No Game This Afternoon.

Manager Wells and his crack Richmond team passed through this morning on their way from Charlotte to Richmond. Mr. Selee, of the Boston, met him at the station and both thought it best for the Richmonds to go on through as it was very probable that it would rain all the afternoon. Had the Virginians stayed and been unable to play to day they would have had to leave in the morning to keep an engagement in Richmond and with another team. So Greensboro is not to be allowed to see the Richmonds play after all.

Tomorrow afternoon the regular Boston team will play the colts. This game will not be any tame affair but a hotly contested one. The colts are made to show what stuff they are made of. Manager Selee says he can guarantee an interesting game. Hamilton, the champion base runner, came in last night and will show how to circle the bases tomorrow. Admission, 25c. Ladies free. Game called at 3:30 p. m.

The teams will play as follows:

Regulars.	Colts.
Hamilton center field	Klobedanz.
Tenny 1st base	Bergen.
Long short stop	Hickman.
Stahl right field	Sullivan.
Duffy left field	Willis.
Collins 3rd base	Keister.
Bemis 2nd base	Stivets.
Bramfield catcher	Yeager.
Mills pitcher	Pittinger.

Moses and the Colonel.

Moses I. Stewart and Postmaster Lybrook, of Winston, had a rather lively scrimmage in that city yesterday afternoon. Both being prominent men in the republican ranks, their differences have aroused a good deal of interest.

The encounter is said to have grown out of some articles which have appeared in the Herald, a new republican paper recently started there by colored men. We understand the colonel (Mr. Lybrook) accused Mr. Stewart of writing pieces for the paper, which reflected on him (the colonel.)

GOT A TIP FROM WASHINGTON

Wall Street's Influence on the Side of Peace.

SENATOR RAWLINGS WANTS WAR

And Senator Hanna is More Hopeful of Peace Now Than He Has Been.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 28—Wall street got a tip out of Washington on the proposed Spanish-American alliance long before the people in the capital knew anything of the plan. Henry Cannon, president of the Chase National bank, of New York, was here Saturday to use his influence on the side of peace. John C. Moore, of Moore and Schley, brokers, also hurried hither from Florida. Other prominent brokers followed and presently Wall street had a tip that sent stocks flying up. The state department says the cipher code must have leaked out. It is known that a cypher code is being made up to prevent any leaks.

"WAR AND PEACE."

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Mr. 29—Senator Rawlings says: "I am in favor of declaring war against Spain immediately. She knows something about the destruction of the Maine and should be held accountable for it. The first blow we should strike however, should be in the shape of recognition of Cuban independence." Senator Hanna says: "I feel more hopeful of peace than ever."

THE ONLY KEY.

Washington, March 29—Senator Morgan, of the senate foreign relations committee which has the Maine report in charge, said this morning: "The only key to the situation is a declaration of war against Spain. I have made up my mind what to do, but will do nothing until the disposal of the resolution for intervention, which Senator Foraker introduces today."

AN ENGLISH VIEW.

London Paper Says Spain Owe the Most Humble Apologies.

London, March 28—The St. James Gazette, commenting on the report of the United States naval court of inquiry into the loss of the battleship Maine, says: "There can be no doubt Spain owes a reparation to the American government, to say nothing of the most humble apologies and the most extreme considerations for the feelings of the nation which has lost a fine cruiser lying in peace in a presumably friendly harbor. The outlook is threatening as it could be. Spain is in the wrong and it is for Spain to walk warily."

Morgan's Resolution Adopted.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Mar. 29—The senate has adopted Senator Morgan's resolution calling on the president to inform the senate how many Americans were imprisoned in Cuban towns by Weyler's orders, and how much of the money appropriated by congress was necessary to feed the Americans. Senator Mason in a speech declared that he is for war. This declaration caused great applause from the galleries.

ALL TRANQUIL AT MADRID.

A Belief that Difficulties Will be Peaceably Settled.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Madrid, March 28—Complete tranquility prevails here and in the provinces. Public opinion has been quieted by the belief that the difficulties between Spain and the United States will be ranged in a friendly manner and newspapers place great weight upon a conference between Gen. Woodford, United States minister, and Senor Sagasta, Premier, which is to occur at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and the belief is expressed that it will have an important and pacific result.

Spanish newspapers say that the government of Spain has decided to do everything possible to avert war if the honor and dignity of Spain will not be affected.

BRIDE PEEPED AT THE MODEL.

Saw Her Artist Husband at Work and Fainted.

New York, March 28—Phillip Greenwald, an artist, has sued Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Solomon for $2,000 for alienating his wife's affections. The defendants are Mrs. Greenwald's parents and they took her home after she reported to them that she had peeped through a keyhole into her husband's studio, where he was working with models, and was shocked at the spectacle.

