

The Morning News.

—Dog days are over.
—Sun rises now at 5:15, sets at 6:45.
—The C. F. & Y. V. track is now laid to Dalton.

—Yesterday and day before were excessively hot.

Mr. Geo. M. Rose of Fayetteville was in this city yesterday.

—Capt D. P. West and Capt. J. F. Gilmer of Winston were in this city a short while yesterday.

—Messrs Thomas, Reece & Co. moved yesterday to their new apartments over Groom's store.

—Gov. Scales has gone to attend the Semi-Centennial celebration of the Friends School at New Garden.

—Mr. W. T. Gray of Winston passed through here last night on his way to Mobile Ala., where he will make a short business stay.

—Look out for West's excursion to Asheville the 24th. The Greensboro Cornet Band and their families will be on board. A Pullman sleeper will be attached.

—The attention of the reader is directed to the announcement of Sample S. Brown's closing sale as it appears in our paper to-day. The slaughter is great. Read for yourself.

—We regret to announce that Wallace Guilford, the infant son of our fellow-townsmen J. W. Forbis, Esq., died in this city on Thursday last, August 11th, aged eleven months.

—We hear reports from neighboring towns of the ravages of that dread disease, diphtheria. Parents should be very careful with their children and at the first indications of throat trouble should apply remedies.

—The Danbury Reporter has the following list of Greensboro arrivals at the McGanless House last week: D. W. C. Benbow, Dr. Beall, Mrs. Clara Albright, Mrs. Bettie Caldwell, W. P. Bell, Mrs. W. P. Bell, Thos. Bell, Fayetteville.—Thos. H. Sutton.

—J. F. Davis, one of Greensboro's self-made young men, who moved to Rome, Ga., a few years ago, and now owns one-half interest in one of the largest Foundries and Machine Shops in the State of Georgia, is visiting friends in this county.

—Danbury must be a "land of milk and honey." The reporter gives the following quotations on produce at that market. Corn is selling here at 80c.; wheat 75c.; spring chickens 12½c. to 15c.; eggs 10c.; dried blackberries 6c.; butter 10c. to 12c. choice 15c.

—Remember the lawn party Thursday evening August 18th, in the court-house grove. The proceeds for the benefit of the W. C. T. U. The ladies have contributed very liberally and we hope the citizens will patronize them accordingly.

—We are authorized to say that the corner stone of the new Graded School building will be laid this morning at 11 o'clock, with all due ceremonies. Let a large crowd go and witness the ceremony. It will mark an epoch in the history of Greensboro.

—Died in this city yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, Mrs. Mary Gorrell, relict of Ralph Gorrell, at the age of 75. She has been in feeble health for some time. The funeral services will take place this evening at the Presbyterian church at 5 o'clock.

—Raleigh is having another visitation of winged ants similar to the one they had several years ago. They come by millions swarming around the electric lights and almost taking the city. The light seems to attract them from a distance.

—We learn that the Rev. L. S. Burk head, D. D., of Winston, will probably preach the 11th sermon next Sunday at the camp meeting at Mui's chapel. Arrangements are complete for the accommodation of a great many people and a very large crowd is expected in attendance through the week.

—The Raleigh street Railway Company are taking steps to run a line out to the fair ground and expect to have it completed and cars running by the time the State Fair takes place in October. Let Greensboro not forget that we must have street cars. We need them and they will soon be a necessity. They have been shown to pay in every town where they have been introduced. The right of way to establish a street car system has been granted to one of our citizens. Let public spirit come forward and take hold.

Mr. Sam Wilson, of the New York Store, has planned a novel excursion trip on which he started yesterday evening. He has had a boat built by Mr. Frank Whittington of this city in which he proposes to start from Jamestown on Deep River and make a trip by boat to Wilmington. The boat is light and substantially built. The lumber of which it was made was brought from New York. Mr. Wilson will take a friend with him, and a tent and camping outfit will be carried and the nights will be spent on shore.

TO THE LADIES—All who have promised contributions of cakes, fruit, &c., to the lawn party to be given at the Court House green will please send them to Mrs. Gorrell's store. Those who have promised milk, sugar and eggs will send them to Mr. Thom's store early on Thursday morning.

WOMEN'S FASHIONS.

