"CRYSTAL WEDDING BELLS,"

Fifteenth Anniversary of the Wedding Dr. and Mrs. Grissom,

ELEGANT AND TASTEFUL AFFAIR

About Two Hundred Guests Attended and the Presents Were Beautiful and Costly-The Decorations.

One of the events of the celebration of the crystal wedding of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Grissom, at their spacious home, on West market street last night.

Four hundred invitations had been issued, 275 to Greensboro people. At least 200 guests were present during the hours. A number were in attendance from a distance, as Dr. and Mrs. Grissom are well known throughout the state.

Those who received with the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Odell, Prof. and Mrs. Dred Peacock and Mrs. Swindell, of Raleigh; Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Captain Walsh and Miss Cozart received in the hall.

Refreshments were in charge of Mesdames Small, Trogdon, Propst Crawford and Weaver and the refreshment room was in charge of Mr. Frank Boyles and Miss Bessie Alford The refreshments were elegant and the service above criticism.

The house was beautifully decorated throughout. The reception room was decorated with palms and ferns, the music room with chrysanthemums and roses, the parlor with cut flowers while the dining room was a perfect chrysanthemums arranged in tasteful

The presents in cut glass made a magnificent array that it would be impossible to describe. One room was given up to them and it was full of tables and the tables were full of presents. The serviceable and the ornamental were there in profusion.

The Brockman orchestra supplied the final requisite for the function, the best of music.

Throughout it was one of those affairs where nothing has been omitted that could add to the enjoyment of guests, and truly "all went merrily as a marriage bell."

CRYSTAL WEDDING BELLS.

Written for Dr. and Mrs. Grissom on Their 15th Wedding Anniversary.

READ BY MISS ALTA COZART. Clear crystal bells, with merry chime, Are ringing soft as Runic rhyme A glad and joyous wedding time.

Now autumn glories crown the wood And beauty mid the solitude Is regnant, in delightful mood;

The whispering wind among the trees The flowery fragrance on the breeze Are charming in such days as these; The sparkle of the midnight blue,

Where stars are marshalling in view; Flings back the light of diamond dew While Dian, in her silver boat Through circumambient airs afloat,

Seems bending down to catch the note Of the singing bells, sweet wedding bells—

Oh! what a story from them wells, Those heavenly-sounding crystal bells-A tale of glad and sunny years Of radiant joys and saddening tears,

Of lights and shadows, hopes and fears. A decade and a half gone by-And still a fair and beaming sky Bends cloudless o'er, no sorrow nigh. May all the coming days and hours

Be bright, with gay and festal flowers, Eternal blooms, 'mid amaranth bow-And when the silver wedding bells

Their tale of life and duty tells

Foith still shall say, sweet, wedding In twilight years, with bells of gold, The same dear story shall be told-

The song of love, that ne'er grows old With best wishes and congratulations, EL. D. H.

THE SMASHER AT WORK.

A Store and Two Passenger Coaches Robbed Last Night.

When the clerk at S. G. Hodgin & Co.'s, on South Elm, reached the store this morning to open up for business he found one of the large plate glass in the front smashed. Inside the large show window there was found a brick and broken fragments of Investigation revealed the fact that a heavy pair of Scotch bottom shoes had been taken from the window, also one shoe belonging to a pair of tans. There were fresh tracks at the corner of the building, in the soft dirt, made after last night's rain, just in the edge of a pile brick bats. The rascal was evidently standing near the corner so that he could jump behind the building when he threw the brick. The police were notified and are now working on the case.

ern, standing near the coal chute, were also entered last night, and the ax and saw taken from each. These tools were secured by smashing the glass front of the cases in which they were kept.

An extra large number of tramps were reported in the coal chute vicinity last night, and it may be that a member of the "profesh" got that pair of shoes, and took the odd shoe along for a wooden legged fried. We say this may be so; but it is hardly a fair proposition to say that there is even a possibility of connecting a tramp with the theft of an axe or a saw.

TAMMANY IS FRIGHTENED. All The Talk About Big Majorities Pure Bluff.

A member of the Executive Committee of Tammany Hall has written a letter to a gentleman of this city in which he says that Tammany men are by no means certain of today's result. There is a great deal of talk about majorities of sixty and seventy thousand but that is for effect only. He says Tammany leaders do not expect to win by more than six or seven thousand and will be pleased to pull through by that margin. He adds that from all indications the only thing that can save Van Wyck from defeat will be Tracy votes. Tammany men hope that when it becomes manifest that Tracy can not be elected a a number of his supporters who are tired of the reform administration will vote for Van Wyck on the quiet in order to insure the defeat of Seth Low. This shows that the odds in favor of the Tammany man cannot be taken as indicating the relative strength of the candidates. It is as yet evidently any body's fight and only tonight's returns can show who is the victor.

POLITICAL TRAGEDY INKENTUCKY

Frank Egbert Riddled With Bullets. Others Fatally Wounded.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 2.-A riot in which Frank Egbert, of the Frankfort fire department, was riddled with bullets, and Deputy Sheriff "Tes" Deakins, John Smith and Walter Gaines were fatally wounded, occuran attempt on the life of "Ren" Marshall.

These political workers about midnight saw Marshall and others heading a fight, started to the country with a load of negroes. Egbert loaded with liquor, started in pursuit as Marshall and Smith were returning from the country. Egbert fired, wounding Smith. Marshall's friends and the friends of Smith armed themselves and started to hunt Egbert. Egbert and Gaines came down the street brandishing revolvers and firing recklessly, meeting the opposing force and some deputy marshals with the above results.

Facts Worth Studying.

If the Southern Stock-Mutual pays no larger dividends than the 20 per cent. now paid, and the business increases during the next seven years in the same ratio it has increased during the last three years, the actual saving for the ten years to policy-holders in North and South Carolina will be $194,822.00, and to the policy-holders in Greensboro alone, $26,237.00. Besides this the Company's assets (reinsurance reserve and surplus) represented by still larger figures will be kept at home and invested in the state. What better investment can the public make than by upholding an institu-tion tike this?
