REPORTS OF EDUCATIONAL WORK

Representatives of the Various Societies, Papers, etc., Connected With the Work of the Conference are Presented—Notes.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 18.—The second session of the Conference opened at 9 o'clock this morning, Bishop Key in the chair.

Religious service was conducted by Rev. Frank Siler, a recent transfer from the Missouri Conference.

The Conference was called to order and the Secretary read the names of absentees at the first session. The minutes of the first session were read and approved.

Rev. W. D. Akers, of the Holston Conference, Dr. T. H. Law, agent of American Bible Society, and D. M. Smith, agent of the Methodist Publishing House, were introduced to the body.

Second question was called: "Who remain on trial?" Walter L. Nicholson, Gilbert T. Rowe, Chas. A. Wood, R. S. Nowie, having passed their examination, were continued on trial and advanced to the class of the second year.

Geo. J. Owen, Seymour Taylor, and Edworth N. Crowder, having failed to pass an approved examination, were continued in the class of the first year. Plato T. Durham was discontinued at his own request that he might attend school. Victor L. Marsh was not present to pass his examination, being a student at Randolph-Macon College, and was continued on trial.

Rev. T. F. Glenn, of the Holston Conference, N. M. Lawrence, Supt. of Oxford Orphan Asylum, Dr. J. C. Kilgo, President of Trinity College, Dr. T. N. Ivey, of the North Carolina Advocate and A. A. Jones, President of the Asheville Female College, were introduced to the Conference.

Dr. E. E. Hoss, editor of the Nashville Advocate, was introduced to the Conference and spoke at length in the interest of the paper he represents.

The Secretary read a report from President Peacock, of the Greensboro Female College, showing a very gratifying condition of the school. The number of students at the College is larger at present than it has been in several years.

Dr. J. C. Kilgo read a report of Trinity College.

Dr. T. H. Law, Superintendent of the American Bible Society for North and South Carolina, presented the cause he represents to the Conference.

After announcements were made, the Conference adjourned to meet tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

NOTES ON THE CONFERENCE.

The delegates to the General Conference were elected today at 11 o'clock.

Rev. J. H. Fitzgerald will soon leave for his new field of labor at Durango, Mexico. The Conference hates to part with so valuable a man. He will do fine work anywhere.

The Epworth League Board will hold its anniversary tonight in Central church at 7:30 o'clock. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. Frank Siler and Dr. T. N. Ivey.

Dr. E. E. Hoss preached a fine sermon in Central church this evening at 3:30 o'clock.

W. C. T. U. Art Display.

It has often been said that a postponed entertainment is never a success, but the ladies of the W. C. T. U. hope to prove this statement a mistake. On the 9th and 10th of December they will have not only an exhibit of 50 beautiful engravings, but also of paintings of all kinds, and embroidery. Ladies in other towns have written, asking that they may exhibit paintings and embroidery, and with the talent of our own home artists displayed, the people of Greensboro may expect a splendid exhibition. Mrs. W. H. OSBORN.

NEWSY NOTES

From Our Nearby Sister City, High Point—A Fire.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., Nov. 19, '97.

This morning about 2:30 o'clock the peaceful slumbers of our citizens were disturbed by the shooting of guns and the blowing of whistles, the usual alarms given for fire, and in a short time hundreds of voices were yelling fire. The building was what is known as the College, which has been used for school purposes for many years, and was, before the war, the leading educational institution in this section of the state. During the war the building was used as a hospital for Confederate soldiers. After the war the school was re-established, but proved unprofitable and the building was then converted into a hotel, but this, too, was soon abandoned. Four years ago Prof. F. M. Weatherly leased it for school purposes, which continued until last June, when the graded school was established. The building, for the past twelve years, has belonged to Geo. T. Leach, who was using it for a residence at the time of the fire. The insurance is unknown.

The festival given last night by the Presbyterian church was a success in every particular. The refreshments were served in excellent style and were greatly in demand.

