NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU. HIGH POINT, N. C., April 16, '98.

The merry-go-round began going round today.

R. R. Ragan is steadily improving, we are glad to know.

Capt. W. Johns, of Mt. Airy, arrived in the city this morning to visit his son, W. E. Johns, Jr.

United States Marshal Millikan and family passed through this morning enroute to Ashboro.

We are glad to announce that Rev. J. R. Serogus is convalescing.

Rev. P. J. Carraway passed through today enroute to Old Union.

Prof. and Mrs. Carr passed through this morning returning Greensboro going to their home at Trinity.

Owing to the illness of Rev. J. R. Serogus Rev. N. R. Richardson will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church tomorrow.

Prof. George H. Crowell will occupy the pulpit of the Friends' church tomorrow morning. No preaching at night.

S. W. Codey, who has been residing here for the past year, left today for his home in New York.

High Point was well represented at Guilford College this afternoon to witness the ball game between Oak Ridge and Guilford.

Miss Goodhue, of New York, an accomplished elocutionist, has consented to give an entertainment in the opera house next Monday night.

Miss Goodhue comes highly recommended and our people may be sure of being highly entertained.

PROF. GARNER'S LECTURE.

His Experiences in the Heart of an African Jungle.

Prof. R. L. Garner will deliver a lecture in the Academy of Music next Tuesday night, April 19th in aid of the Greensboro Public Library.

The lecture will be both instructive and entertaining. The following is the syllabus of the lecture:

The speech of the monkeys and other animals.

First efforts to study it. The use of the phonograph.

Monkeys, apes and men. Physical and mental.

Why I went to Africa to study. Preparations. The journey. Arrival.

Selecting a location for the cage. Haunts and habits of the gorilla. The great forest. Its denizens and its dangers.

My cage and furniture. Companions and neighbors.

My daily life in the cage. Morning, noon, night.

Moses, Aaron, Elishaba, Othello and Desdamona.

What I saw in the jungle by day. What I heard in the jungle at night.

The tornado. Its terrors. Its effect.

What I learned by the trip. My return.

The moral benefit of my work.

We take at random from among a large quantity of press notices the following from the two leading English newspapers:

Prof. R. L. Garner gave to a large audience in Princes Hall last night an interesting account of his work and methods in studying the speech of monkeys, and the habits of the gorilla and chimpanzee in their native forests.—The Times, London, Eng.

WARM TIME IN THE SENATE

House and Senate Leaders Looking for Joint Arrangement

SESSION MAY RUN INTO SUNDAY

Speech Making the Order of the Day. Late This Afternoon No Time Has Been Set to Vote.

Washington, April 16—When the senate met this morning it was with the understanding that before adjournment today a vote should be taken on the foreign relations committee resolutions. The exact time to vote cannot be stated; but it will be taken late this evening and possibly the legislative day may be carried over into Sunday.

If the house can be prevailed upon to hold its session until the joint action of congress can be finally arranged and ultimately the resolutions can be sent to Spain on Monday. This is not likely. Orders have been issued to mobilize troops in the south and there is great activity in the navy department.

WASHINGTON, April 16—Senator Cannon, of Utah, opened the debate this morning with a vigorous speech in favor of the recognition of the Cuban government.

Senator Cannon charged the president with being vacillating, without purpose, without policy, one thing today and another tomorrow. He declared that he was for the recognition of the existing government of Cuba because it is the logic of the committee's report that there is but one way for peace and through the brazen gate of war.

Senator Allen, of Nebraska, followed Senator Cannon and said he wanted to enter a protest against the so-called powers entering the white house and telling the American people what they should do respecting a policy to be pursued on this hemisphere. He said: "I cannot understand why the president did not indicate to these so-called Powers that the presentation of their note will be considered a violation of all the traditions and all the doctrines of this country. Now, I am told that the so-called Powers are mustering themselves for another assault upon the white house."

Senator Burrows, of Michigan, following Senator Allen, announced himself in favor of the president's policy and said that the president was subjected to unjust and cruel criticism. "Those who are prone to criticize should imitate the patriotism of Benjamin Harrison, who said, 'where a pilot is hired to steer a ship through the rapids, it does more harm than good for the passengers to tell him how to steer.'"

Senator Burrows, of Michigan, following Senator Allen, announced himself in favor of the president's policy and said that the president was subjected to unjust and cruel criticism. "Those who are prone to criticize should imitate the patriotism of Benjamin Harrison, who said, 'where a pilot is hired to steer a ship through the rapids, it does more harm than good for the passengers to tell him how to steer.'"

When Senator Burrows finished speaking, Senator Platt was recognized and said: "The time for oratory and impassioned utterances has passed. There has never been a time for hot words. Epithets, intemperate zeal, and oratory will not bombard Morro Castle. Strong words may wound the president but will not pierce the armour of Spanish warships. I believe that the desired result might have been accomplished peacefully if it had not been for the misstatement of those who desire to plunge the country into war."

Washington, April 16—Negotiations are in progress by the house and senate leaders looking to a possible arrangement for the house and senate to remain in session tomorrow and to come to a final conclusion upon the Cuban resolutions.

Washington, April 16—Adjutant General Corbin has just made the statement that the United States forces will all commence a southern movement Monday if congress passes the resolution by that time. The national guard will be called out.

