RECOGNIZED BY HIS SNORE.

How a Greensboro Citizen Mistook a Hog for a Man.

A few nights ago a prominent citizen of southwest Greensboro, came up town and hunted up a policeman. He related to the officer how, when he went out to his barn after dark he found the door to the ground floor partly ajar.

This was unusual, and the gentleman approached cautiously and listened at the door. There was no mistake about it, there was a tramp asleep in his barn. He could hear him snoring. He crept inside and lighted a match. By its faint glimmer he saw the dark form of the "tramp" lying contentedly in the hay.

About this time the gentleman, whose name we withhold, felt a creeping, chilly sensation stealing over him and he quietly withdrew and decided to go for a policeman and have the base intruder arrested.

The officer readily accompanied him, and, with a lantern, entered the barn to break the peaceful slumber of the aforesaid vagrant, and to the great surprise of the policeman and chagrin of the man who heard the snoring and actually saw the form of a man, they found—a two hundred pound hog.

In the language of Edgar Allan Poe: "simply this is nothing more."

THE WORK OF THE STORM.

Harrowing Tales of Exposure and Starvation.

RAN DOWN A FERRY BOAT.

Bay is Full of Ice And All Traffic is Delayed—Thermometer is Playing With Zero.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Jan. 31.—A blinding snow has been falling since three o'clock this morning. The steamship Portia crashed into the ferryboat Nevada and nearly sank it. There was intense excitement aboard, but by prompt action, the disabled boat was towed ashore before it could go down. The bow of the Portia was considerably damaged.

BAY FULL OF ICE.

The thermometer last night was a few degrees above zero. The bay and river are full of ice, causing much delay of traffic. The snow began falling in the early morning, and continued to noon without sign of abatement.

ENCOUNTERED PACKED ICE.

The Red Cross Line Steamship Portia arrived this morning four days overdue from St. Johns, New Foundland and Halifax, after a desperate encounter with packed ice. She brought harrowing tales of blizzards, and reports of hundreds of men, women and children, dying from exposure and starvation, with an abundance close by, and hundreds more are threatened with the same fate.

Guthrie, O. T., Jan. 31.—Two masked men broke into the house of Louis A. Stanwood, a recluse, last night near Harvey, and tortured him by sticking a knife into his limbs, and burning off his hair and whiskers until he gave up his money, which only amounted to a few dollars. They next visited the home of John Hensley and robbed him. They held up John McFarland on the street, and were going to a fourth place when they were scared off by a rifle. Luther Weaver and Will Henderson, sons of prominent farmers have been arrested.

Hid His Savings in Books.

Mr. Deitrich Hoelscher, an old bachelor, who taught the Lutheran school at Black Jack for the past thirty-seven years, died one day last week. He had lived unostentatiously, but as his salary had only been $30 a month, out of which he had to pay $15 per month board, it was thought that his estate comprised only his library and a few articles of personal effect. Henry Richterkessing was appointed administrator, and yesterday he went out to make an inventory of the belongings of the deceased. While examining a book in the library he accidentally discovered some paper money between the leaves. A further search revealed paper, gold and notes amounting to $1,500, which he had secreted in books, behind pictures and in various nooks and corners. Mr. Hoelscher's only heir is a brother, who lives in Venice, Ill.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

DIGGING THROUGH GOLD.

A Find of Gold Ore on the Durham & Charlotte Railway.

On the new railway, the Durham & Charlotte, which is now being built through Moore county, what appears to be a rich vein of gold ore was discovered a few days ago. This find is about one mile from the junction of the Durham & Charlotte with the Carthage & Western, and not more than two miles from the Belle gold mine, owned by Messrs. Harrison & Linton. Not many miles away is the famous Gold Ragion in western Moore county, where is located the Gold Hill, the Cagle mine, and several others which have already been worked more or less extensively and profitably. The new vein was discovered by a force of hands who were digging through a hill, opening a cut for the roadway of the Durham & Charlotte. It is on the land of Rev. J. B. Richardson, of High Point, formerly of Moore and a brother of the late Col. W. B. Richardson.

Specimens of the ore from this new find have been sent to Philadelphia to be assayed. Local experts have pronounced it good. However, its true value will not be known until the report of the assayer has been received. The Telegram ventures the assertion that very few railroad companies are making a roadbed out of gold ore.

UNDER WATER TO THE POLE.

A Scheme Which Rivals Andree's Flight North.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 29.—Mr. Simon Lake, the inventor of the submarine boat Argonaut, and Mr. Alfred Riedel, a German journalist, of this city, today addressed President D. C. Gilman and twenty professors of Johns-Hopkins Hospital with a proposition to find the North Pole with a submarine boat.

The meeting took place at the University, the professors having consented sometime ago to the conference Mr. Lake used a blackboard to illustrate the plan of a vessel for the voyage, which will be based on the lines of the submarine vessels. Many new details are not given out for publication as Lake and Riedel are seeking patents. Mr. Riedel in addressing the professors said that the boat would be thoroughly tested by a preliminary trip to the Arctic regions in winter and a voyage across the Atlantic in summer.

It is proposed to start at the point from which Professor Andree sailed in his balloon or from the vicinity of Jackson's camp in Franz Joseph Land. The expedition will start in July when there is most open water and when ice is encountered the vessel will submerge herself and run under it. When it is desired to come to the surface for air or observations an opening will be made in the ice with a giant screw or by the use of torpedoes.

It is calculated that the submarine vessel would not have to go more than five hundred miles under ice. After hearing the plans the professors went to the water front at the foot of South street and inspected the Argonaut. The vessel had been sunk and raised successfully at least twenty times. A diver has repeatedly passed in and out the vessel while it was submerged, and at the same time telephone messages have been sent to New York.

CHICAGO LAWLESSNESS.

Four Robbers Raid a Dinner Party and Secure Spoils Worth $800.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Four robbers last evening broke up a dinner party at 406 West Madison street, locked the diners in a room and ransacked the house, securing money and jewelry to the value of $800. Joseph Mason and his sister Mattie were entertaining Miss Bessie Monihan of New York and Samuel Barton, when a knock on the door, answered by Mason, introduced four men with drawn revolvers. Each of the four diners was robbed, the thugs securing money and watches from the men and ear and finger rings and bracelets from the women. Barton lost $122.75 and a diamond ring worth $65. The victims were then locked in a side room while the uninvited visitors searched the apartments.

GERMANY TAKES MEASURES

To Avenge the Killing of Her Sentries

FATHERLAND SHORT OF CASH

Expenditures Exceed Revenues and Trouble and a Deficit Are Expected to Follow.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Pekin, Jan. 31.—The German admiral has taken prompt measures to secure redress for the killing of sentries at Kia Chou. Serious results are not expected as a consequence. The rumor that England has withdrawn her protest as to Port Arthur, and that she has ceased to exert pressure to secure the opening of Talienwan is regarded by diplomats as incredible. Such a course would be suicidal to British interests and prestige in the Orient.

INSUFFICIENT REVENUE.

Hamburg, Jan. 31.—It is feared that there will be serious trouble this year because of an insufficiency of revenue. The legislature has appropriated more money than the revenues justified and there will be difficulty in making both ends meet.

ANOTHER VERSION.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Manchester, Eng., Jan. 31.—A cable dispatch to the Manchester Guardian says that the difficulty in the far east has been settled by the opening of Port Arthur to trade on the same terms as Kiao Chau, England withdrawing her demand for the opening of Talienwan.
