative as will be seen, the sender endeavored to this city from Baltimore, and their place of residence in the city has not yet been discovered.

War at a Railway Crossing.

Youngstown, O., July 13.-By moonlight yesterday morning the Pittsburg and Western Railroad, with a force of 200 men and a locomotive, was successful in laying their track across Mill street, the intention ter and Miss Bostick had been assault- being to build additional tracks

This afternoon the City Council ordered out the city police force and fire department, with 100 special officers, to tear up the crossing. They found the crossing covered with a locomotive and several cars, guarded by 200 section men armed with picks and shovels under command of Roadmaster Kill.

The firemen set two streams going, and under cover of the water the city police made a dash for the crossing. The section men held their ground, but were finally driven off with clubs and maces, retreating behind an embankment, where they gave the officers a volley of stones. Several were injured on each side, but not fatally. Engineer Reeves refused to leave his engine, and was hurled off by half a dozen officers, who took possession and ran the train back from the disputed crossing. Rails and ties were torn up and scattered right and left, and the obstruction removed from the street.

Gen. Jones, counsel for the com pany, said to-night: "By a decree of the court rendered several years ago we were given the right to cross this street. Suits for damages will be entered to-morrow in the United States Court at Cleveland against the city, and warrants will be issued charging Mayor Steele, Marshal William's and the members of the City Council with participating in

Three carloads of section men ar rived here to night over the Pittsburg and Western, and it is believed an attempt will be made before morning to retake the coveted crossing. well armed, and if any move is made by the company serious trouble

A Baby Afire in Its Coffin.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.-James H. Dabney, the colored undertaker at No. 441 L street Northwest, was called yesterday to bury the infant child of Samuel and Harriet Fry, colored, living at No. 1150 Second street Northeast. Dabney had a certificate of death signed in the regular way by Dr. W. D. Hughes, and got the customary burial permit from the health office. With a coffin he went to the Fry house and found the child to all appearance dead and wrapped in rags, lying peacefully in the bureau drawer, The undertaker placed the infant in the coffin and with it drove back to his shop; with the intention of burying the remains later in the cemetery. He left the coffin in the buggy while he went into the shop. His assistant soon came in and said, excitedly: "There's a racket in that coffin." Dainey brought the coffin into the store, heard the noise from within it, and opened it and found the infant alive and kicking. He took it back to its mother, but an buried to-day.
