THERE WERE MANY STILL.

In The Smith Country in The Land of Stokes,

THEY SHOOT STRAIGHT THERE.

The First Bloodless Raid Ever Made To That Country Took Place The Other Night.

Captain T. H. Vanderford of the revenue service is back in the city again and alive as usual. Not every man who has gone where Capt. Vanderford did has been equally fortunate.

On Monday night Capt. Vanderford left here and going up Stokesward was joined by Col. Chapman with a force of ten men, making eleven in all. This was just before day and before the birds were up the posse, booted and spurred, rode out into what is known as the "Smith country" in Stokes county. The Smith country ranks along with Shelton Laurel in Madison as being the most fertile moonshine territory in the State. There are many stills there. They mock the ol-factories of the raider on every breeze. And there is menace and danger in their breath.

The posse was acting on a straight tip and found the stills—flocks of them—but there were other warm tips out and the wary moonshiner had his share. Nestling cosily along the streams in a radius of two miles the raiders found eleven manufactories of the juice that biteth. But only three of them were in operation. The others were silent and cold. The owners had been warned. There were stills in plenty, but very few Smiths, though it was Smiths' country. Only six men were seen on the entire raid—lank mountaineers slouching here and there with eyes that were none too friendly. Not a man was captured on the raid and no resistance was offered to the raiders.

Brave men and true have ridden into the Smith country in days past and have not ridden back. They died with their boots on. No company of raiders ever ventured into that country before and returned without having heard the sharp bark of the long mountain rifle that shoots mighty straight. There was Murrow, a brave man, who rode into the country and gave battle royal to the 'shiners but his horse fell on him and he died. Lewis ventured there and was shot and Jim Smith had the same fortune. Before these there were many who went there and did not come back. Smiths' country has a bloody history.

Capt. Vanderford says that despite their number the stills up there make less illicit whiskey in a year than some registered distilleries do in this State in a month. That is food for thought.

Dear Sir:—I have just closed a week's engagement with the Lillian Tucker Co. You can assure your patrons that it is one of the very best repertoire companies that has visited the south. It is the best I have played in years. Little Ethel Dyffrn, of the Dyffryn Trio, is the brightest little tot of a singer I ever saw, and she will please your lady patrons wonderfully. You can tell your people anything you like that is good about the show. Very truly,

ON HIS WAY TO KLONDYKE.

A North Carolinian Writes From Tacoma, Washington.

A letter was received here yesterday from Mr. Isaac M. Tull, the young man from Kinston who was here Christmas on his way to the Klondyke. He is now at Tacoma, Washington, and writes:

"I shall get ready to leave here on or about February 15th. People are starting earlier than was expected. About 1,050 went up last week. It will be better for those who now come to bring a good pair of dogs with them. All the best dogs have been bought up here. It doesn't seem to make much difference what kind they are; shaggy setters, I think, will answer every purpose. Tacoma is the best place to secure an outfit and start from."—News-Observer.

Mr. Tull, it will be remembered, spent some time here, leaving for the Klondyke as stated at the time.

JUDGE HAMILTON G. EWART

Nomination Sent to the Senate This Afternoon

ALL OPPOSITION IS WITHDRAWN

Appointment Will be Favorably Reported by Judiciary Committee and Ewart Will be Confirmed

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, Jan. 27.—The President this afternoon sent to the senate the nomination of Hamilton Glover Ewart, of North Carolina, to be United States district judge for the Western District of North Carolina.

All opposition to the appointment of Ewart has been withdrawn and there is no doubt that it will be favorably reported upon by the judiciary committee of the senate and Judge Ewart will be promptly confirmed.

Judge Ewart is about 45 years old. He was born in South Carolina and removed when a child with his widowed mother to Hendersonville. His mother married there a Mr. Rippley. Shortly after the war he was registered in bankruptcy, which place he filled ably. For a number of years he practiced law at Hendersonville. He ran against Thos. D. Johnson for Congress some ten years ago and was elected from a district normally democratic, by 900 majority. He served only one term. He is one of the finest orators of his party in this State, is of irreproachable personal character and is popular among his acquaintances. He is said to have a good legal mind, though he has been a politician rather than a lawyer. He is now judge of the Western Criminal Court Circuit to which place he was chosen in 1896.

