THE WORK OF FIRE FIENDS

Attempted to Burn Alive a Tenement Full of People

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY RETURNS

A Half Dozen People Began the Proceedings Without Prayer as the Chaplain Was Absent.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Brooklyn, Jan. 28.—Fire bugs placed a barrel of paper saturated with kerosene in the hall of a big double tenement a No. 9 Norstrand avenue this morning and touched a match to the barrel after having firmly tied the door on the outside. The tenement is occupied by about forty families. One of the tenants who was starting to work discovered the fire before it had gained much headway and at once gave the alarm.

The occupants rushed to the roof in their night garments and crossed over to the adjoining building. The flames were extinguished and only the ground floors were damaged. An investigation will be made.

A SLIM BEGINNING.

Washington, Jan. 28.—There were but a half dozen senators present at the usual hour of meeting this morning. In the absence of the chaplain the proceedings began without the customary prayer. The Teller resolution will be taken up immediately. Stewart of Nevada began the last day's debate on the resolution.

M'KINLEY RETURNS.

New York, Jan. 28.—President McKinley, J. Allison Porter, Jr., and Abner McKinley left the Waldorf-Astoria at 10:25 this morning. The party left Jersey City for Washington on the Washington limited which arrives at Washington early this morning.

CIGARS WILL BE BETTER.

Pettigrew Introduces an Important Resolution.

By wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, Jan. 28.—General Lee informed the state department that the shipments to the United States of filler tobacco from which the Embargo was recently removed is being made.

In the Senate Pettigrew introduced a resolution reciting that it is "contrary to the interest, policy tradition of the people of the United States to acquire any territory so situated as to require the protection of the navy." The resolution went over.

Andrews Writes a Letter.

The Telegram is in receipt of a letter from W. R. Andrews, whose daughter recently married against his wishes one Mr. Parker. Mr. Andrews thinks some injustice was done him in these columns. His letter came too late for publication and the correction only can be made that Mr. Andrews' daughter remains at home of her own accord; that she refuses to live with her husband, though no force is used to prevent her, and that she has never lived with him at any time.

World on Sherwood.

Mr. Wm. Sherwood was enthusiastically received, and, after an admirable performance, rose from the piano, leaving a generally felt regret that a pianist of his caliber does not more often appear in New York to leave the huge lump of technicians and piano players by trade. His touch is subtle and magnetic, his style perfectly finished and brilliant. He was in evidently congenial company with the romantic Schumann, and his work will not soon be forgotten.—New York World.

Strikers Loose.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
London, Jan. 28.—Today's meeting of delegates representing master's men in the engineers' strike sealed the victory of the employers. The result of the conference will be a general resumption of work in the engineering trade next Monday.

C. R. Falls, the "great big overgrown giant" of a blacksmith of King's Mountain, put on 16 muleshoes one day last week in 75 minutes and says he can do still better if any one else can do as well.

"CHERRY LAST NIGHT."

Played to a Large Audience—A Big Success Scored.

The charming little drama, "Cherry" about which so much has been said in the local papers of late was played at the Academy of Music to a good house last night. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Brookmann orchestra and good music it was, too.

From the time the curtain went up on the first act the interest ran high. The arrangement was so perfect that little time was lost between the acts. The story of "Cherry" is an interesting one and the scenes and incidents connected with her love affair with Rudolph Dean, the millionaire's son, some of them said in the extreme, were so vividly portrayed and naturally put on that scores of eyes in the audience were wet with tears.

The murder of Rudolph Dean, and the arrest and conviction of Mark Goodwin for the crime, the tramp's confession and the vindication of Mark, formed an intensely interesting part of the play. The arrest of Mark, by Officers Jordan and Scott, the interference of Uncle Bob, the rich Mexican ranch owner, and the scene between Mark and his wife was admirably played.

The scene in which the Eagle Hose company boys appeared in full uniform, the fire alarm, the Allen House on fire, prompt response of the firemen and the rescue of the tramp from the basement by Charlie Hilton, was all wonderfully well carried out.

Throughout the drama the parts were well handled, and it would, perhaps, be unjust to particularize. When it is considered that all were amateurs, too much cannot be said in praise of the entire company.

Miss Brown, as "Cherry," was the star of the evening. Miss Wolfe, as the wife of Mark Goodwin, was perfectly at home in the play, while Miss Crocker, as the rich widow and mother of Rudolph Dean, performed well her difficult role. Mr. B. S. Phillips as Uncle Bob, and Miss Susie Stone, as Flossie Maxwell, his daughter, were the favorites of the evening. Mr. C. M. Elam, as Billy Oliver, the bicycle sport in love with Flossie and Dr. J. T. Johnson, as Charlie Hilton, the love-sick young man and later the brave fireman who finally wins Cherry, deserve special mention.

