INQUIRE WITHIN.

Whatever may be the shortcomings of the "American Protective Tariff League," it can never be urged against it that it is short on that peculiarly American virtue denominated cheek. We are just in receipt of "Circular No. 112"—it would seem to be a continued story—which goes on to set forth the many virtues of a new edition de luxe of the Dingley tariff law and winds up by saying "This book should be of great service in answering all questions which may be submitted to you." Truly we should like to have a pocket edition. Among the many properties and uses of that measure we had not learned that it was an up-to-date encyclopedia and oracle all in one. The poet was manifestly correct when he said of it:

"Perhaps its sections may contain
Some interesting notes,
On safe routes to the pole and how
The Keely motor notes."

If our readers are struck with evidences of budding omniscience in our columns, they will please attribute it to the proper source. We shall be able to tell all comers now how "section 22" got into the bill and we shall get its own version of how it will wipe out that abysmal deficit. We shall be able to tell with equal facility who will be first mayor of Greater New York, what became of Luertger's spouse and whether it was "The Lady or the Tiger."

But the pure pellucid gall of the League wells up in all its rich limpidity in the postscript to "Circular No. 12" where we are assured that the League will be under "additional obligations" if we will do a few dollars worth of free advertising of this marvelous book which we are assured sells, in the language of the circus man, for "only twenty-five cents." If by accident any of our readers should not know everything they will appreciate this "last chance" to remove the blemish.

In view of President McKinley's declaration that congress will ratify the annexation treaty Ex-queen Lil-Houkalani may be pardoned for harboring a few choice regrets for the good days of Grover Cleveland.

The reports of insurgent atrocities in Cuba indicate that General Weyler has been driven to the final desperate expedient of subsidizing the imagination of some American newspaper reporter.

The Sultan has grown languid under the amusements of treating with the powers and bowstringing an occasional vizier and has returned to his first love, massacring Christians in Armenia.

MR. MCKINLEY must be possessed of a very vindictive soul if he cannot forgive Thomas Brackett Reed that small sized presidential boom that he carried to St. Louis with him last year.

SO FAR the mayoralty nominations thrown upon the waters in New York have a good, stout string tied to them.

SENATOR BUTLER announces in his paper today that "the few black sheep will be driven into outer darkness." This may be presumed to settle beyond all cavil the color of Otho's fleece.

The report that a London company will put a trolley system in Dublin is a new evidence of England's ineradicable hatred of the Irish.

GENERAL WEYLER will be known in history as the astute commander who added the type-writer to the munitions of war.

GENERAL NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Sixty-eight fourth-class postmasters were appointed yesterday.

The new Diamond Shoal lightship is expected to be in position by Thursday.

Morris Grovin, of Brooklyn, died after living six weeks with a broken neck.

New York glucose dealers have begun a fight against the recently organized trust in that community.

The post office at Buchanan, Botetourt county, Va., was broken into and robbed of $100 worth of stamps.

A convention of mayors and city councilmen assembled yesterday at Columbus, Ohio, about 160 delegates being present.

A party of Georgia colored people, who went to Liberia, have reached Liverpool on the way back in a destitute condition.

Henry George declines to state whether he will accept or not the nomination of the silver men for mayor of Greater New York.

The monetary commission may not be able to submit its recommendations as to the revision of the currency system before the middle of December.

The Massachusetts democratic state convention met at Worcester, nominated Geo. F. Williams for governor and indorsed the Chicago platform.

Deputy de Lome, the Spanish minister, returned unexpectedly to Washington, and his visit is believed to have bearing on developments at Madrid.

It is announced in Paris that M. Jules Cambon, governor-general of Algeria, will succeed M. Jules Patenotre as French ambassador to Washington.

Dr. B. L. Reize, who experimented in boiling human bodies in caustic potash, testified for the defense at the Luertger murder trial, at Chicago, yesterday.

The interstate commerce commission rules that the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce law applies only when the traffic is over the same line and in the same direction.

James Roche, M. P. for East Kerry who is in British Columbia, says he has assurance from Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Balfour that an international bimetallic conference will be called at Brussels in May.

President Faure, of France, sent a message to Emperor William of Germany expressing sympathy with the German government in the sinking of a torpedo-boat and the drowning of the young Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and eight of the crew. The German government returned a message of thanks.

A dispatch from Warsaw says it has been discovered that the principal street of Warsaw was tunneled shortly before the recent visit of the Czar to that city. The conspirators, whose design was evidently to cause an explosion as the Czar passed over the tunnel, became apprehensive of a collapse of the roadway. They called in some Polish masons to build supports and the masons informed the police. One hundred and thirty arrests followed, including four disguised German officers, who had been active in the tunneling.

Cuban Insurgents Lose Heavily.
HAVANA, Sept. 28.—It is semi-officially announced that in an engagement between the Spanish troops and the insurgents at the Tranquilidad plantation, in the district of Manzanillo, province of Santiago de Cuba, the latter lost 32 men killed and had 43 wounded.
