Newspaper plagiarism seems not to be peculiar to American journalism. An English paper defines an exchange as a paper from which to clip selections with which to make other papers.

The statement has been made from Richmond that 20,000 copies of the stenographic report of the proceedings of the debt commission, printed by order of the Legislature, have been sent out as campaign material.

all been counted and the number history for its marked tendency of baskets estimated; so the occupation of the peach-failure liar is gone for the present. It may be added in this connection that commission merchants who fail to return empty peach baskets will hear something drop.

Governor Lee, of Virginia, has been invited to deliver the annual address at the fair of the Orleans (N. Y.) County Agricultural Association, in September next. He is assured by the officials of the Fair Association, that ten thousand people would gather to hear him, and that nothing would be left undone to add to his pleasure should he accept the invitation.

The Charlotte Chronicle wants to know what has become of the fellow who was writing a volume to prove that this globe is growing colder each year and will helpless. eventually become the corpse of a planet flying through frigid ing the efficacy and power of con are probably more easily enlisted, the perfection of their organizaas a prophet is not without honor save in his own country.

The conviction and sentence of Jacob Sharp has paralyzed the New York "boodlers." It is said that the way is now made clear to the conviction of the rest of these fellows. Judge Berry said in an interview that he had, during the progress of the Sharp trial, become so thoroughly convinced of the rascality of the whole lot of the indicted bribe givers and bribe takers that he could not have anything more to do with them. As to Kerr, he said that he was, beyond a peradventure of doubt, equally as guilty as Sharp.

The perils of matrimony in these modern times was forcibly illustrated in New York last Thursday, when Lily Schwabach, 20 years of age, and a bride of three weeks, suicided. Her husband, a well-to-do hoop-skirt manufacturer, installed her after their marriage in squalid apartments in a disreputable part o the city. She pleaded to be removed to a more respectable portion of the city, but he refused, and she therefore took her life. Many more like stories are to be told of unhappy matrimonial alliances. The transaction seems to be growing more and more like a business arrangement than the consummation of a life happiness. The chance to make a "bargain"

blinds the eyes to all considerations of possible regret in after years and too often leads to a tale of disappointment, mortification, heartbreak, misery and woe in the Axey Cherry, a colored child, twelve years old, has been sentenced to be hanged in Barwell County, S. C., for murdering an infant. It was a horrible murder, and was effected by forcing concentrated lye down the baby's throat. Still, the enlightened Jacob Sharp's suffering in his thought and judgment of the world will hardly accept the as-Jail are said to be very trying and sumption that a child twelve years old can attain a sufficient degree of moral responsibility to merit the death penalty for the commission of any crime.-New York World. The World would doubtiess favor a continuation of the slaughter of innocent and helpless infants by such embryo fiends till they arrive at an age of moral responsibility. Shame on the shallow and contemptible sentimentalism that gave utterance to any such a view. Let such vampires as Axey Cherry be weeded out promptly from the face of the globe. The sooner, the better.

ORGANIZATION.

The present age seems to be developing a peculiarity for its tendency to organize. It will The peaches in Delaware have doubtless have a reputation in toward the organization and centralization of forces. It manifests itself in social, political and commercial circles. The idea was suggested by the gathering from all parts of the State of the many representatives of the journalistic profession of North Carolina, the organization of which is comparatively an old institution, apropos to which the reflection arose that there are at present more new organizations recently formed than at any time in history. The organization of the laboring man which is comparatively of recent date has become a power by the uniting of its interests and issues and the harmonious centralization of its forces. The labor element is a tremendous force, and when organized is a potent force If disunited it would be entirely Among professions the tendency is marked, ample proof of which is shown in the recent organizing of the teachers in the Teachers' Assembly. The North Corolina Medical Association Harness, Saddles, Whirs, which for years has been an organization of the medical pro fession of the State, has recently begun to perfect its body in harmony with the general impulse.

Druggists and drummers are likewise falling into line. The farmers are yielding to the tendency and have organized Farmers Clubs all over-the State. The tobacconists of North Carolina will hold a convention at Morehead City, August 17th, for the purpose of organizing themselves. This tendency is an unmistakeable index of the highest perfection of civilization. It goes to show that there is a progressive spirit and a desire to reach perfection. It goes to show that the methods of our work are founded on intelligence and science. Any operation carried on in a systematic and organized method will yield the most satisfactory results, and this tendency may be considered a good indication.

Bodily health and vigor may be main tained as easily in the leat of summer, as in the winter months, if the blood is purified and vitalized with Ayer's Sarsaparilia. Every person who has used this remedy has been greatly benefited. Take t this month.