Rev. J. O. Alderman will preach in the Baptist church Sunday—morning and night.

The walls, encasing the boiler at the Alma furniture company gave way this morning, causing a temporary shut down.

Extensive preparations are being made in anticipation of conference next week.

RHODES MERRYMAKERS.

To Play Three Nights Engagement at The Academy of Music.

Rhodes' Merry-makers commenced a week's engagement at the Academy last evening presenting as their opening bill a rollicking farce comedy in four acts entitled "A Midnight Frolic." The piece from its many surprising and ludicrous situations and in the hands of such competent people as those engaged in its presentation could not fail to give satisfaction while as a laugh producer it proved an entire success. One of the largest audiences of the season was in attendance and laughter and applause were in evidence throughout the performance. All the players were good and especially was this the case with Pete Raymond, who in the character of Sam Elewyn, a married man, was very fine; Holmes as Fred Bellamy, A. M. M. Blackaler as Captain Katsikill and Nat Leffing as Basco Blithers Professor of Penmanship, gave a good account of themselves and were well received.

The fourth act consisted of a number of side-splitting specialties singing and dancing, baton twirling by Frank B. Rhodes, champion drum major of the world formerly of Cleveland's minstrels, and with handsome stage setting and calcium effects was one of the most attractive features of the show while a medley by the company closed one of the very best performances ever given by popular price company in this city. Tonight "A Factory Girl," will be presented and all lovers of clever acting and wholesome comedy should not fail to attend these performances as The Merry-makers are deserving of their heartiest support.—Petersburg Index-Appal.

At Academy of Music here, Nov. 25th, 26th and 27th. Popular prices, 10, 20 and 30cts.

Oyster Supper Last Night.

THE TELEGRAM congratulates the good ladies of Centenary church on the success of their oyster supper at the Groome building last night. The attendance was very good, considering the fact that the fire company had an oyster supper at their engine house at the same time. The receipts amounted to about $40.

The refreshments were unanimously adjudged to be first-class. Right here we desire to add that seldom, if ever, have we tasted or seen finer oysters than were served there. Upon inquiry we learned that they were from our own North Carolina waters, and were furnished from the cultivated oyster beds of Mr. C. S. Wallace, at Morehead City. They were delicious, large, fat and juicy, far superior to those usually served at oyster saloons.

There was a good deal of merriment created over the apple contest—eating an apple suspended by a string. Frank Smith, son of Mr. I. N. Smith, succeeded in eating the apple and was awarded the free supper.

GEN. WEYLER SQUARES HIMSELF

The Great Cloak-Makers Strike Officially Closed in Favor of the Strikers—Dr. Nansen Will Not Explore Further.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

San Francisco, Nov. 19.—A southwest hurricane is raging along the coast from Eureka to Cape Flattery, having moved from Oregon. The steamers State of California, President, Umatilla, and Tuckee are overdue. The Humboldt, after considerable trouble succeeded in reaching port at Eureka.

WEYLER EXPLAINS HIMSELF.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Madrid, Nov. 19.—The statements made by General Weyler to Captain-General Gamarra upon his arrival at Corunna yesterday are declared official circles here to be satisfactory to the government. It is improbable that any proceedings will be taken against him on account of his acts and utterances while in Cuba.

GARMENT MAKERS WIN.

New York, Nov. 19.—The largest strike among garment makers that has ever occurred in this city was officially closed in favor of the strikers today at the cloakmakers headquarters. Eight thousand men and girls who have been on a strike since midsummer started to work again.

HAS NO PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

Milwaukee, Nov. 19.—Dr. Nansen, the Arctic explorer, who is lecturing here, says the report sent out from Christiania that his next arctic expedition has been completed in its arrangements, is not true. He has, as yet, no plans for the future.

BRUTALLY TREATED BY OFFICERS

Handcuffed and Jerked About Until a Blood Vessel was Ruptured.