Mr. A. B. High, as Rudolph Dean, carried on an enraptured courtship with Cherry, was opposed bitterly by Mark Goodwin, Cherry's father, prepared to elope, but was killed early in the play and was left out of the most exciting part of the performance.

Mr. Roscnblatt, as Mark Goodwin, was a good character, and Mr. W. H. Rees, as Jo Black, the tramp, held close attention while acting his part.

Between the acts, Miss Carrie Smith, of Summerfield, entertained the audience with several solos, which were greatly enjoyed and heartily encored.

At the close of the performance, a genuine Southern cake walk was given which made a "big hit." The were three prizes offered: A handsome cake, a box of candy, and a pumpkin. The first was for the most unique and original costumes, won by Mr. John Stewart and Mrs. Dolly Hayden. The second, for the most graceful walking, won by Mr. B. S. Phillips and Miss Maude Ward; and the third, for the most ridiculous appearance, won by Mr. Sam Ingram. The prizes were presented in an appropriate speech by Mr. Zeb. V. Taylor.

The Telegram rises now to make a motion that the drama "Cherry" be repeated at an early day. Do we get a second?

The Veteran Corps Band.

The concert given by this excellent organization, under the auspices of Petersburg Chapter Daughters of the Confederacy, at the Academy, last evening, proved one of the most enjoyable musical events of the season.

The delightful programme consisted chiefly of popular selections and admirable renditions by the soloists of the Band, and fully merited the vigorous encores and applause which each number was accorded. On the whole, the concert was one of the best heard in this city since that of the justly celebrated "March King," whose popular composition, "El Capitan," concluded the charming programme of the evening.—The Daily Index and Appeal, Petersburg, Va., Dec. 14, 1897.

At the Academy of Music Friday night, Feb. 4th.

Mrs. Margaret Smith, mother of Mrs. Sandy Smith of Concord, will, on the 27th of October be 102 years of age. She enjoys remarkably good health. She is the oldest living person in Cabarrus county.

RUSSIA WINS, OR ENGLAND?

RUSSIAN FLEET IS HELPLESS.

Japanese Firms Refuse to Supply Coal—Report is Confirmed From Peking.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
London, Jan. 28.—It is announced from Peking that after Russia had offered China a loan upon the same conditions as England, China invited Russia to guarantee to defend her against the possible displeasure of England. Russia was evasive in her reply. When a similar guarantee was asked of England against Russia she promptly agreed to give it. The Cabinet re-assembled today for a long session. The Russian fleet at Port Arthur is helpless for want of coal. The Japanese firms which had contracted to supply the fleet have defaulted.

CONFIRMED FROM PEKING.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
Peking, Jan. 28.—The report that Russia has offered China a loan on the same terms as England has been confirmed.

SALEM'S MUSICAL EVENT.

And Other Matter of Interest From The Twin-City.

SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.

Winston, Jan. 28.—The midwinter concert the musical event of the winter occurred here last night in the Academy chapel. The hall was crowded, as it always is at these events. The programme was highly interesting, consisting of solos, duos, recitations, piano solos by the students of the Academy and all the members were enthusiastically received by the friends of the Academy present.

Tonight because of the great number of friends and patrons who could not attend the first night, the programme will be repeated.

This morning at 7 o'clock Charles Williams, colored, 18 years old cut George Murphy, colored in two places. First cut across the face from the ear to eyebrow and second cut across cheek through corner of mouth. Williams attempted to escape but was captured by policeman May. The scrap took place in R. J. Reynolds factory, during a tumult occasioned by the shouting of a number of negro women who professed religion last night. Murphy is not thought to be cut fatally.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Penn who were married last evening at 7 o'clock in Madison, arrived last night on the Norfolk & Western, spending the night and leaving on the 10:30 train for northern cities.

Indications are that a good number will come down tomorrow night to be present at the presentation of the opera "Wang" Saturday night.

IS NEW YORK CIVILIZED?

It Has Only Reached the Moonshine Stage.

BY WIRE TO THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Jan. 28.—Internal revenue agents today raided an illicit distillery at 65 Norfolk street. The moonshiners had 500 gallons of mash in different stages of fermentation. The still is a large double cylinder apparatus with a capacity of 50 gallons a day. Hyman Gluckstein, the alleged owner, was arrested.

