Some Testimonials.

Goose Grease Liniment Co., Greensboro, N. C.: Dear Sirs:—I sprained my back last July so bad that I could hardly walk. I got a bottle of your "Goose Grease Liniment" and after a few rubbings I was entirely cured, and have not been troubled since. I consider it the best liniment I ever used. A. MAX, The Clothier, Durham, N. C.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Nov. 21, 1896. Goose Grease Liniment Co., Greensboro, N. C.: Gentlemen:—We used some of your liniment on a badly cut hand of one of our pressmen. When applied not a finger of the wounded hand could be moved. In five hours he could use them and there was no soreness left. As a liniment it is ahead of anything we have tried. REECE & ELAM, Job Printers.

Rice's Goose Grease Liniment is always sold under a guarantee. I have sold it for the past two years and find that it gives satisfaction.

WALKED INTO THE TRAP.

Abductors Who Held a Boy for Ransom Cleverly Caught.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Johnny Camvo, who was kidnapped from his parents by unknown parties while playing in the street several days ago, has been found. He was returned to his parents through the efforts of private detectives and newspaper reporters this morning. He had been abducted by his uncle, Joseph Hardy, and his associate, H. G. Blake, and both have been arrested. They had agreed to deliver the boy at a newspaper office today for twenty-five hundred dollars and when the boy was produced their arrest promptly followed.

Hardy, it appears, owed the boy's father a sum of money which the latter demanded and this probably led to the kidnapping. Hardy was known as a man of bad character and has for some time been suspected of complicity in the abduction. The boy was being held for three thousand dollars ransom. A lynching would have followed the return of the boy if the police had not interfered.

ON THE SILVER QUESTION.

England's Reply to Monetary Commission May not be Favorable.

MOBILIZING BRITISH FORCES.

THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND TROOPS ON INDIAN FRONTIER.

No Signs of Afrids in Khyber Pass--The Monguls Submit Without a Struggle.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

SIMLA, India, Aug. 19.—The rapid mobilization of British troops in India and the activity of the military authorities generally in pushing heavy reinforcements forward with all possible dispatch is regarded as assuring the safety of the Indian frontier, no matter how wide spread may be the rising against British rule.

Thirty-five thousand British troops are now on the border. News from the frontier is more re-assuring. All is quiet at Shab Radr.

There are no signs yet of Afrids in the Khyber Pass. The Kurram Valley is also quiet.

General Blood advanced nine miles along the river in the Swat valley without finding any signs of an enemy. The monguls have submitted to the British authorities without a struggle.

JUST FROM CUBA.

A Citizen From Norfolk Paints the Situation as it is.

Few men live to tell the thrilling experiences that Thomas Raymon has endured. He is one of a band of Cuban patriots who made several filibustering expeditions from southern waters, and he has just returned from the little island, driven away by the fortunes of war.

Many were the difficulties which the man suffered during the past few months. His little schooner was forced to continually change her appearance to avoid the vigilance of the detectives. On one day she would be known as the Tom and Jerry and when next seen she would answer a hail as the Sarah Jane. Again she would show the name Jack and Gill. Finally, she succeeded in landing a cargo of munitions for the patriots at Mayensi. As she was unloading her cargo she discovered a Spanish cruiser approaching, but her fleetness enabled her to escape; not, however, until after she had left Raymon and several of his companions on the shore. They, seeing that there was no chance of escape from the island, enlisted in the insurgent army.

From that time, early in January, until the 30th of June, the men underwent all sorts of suffering. Raymon was finally taken prisoner and sentenced to pay the death penalty. He was taken to Cabanas to be executed, but while there his case came to the ears of Consul-General Lee, who secured his release on the condition that he would forever leave the island.

This Raymon did, arriving in New York on the 30th of June. He stopped in this city on his way home to Norfolk and he told the following story: He had conducted three expeditions successfully before he was captured. He engaged in many fights and experienced all the hardships of the guerilla warfare. He is very confident of the ultimate success of the insurgent cause. He says that the Spaniards enter battle in a very melancholy manner, whereas the Cubans fight with desperation.

The diseases which are prevalent in the island, he says, affect the Spaniards very greatly and they are dying like flies daily. They are buried in heaps in trenches as the number of the dead is too great for them to receive separate interments.

Raymon is a citizen of Norfolk, but he lived in this city about ten years ago. He is well acquainted with several of the older citizens of Newport News, among the number Colonel C. M. Braxton and Mr. T. H. Gordon. Raymon left last evening on the steamer Louise for his home.—Newport News Correspondence of the Norfolk Landmark.

The National Woman's Veteran Relief Union met this afternoon.

SWAPPING HONORS.

M. Faure to Visit St. Petersburg—A Handsome Fountain.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—Among the magnificent decorations prepared for the occasion of the visit of M. Faure to St. Petersburg is a very handsome fountain, constructed in the middle of the historic Kasan square. It is destined to remain as a permanent memorial of the visit of the President of the French Republic to the Czar of all the Russias.

President Faure takes with 300 medals in gold, all of which have been especially struck for presentation to the Russian guard of honor, which will attend the President during his stay in Russia, and the various Russian officials who will be in attendance upon the chief magistrate of France.

These medals bear on one side the profile of an effigy of the Republic and the words, "Republique Francais;" on the obverse side of the medals a wreath of laurels surrounding the date, "August, 1897."

Money While You Wait.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 18.—The steamer Alki arrived this morning from Dyea, Alaska.

This afternoon Willis Thorp was handed a letter by a man who came in on the Alki from Dyea. It came over land, and was written by Ed. Thorp, saying that he had cleaned up $130,000 in eight weeks, and that he was coming home on the steamer Portland, which is due in Seattle August 26th. Thorp left one year ago, having gone north with a drove of cattle.

The Alki brings news that a few miners have crossed the divide. Several hundred men will winter at Dyea and go down the Yukon in the spring. The Alki leaves again tomorrow for the north.

The body of Dwight Fowler, a well known young man of Seattle, who was drowned at Skaguay, was brought in on the Alki.