UNCONSCIOUS FIFTEEN MONTHS.

Case of Suspended Animation Made Known by a Physician.

According to evidence introduced before Recorder Goff yesterday Wm. Scott, former employee in the trunk shop under the Astor House, has been unconscious for fifteen months as the result of an assault.

Scott was injured on October 20th, 1896. His alleged assailants were soon afterward indicted, but it was necessary to determine the extent of Scott's injuries before they could be brought to trial.

Yesterday an affidavit was handed up to the Recorder made by Dr. W. L. Ricard of Brooklyn, who has studied Scott's case carefully.

"So far as I have been able to ascertain," the physician said in his affidavit, "this is the strangest case of suspended animation on record. I do not believe that the injured man will ever recover consciousness; neither do I see that it is possible for him to live much longer. Still, Scott has surprised every one by living as long as he has."

The men who are accused of assaulting Scott were employees of the department of public works named Clark and Schlesinger.—N. Y. Sun.

Mr. Sherwood in Pittsburg.

Mr. Wm. H. Sherwood played with the Pittsburg Orchestra a short time ago in Carnegie Hall, the Beethoven Fifth Concerto, and had an enormous success. He was recalled twelve or thirteen times. He has accepted a return engagement there which will have been completed before this article reaches the reader, the concerto being Saint-Saens in G minor. It is very gratifying to note this success of Mr. Sherwood's and especially that he has had an opportunity again of playing the great Beethoven Concerto, in which he made such a distinguished success in Berlin more than twenty years ago.—Chicago Music.

Long Runs.

EVICTING THE STRIKERS.

A New Chapter in the New England Milling Troubles.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
New Bedford, Mass., Jan. 27.—Seven more families of strikers were evicted this morning and were given shelter by some of the other weavers. The possibility of a general strike is being again discussed. The argument is being made that all the mill owners have agreed to share in the losses of the New Bedford corporations, and that the only way to bring them to terms is to have the weavers at all the mills quit in a body.

Relief for the Klondyke.

BUNCOMBE REPUDIATES.

A Decision By Judge Norwood Yesterday.

A special dispatch to the Raleigh Post says:
Superior Court Judge Norwood, at Waynesville today decided that the Buncombe bonds of the Asheville and Spartanburg Railroad are null and void.

A permanent injunction is issued against the County Treasurer. Defendants gave notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.
Judge Norwood based his decision on the grounds that as the construction of the Spartanburg and Asheville Railroad was not begun until after the election authorizing the subscription and the issuing of the bonds was held, and as the county had no pecuniary interest in the road at the date of making the subscription and issuing these bonds, there was no legal authority for the holding of such election; that the making of the subscription and the issuing of the bonds with question of the regularity of the passage of the act, did not enter into the case.

The only act concerning the passage of which any question was made was the act of 1877, attempting to ratify the county's subscription. It appeared that this act was not passed in the manner required by the constitution as construed by the plaintiff's attorneys.

SKUNKS IN THE CITY HALL.

Public Municipal Business Demoralized for a Time.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 25.—Officials and others having business in the Cleveland City Hall were practically forced to abandon their work today owing to the fact that fully twenty skunks had taken possession of the building.

A day or two ago a party of boys engaged in a skunk hunt on the eastern outskirts of his city. They caught twenty-seven and started downtown with them today, the skunks being in boxes. When opposite the City Hall the boxes fell and broke.

The skunks, thus liberated, scampered in all directions. Nearly all of them found refuge in the basement of the City Hall, which they entered by way of the street grating. The result was an interference greatly with the city's business.

Janitor Clarence Brown, of the City Hall chased skunks around the basement all day. Brown had a club and wore a rubber coat. He killed two. Three were killed at the Central Armory, and another was killed in P. C. Smith's barber shop, near the City Hall.