The Winston Journal gives a lively account of an arrest in that city of ex-Chief of Police Bradford. Bradford, it seems, had beat a fakir at his own game and the fakir had him arrested. He was bound over to court in a $25 bond. He was sent out, escorted by two officers, to secure bondsmen. His treatment is thus described by the Journal:

They all started to McArthur & Zeigler's livery stables. Passing by Salmon's saloon Bradford told White and Frazier that he believed he would go in and call McArthur up over the phone. The officers uttered some oaths and said he should do nothing of the kind while in their charge. They at once put the chains on Bradford's wrists and began to pull and drag him down the alley toward Liberty street. One pulled him forward and the other pulled him back, lacerating and bruising his wrists badly and in fact severing one of the blood vessels in his left arm. On the way down the amount of the bond was tendered in money two or three times by two or three different parties, but intent on taking their victim to jail they paid no attention to the tendered cash bond.

In this horrible and revolting way they reached the jail to find a big crowd of representative citizens awaiting them. The crowd guarded the jail door, determined not to let them incarcerate the man whom they had learned to love because of his long faithful services as a public officer. The officers were thus forced to accept the bond, and forty dollars in cash was put up as collateral for a twenty-five dollar bond.

The scene at the jail was a wild one. The crowd was desperate and ready to do almost anything. White drew a gun, when surrounded by indignant citizens, and threatened to use it.

A COLORED TRAGEDY.

Shot His Intended and Then Put a Bullet into Himself.

By wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Edward D. Hayes, a young colored medical student shot and instantly killed himself at the home of his sweetheart on Elm street, north west this morning, after wounding the girl who had promised to become his wife.

STRONG ARGUMENT

In Favor of Good Roads—Cheaper Than Freight Rates.

The public generally are becoming more interested on the subject of good roads and road making. Read the following from a Davidson correspondent of the Charlotte News. If cotton can be hauled with teams cheaper than the railroads can haul it, why not apply the same course of reasoning to all farm products?

With good roads, such as Mecklenburg has, the cost to the farmer, of marketing his products, would be diminished more than one-half. With the same team now required to carry two bales of cotton to market, four and five can be easily carried.

Owing to the rate of freight on the railroad the merchants here are having their cotton hauled to Charlotte on wagons; and owing to the good roads of Mecklenburg, the owners of the team can afford to haul cotton cheaper than the railroad company. This is another object lesson in favor of good public roads. It is also a pretty strong argument in favor of "low tariff for revenue." But that is too big a subject for me to tackle here. In fact, I have found out that I understand the tariff question just about as well as the colored preacher did eternally: "My colored friends, you don't understand the meaning of that word nor me either hardly." But we have plenty of political and religious critics who think they understand both these terms. When they grow a little older and learn a little more they will find that they don't know quite so much.

BUTLER'S LITTLE BLUFF.

He Fooled Some of the People, But Not Quite All of Them.

Senator Butler yesterday worked a nice little bluff on a crowd at the depot waiting for the morning train. The Senator was going off on the east bound Southern train. There had been much said about pass-toters and some people were wondering what the Senator was going to do about it. He came in hurriedly with his bag, stepped up to the Southern Railway ticket window, took out a roll of money, handed over a $5 bill to the agent with a request to change it. While the agent was doing this the Senator shifted some other change from one pocket to another; which to the crowd behind him, who could hear nothing of what passed, looked like he was putting a ticket in his pocket. Then he raked in the $5 in change, picked up his bag and hurried toward the train.

"And so the Senator is buying a ticket," said several in the crowd—but he did nothing of the kind—he rode on his pass.

Who next?—News and Observer.

STYLISH WEDDING.

Ex-Congressman Settle, and Miss Potter of Wilmington.

At high noon yesterday St. James Episcopal church was the scene of the most brilliant and fashionable wedding that ever occurred in Wilmington, says the Messenger.