Greenwald had been doing a good business until one of his neighbors peeped through the keyhole, and others followed suit. Mrs. Greenwald was next dragged from the seclusion of her sitting room.

"Look at that!" they cried. She looked and fainted. To make sure her eyes had not deceived her she bored a gimlet hole in the door between the sitting room and the parlor, which was always locked during working hours. She watched next day for herself, and then, with eyes streaming, rushed to her parents. They came and peeped through the gimlet hole and then told her to pack up her things and come home with them. She has been home ever since.

THE LECTURE LAST NIGHT

At the A. & M. College By Editor of The New York Age.

One among the great men of the colored race, T. Thos. Fortune, editor of the New York Age, lectured at the A. & M. College last night on Thomas Jefferson. The large chapel was filled to its utmost seating capacity despite the admission fee. Superb music was rendered after which President Dudley introduced Editor Fortune in well chosen language.

The lecture was a well arranged and splendid piece of work, though spoken from manuscript. In paying a high tribute to Mr. Jefferson the audience applauded the speaker when he said: "Mr. Jefferson was the founder of a great party that has stood and will stand."

The philosophical expressions in connection with the history of Thomas Jefferson were more notable than the lecturer's oratory.

There were a good many white people present among whom were President McIver and party from the State Normal and Industrial College and Dr. Benbow and others of the city.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

On The Report of The Naval Board of Inquiry.

HE RECOMMENDS DELIBERATION

A Short Recital of The Incidents Leading to and The Destruction of The Maine.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Mar. 28—The complete synopsis of President McKinley's message to congress today is as follows:

In its findings the board says the battleship Maine was moored in five and one half or six fathoms of water by the regular government pilot authorities, who were previously notified of her coming. The discipline on the Maine was excellent and everything was in perfect order at the time of the explosion.

In the opinion of the court this effect could have been produced only by the explosion of a mine situated under the bottom of the ship at about frame eighteen somewhere on the port side of the ship.

The president adds that the conclusions of the court are that the loss of the Maine was not in any respect due to fault or negligence on the part of any of the officers or members of the crew. That the ship was destroyed by the explosion of a submarine mine which caused the partial explosion of two or more forward magazines and that no evidence has been obtainable fixing the responsibility for the destruction of the Maine upon any person or persons.

The president says that accordingly a conference with the Spanish minister was held January 24th, and the renewal of visits of our warships in Spanish waters was agreed upon. Peninsular authorities at Madrid and Havana were advised of the purpose of this government to resume friendly naval visits and that the Maine would forthwith call at Havana. This announcement was received by Spain with appreciation of the friendly character of the visit and with notification of her intention to return the courtesy by sending Spanish ships to the principal ports of the United States.

In the meantime the Maine entered Havana harbor the 25th of January, and her arrival was marked with no special incident besides the exchange of customary salutes.

The Maine remained there three weeks and no appreciable excitement attended her stay. A feeling of relief followed the resumption of friendly intercourse. So noticeable was this immediate effect that the presence of our ships in Cuban waters was strongly urged by the consul general.

At 9:40 p. m., on the 15th of February the Maine was destroyed. The forward part of the ship was utterly wrecked by the explosion and 264 of the crew perished. Prompt assistance was rendered by the neighboring vessels in the harbor, aid being especially given by the boats of the Spanish cruiser Alphonso XII and the Ward Line steamer City of Washington, which lay not far distant. The wounded were generously cared for by the authorities in Havana, the hospitals being freely opened to them. Tributes of sympathy were offered from all official quarters of the island.

The appalling calamity fell upon the people of our country with crushing force and in a brief time intense excitement prevailed which, in a community less just and self-controlled than ours, might have led to hasty acts and blind resentment. This spirit, however, soon gave way to calmer reason and resolve to investigate the facts and await material proof before forming judgment as to the cause, responsibility if the facts warranted the remedy due.

This course recommended itself to the executive and the usual procedure was followed as in all cases of casualty or disaster to national vessels and the maritime naval court was immediately organized and the findings of the court were reached after twenty-three days of continuous labor and it is herewith laid before congress.

The evidence of the divers establishes the fact that the after part of the ship is practically intact. At frame seventeen the outer shell of the ship from a point eleven and a half feet from the middle line of the ship six feet above the keel when in its normal position was forced up so as to be now about four feet above where it would be had the ship sunk to the bottom uninjured. The outside plate is bent into a reversed V shape the after wing of which, about fifteen feet broad and thirty-two in length is doubled back upon itself