Academy of Music Tomorrow Night.

It is expected that the King of Siam will this winter make his frequently promised visit to the United States. This visit is expected to place about the time that the Siamese opera "Wang" is to be put on for another New York run. In this event much of the broader burlesque on the Siamese government will be toned down and the librettist Goodwin has already indicated the changes necessary before the King could be invited to witness the production.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Jan. 28, '98.

The scholars of the ninth grade have presented handsome portraits, finely framed, of Horace Mann, John H. Pestalozzi, Fredrick Trogble, George Washington, and Alfred Tennyson to the graded school. This makes the class room very attractive and it is hoped it will prove an inspiration to the students. Capt. W. H. Snow, "the father of High Point," has also presented a handsome portrait of himself. The school is more than filling expectations, and Prof. George H. Crowell deserves the highest praise for his untiring efforts.

Owing to an attack of lagrippe Dr. McIver was unable to lecture before the graded school last night. Prof. Crowell hopes to have the doctor here next week.

Dr. J. W. Long, assisted by Dr. Ferree, of Asheboro, Dr. D. A. Stanton, of this place, and Dr. Dorsett, of Bethany, performed a very difficult operation on Mrs. L. A. Johnson yesterday at Orinoco. They also did supra-public cistotomy on a colored man by the name of Will Gray.

Mrs. Will Worth and children, of Charlotte, who have been visiting Mr. J. S. Worth, left this morning for their home.

Miss Cassie Olive left this morning for a visit to friends in Madison.

Editor Hammer, of Asheboro, was in the city last night on business.

Dr. Tomlinson, of Archdale, passed through this morning from Greensboro going home.

E. D. Steel and C. S. Cude returned from Greensboro last night.

J. M. Carr, of Greensboro, stopped over here last night. He was on his way to Atlanta.

Rev. N. R. Richardson left this morning for a week in Mt. Airy.

BLOODY BATTLE WITH A BUCK.

Rescuer Deserted by Game Warden Whose Life He Saved.

Bellefonte) Pa., Jan. 26.—A. G. Barker, who lives in the Alleghany mountains, several miles north of Cato, a day or two ago had a thrilling encounter with a buck.

Mr. Barker was traveling an old road through the forest of the Spruce Run Game Preserve, when he was startled by a bellowing and cries for help. Hastening to the direction whence the cries proceeded he came upon a monster buck pawing and prodding with its widespread antlers at a man lying prone upon the ground.

Securing a good club, Mr. Barker rushed to the rescue, striking the animal a terrific blow in the hope of driving it away. The buck lunged at him, giving the man on the ground an opportunity rise. The latter, who proved to be one of the wardens of the preserve, was not seriously hurt, and resolved to miss no chances, ran for his life, leaving Barker to fight it out alone with the enraged buck.

As the deer sprang at him he grabbed its antlers, on which he maintained a firm hold, while the buck swung him in the air with a very angry toss of its head.

While performing these evolutions Barker was thrown fully 20 feet, lodging against a rock. The buck rushed at him as he rose bruised and bleeding, but by this time Barker succeeded in opening his penknife and by jabbing the animal about the nose caused it to abandon the attack.

Barker's clothes were torn to shreds, and he was painfully hurt, but no bones were broken, and he was able to make his way home alone.

An Excellent Performance.

The following from the Lynchburg, Va., News of Jan 12, refers to the Lillian Tucker Company, which opens an engagement of five nights and Saturday matinee at the Academy of Music Monday Jan. 31st.

A large audience was at the opera house last evening to witness the opening performance of the Lillian Tucker Company, and it is very safe to say that there was not a person present who did not derive a great deal of pleasure from the evening's entertainment. "La Belle Marie," the play of the evening, was a bright interesting attraction, with just that blending of the serious and the gay that ninety-nine audiences out of a hundred enjoy. Of Miss Lillian Tucker and her support, much has been said and written, and the fine reputation that preceded the company to Lynchburg was fully justified by last night's performance.

Judge Robinson's Latest.

A Durham correspondent writes the Charlotte Observer: This morning in the superior court Will Curry was tried and convicted of larceny. Judge Robinson, in sentencing the prisoner made the following remarks:

"I hate to send you to the workhouse, but reckon I will have to do it. The next time you want anything do not steal it from one of these old saint like men, who have their faces turned heavenward and appear to be so good but who will come up lacking in the last great day, but come to me and I will not prosecute you."

The gentleman from whom the negro stole the things is a highly respected minister and has been a resident of Durham since Durham has been a town, and the citizens here do not relish any such insinuations from any one.