Hon. Thomas Settle, of Greensboro, was the groom and Miss Eliza A. Potter, one of the loveliest and most popular members of Wilmington society, step-daughter of Colonel John Wilder Atkinson, was the bride.

The church decorations were very handsome and consisted of palms and white chrysanthemums. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Strange, the rector.

The bridal couple left Wilmington at 7:15 last night for Washington and from there will take a northern tour.

A BUNGLED EXECUTION.

A Murderer Roasted Instead of Killed by the Current.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—Albert Frantz, the murderer of Bessie Little, was electrocuted early this morning. Owing to the bad adjustment of the apparatus, Frantz was not killed until the current had been turned on five times.

Smoke arose from his body and the room was filled with the odor of the burning flesh. Frantz declared his innocence in his last appeal to the governor.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN LONDON

The Fire is Beyond Control And Spreading.

DAMAGE TEN MILLION DOLLARS

The Whole Fire Department Summoned and Panic Prevails—Flames Sweeping Toward General Post Office Under Strong Wind.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Nov. 19.—The most extensive fire that London has had in ten years was started about one o'clock this afternoon in Oppenheimer's paper factory near Aldersgate street. The flames spread with great rapidity to Wells, Jewin and Hamsell streets and Nicholls square.

At three o'clock twenty large warehouses were burning and the fire was beyond control and spreading in all directions. The entire fire department has been summoned and a serious panic prevails in the sections surrounding the burning buildings.

The flames have already penetrated to within a short distance of the general post-office and a strong wind is blowing in that direction.

Four o'clock—The damage is now estimated at over two million pounds and the flames are not yet under control.

Five o'clock—More than fifty buildings have been burned. The fire is now checked on three sides but is still making progress northward in a wedge shaped line. The fire is supposed to have started from an explosion of gas in the warehouse on Hamsell street.

BY THE DYNAMITE ROUTE.

Mill Wrecked and Crops Destroyed by the Floods.

Wrightsville, Ga., Nov. 18.—The Cypress mills and milldam at this place were blown up with dynamite. The property is owned by W. G. Samons, a wealthy planter.

The mill was among the most valuable in South Georgia, and the mill pond covered near one hundred acres. A heavy charge of dynamite was exploded in the rock of the dam and the mill was destroyed by the flying stones.

The waters of the pond burst forth and inundated the low lands adjacent, ruining crops and sweeping away many cabins of negroes.

The pond was a renowned fishing resort, and the path of the flood is today marked by dead fish. There is no clue to the person that caused the explosion.

MRS. NACK'S STORIES CONFLICT.

It is Believed that She Knows Where Guldensuppe's Head is.

New York, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Nack now declines to talk on the Guldensuppe murder without the aid of an interpreter. The missing head is being searched for, and it is believed Mrs. Nack knows where it is. Her statement as to its disposition have been conflicting. She claims the discrepancies arose through her imperfect knowledge of English.

It is believed that the new trial will not extend beyond ten days from Monday, and it may be concluded within the week.

Particular attention has been given by the sheriff to the physical condition and medical history of the 160 talsmen summoned for jury selection.

Kalulani in Honolulu.

Honolulu, Nov. 11, via San Francisco, Nov. 18.—Princess Kaiulani's reception on November 9th was not flattering. Instead of the great demonstration that the government expected, only 400 or 500 persons were gathered at the pier, most of whom were whites. There were no shouts of welcome. Only one old Kanaka woman raised her voice in a chant of praise for the safe return of the Princess, but none of the other natives joined in.

Facts Worth Studying.

If the Southern Stock-Mutual pays no larger dividends than the 20 per cent. now paid, and the business increases during the next seven years in the same ratio, it has increased during the last three years, the actual saving for the ten years to policy-holders in North and South Carolina will be $194,822.00, and to the policy-holders in Greensboro alone, $26,237.00. Besides this the Company's assets (reinsurance reserve and surplus) represented by still larger figures will be kept at home and invested in the state. What better investment can the public make than by upholding an institution like this?