For one THE CHRONICLE will deplore the day when women will appear in wearing apparel, and vice versa. Nothing can take the place of their own becoming mode of dress and any innovation or change to the masculine mode is one we shall regret to see. It makes them unwomanly. The statement is made that the wearing of male attire is growing in favor with the ladies of Paris, and an exchange says that "as the fashions started there soon become the rule of America, it is more than probable that the women of the two republics will keep pace with each other in the adoption of this innovation." So far as America is concerned we trust not. We feel sure our women have courage enough to preserve their self-respect and will not follow or be led by these wild notions of French fanatics.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Fashion is a curious thing, and we have lived long enough to learn that people's notions of what is pretty and becoming can undergo wonderful changes in a short time. When a new fashion is started by the women the majority of men may regard it as an absurd innovation, wanting in taste and beauty, and feel, as we have often felt, during our short life, that they can never become reconciled to it, but the ladies, with a supreme indifference to the likes or dislikes of the male biped, go on with the new-fangled notion; it becomes more general, ladies whom you never dreamed could be induced to adopt it, are found complacently wearing it in public, and the first you know you find yourself inquiring whether, after all, it is not very nice and a more becoming mode than anything heretofore in vogue. Now why is this? Is it because one gradually becomes accustomed to seeing it and naturally prefers a familiar thing, or is it simply because there is a woman in it; and, if the latter be a solution, would man learn to admire any kind of a garb that might be generally adopted by woman? It may be so. We have a very distinct recollection of the foot-gear "reform" which was inaugurated some ten or twelve years ago, both as to shoes and stockings. The newspapers exclaimed against the French high heels and declared that they would work eternal destruction to the girls' spinal columns, but the fashion had its run, and is still on. Then the question as to the correct color of stockings, it seemed, never would be definitely settled. They changed from white to a sort of cream color, then gray and light blue, red stripes that ran around, then blue and brown stripes that ran around the same way; next came all collors of stripes that ran up and down, and, before the stripe mania ended, it had resolved itself into checks or plaids, others were elaborately and beautifully embroidered in silk, and it required as much money to get one pair of these stockings as it would to buy an ordinary suit of clothes. The stripe craze was succeeded by solid colors, beginning with deep red, which was considered by many as "simply awful," the style then ran quickly from red to brown, and the climax of preposterous absurdity was reached when black—coal black—was declared the correct thing, and a cold shiver ran through man's anatomy. You know how it affected you then; how do you feel about it to-day? A female who appears in any other color excites only your commiseration or disgust. Our brother of the Chronicle will find that our women, like all the women of the civilized world, will follow the fashion, and in the end, he will endorse them.

Color Line Among the Foresters.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—There was a long and animate discussion in the subsidiary High Court of Foresters yesterday over the report of the delegates to the last meeting of the High Court in England. It seems the English or larger branch of the order admits males of all colors, but the Foresters in the United States will not accept colored people. The English branch of the organization now attempts to control the admission of colored people. This has the effect of stirring up the delegates in the convention, and hours were taken up yesterday with stirring speeches, breathing defiance to the dictates of the English high court. The trouble may end in the secession of the sub-high from the high court.

The Norfolk Mystery.

NORFOLK, August 15.—As the body has not shown up at Ocean View and various matters have come to light, the supposition now is that Thomas H. Hardy has not suicided at all, but has left the city to avoid business troubles. It is said at his home that he carried with him all his money and valuables and extra clothing. His most intimate friends do not think him dead, and believe the letter left in his room stating that he intended to drown himself at Ocean View was written to mislead those who might busy themselves instituting inquiries as to his whereabouts.

If you wish to restore the blood to your wasted cheek, and so improve your health that plumpness and strength will succeed emaciation and debility, purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This remedy will benefit you more surely and speedily than any other.

The tonic and alterative properties of Ayer's Sarsaparilla are too well known to require the specious aid of any exaggerated or fictitious certificate. Witnesses of the marvelous cures effected by this preparation are to-day living in every city and hamlet of the land.

Grand Clearing Sale at Brown's.

It pays better to close out goods for less than they are worth before the season is out than to carry them over till next year when the styles will be old and the goods hard to sell at any price. Knowing this to be the case we have made a sweeping reduction in the prices of our whole line of Summer Dress Goods. We are going to sell these goods and it is your own fault if you miss a bargain. Dress Goods sold at 10 and 12 1-2 cents we have marked down to 7 1-2 cents, goods sold at 15 and 20 cents reduced to 12 1-2 cents. Twenty-five cent goods to 15 cents. Forty cent goods to 25 cents and so on through the line. We shall soon begin to put in a very large stock of Fall and Winter goods, and shall need every available inch of space in the store to display them. Until the new goods begin to arrive we are going to offer such bargains all through the house that the forty balls of our Elevated Cash Railway will be kept moving lively all the time. We want to get the store as nearly empty as possible by September 1st and transform as much of the stock as we can into cash before going North for new goods.

We have just received one more case, the last we shall receive this season, of those very popular five cent Lawns. Our fine of Tickings, 10-4 Sheetings, Pillow Casings, Bleached and Brown Domestic, Table Linens, Napkins, Towels, Curtain Goods, &c., is very complete. We have placed on our "Job Counters" a lot of Dress Trimmings of various kinds which will be closed out at less than half price. Our 25 cent Bustle is the best in the world. Ladies who try it once say they will have no other.

We have just opened a line of the celebrated Salem Jeans and Cassimeres.

Our trade during the Spring and Summer season of 1887 has been very fair in spite of the supposed scarcity of money, and we owe sincere thanks to our customers and the public for the liberal patronage given us, and we hope to be able to serve them even better in future than we have in past seasons.

Respectfully,
SAMPLE S. BROWN.

A VALUABLE PRIZE

For every one in G. WILL ARMFIELD'S liberal offering of Sateens, Gingham and Batista at 7 1-2 cents, former price 15 cents. All the best grades of Calico 5 cents except Simpson's. Piquas that were worth 10 and 12 1-2 cents, now 7 cents. Twenty styles patterns of wool Worst-d at 7 1-2 cents, former price 15 to 20 cents.

Will not every one think they have secured a prize to buy goods at such low prices? Room must be made for fall purchases that are now arriving and for this reason all summer goods are offered at correspondingly low prices. The goods referred to are special job lots.

Yates Brothers, REAL ESTATE AGENTS, Merchandise Brokers, AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.