WASHINGTON, April 16—It was decided today by the war department to furnish each soldier in the Cuban invading army with an aluminum tag, numbered, for the purpose of identification.

JACKSONVILLE, April 16—The Spanish consul here has been ordered home.

NEW YORK, April 16—United States tugs Uncas and Wampatuk sailed for Norfolk today and carried new armament and were decked out in war paint.

WASHINGTON, April 16—Five warships have been sighted off the Island of St. Thomas. They are believed to be Spanish.

WASHINGTON, April 16—Fitz. Lee conferred with the president, General Miles and Secretary Alger today regarding plans for the capture of Havana and considered other military strategic matters.

WASHINGTON, April 16—Under command of Col. Hawkins, the Twentieth infantry hurried this morning aboard a special train for the southeast.

CHICAGO, April 16—The Fourth infantry left Fort Sherman this morning.

Cheyenne, April 16—The Eighth infantry started this morning for New Orleans.

Denver, April 16—Sergeants Baldwin, Myers, and Burnett, of the signal corps, department of Colorado, started for New Orleans today. They form the war balloon corps of the United States in the defense of New Orleans.

WASHINGTON, April 16—Pistols and coffee for two, and a bloodless duel will no doubt, be the result of the exchange of personalities indulged in tonight by Senators Money and Wellington. The happy remark made by Senator Wilson, just in the nick of time averted trouble on the floor of the senate. Wellington charged that Senator Money was the agent of the New York Journal. Senator Money denounced this as false. Wellington repeated it, saying he did so on his own responsibility.

"You are a liar," shouted Money. "You are another," warmly replied Wellington.

The Maryland Senator said he would not disgrace himself by answering the Senator from Mississippi.

"We will settle it outside. We will go out now and settle it," replied Money, darting for the door. At this instant, Senator Wilson broke in by asking the President if in would be in order to declare war, and everybody laughed. A few minutes later Senator Money apologized to the senate, saying, however, that he did not apologize to the Senator from Maryland.

Friends of the two Senators are now trying to patch up the difficulty.

Senator Money, it is said, will demand an apology from Senator Wellington. If it is refused, then there may be trouble, as he is a game man.

AT THE ACADEMY TONIGHT. "Faust" is one of the greatest moral lessons ever written and many critics declare the story more powerful than a sermon. A show that everyone should see and most specially the young. The electrical effects are wonderful, as well as the hypnotical powers of the devil, showing vividly the great influence he has over the minds of the young.

Get your tickets at once and don't fail to see this great production. Prices 25, 50 and 75 cents. Performance begins at 8:45 this evening at the Academy of Music.

ENGLAND HAS DEFEATED 'EM

The Powers Must Not Attempt to Coerce Uncle Sam

JOHN BULL WILL TAKE A HAND

Spain Gathering Her Forces for War. All Able-bodied Subjects are Being Ordered Home.

LONDON, April 16—England has defeated the powers in their efforts to coerce the United States by saying that in an event of that kind she is the active ally of the United States.

MADRID, April 16—Spain is gathering her military forces for war. Every able bodied subject capable of bearing arms or of serving in the navy has been called home from every foreign country.

HAVANA, April 16—Public opinion expressed here is to the effect that there is a strong belief in the probability of war. The Segiranica sailed today, crowded with passengers. The city is quiet.

MADRID, April 16—The American consulate is under guard at Cadiz, owing to some disturbance.

LONDON, April 16—The Chronicle says: "England is now once more dragged at the heels of despots, and made to play the game of the latest of the rotten tyrannies that encumber the earth. It was easy to coerce Greece, but America stands in a different category. She is a very great power, intensely proud and entirely self-contained. Her fate has been to undertake a task peculiarly arduous and thankless. She is not going to be bullied by the heroes of the Cretan blockade, and if the movement against her is pressed too far, she will be compelled in her own interests to clear the situation."

"Our present purpose is to insist that our government does best by using every means in its power to defeat any anti-American combination. If there be any doubt about the feelings of the great majority of the nation, we shall be happy to try the experiment of marching a hundred thousand Londoners through the metropolis with the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes in combination. It is the business of the mother country to stand by her children of the west, as stiffly and strongly as one country can by another."

The Times, which attaches no importance to the rumors of a European demonstration against the United States, says: "England would assuredly be no party to such a demonstration, but it is even more absurd to suggest that because England sympathizes with American indignation at Cuban horrors, the British government ought to rush into armed alliance with the United States for a settlement of a question in which we have no immediate concern."

SPAIN'S NAVY IN BAD SHAPE. Work Delayed on the Charles V. and the Pelayo.

MADRID, April 14—Advices from Ferrol and Carthage assure me that the battleships Charles V and Pelayo won't be ready under two months. Naval authorities at Ferrol, Carthage and Cadiz complain bitterly that the building and fitting out of war vessels has not been done abroad, as the native industry resources are utterly insufficient. They also complain of the war stores that the ammunition and shells are of all sizes. The present war scare may lead to revelations of possibilities that will be very grave indeed for the Madrid government's marine ministers for the last ten years.

The auxiliary cruisers, commanded by officers of the royal navy, seem destined to play an important part in the war.

ADA REHAN HONORED. By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

LONDON, April 16—Ada Rehan was elected the permanent governor of the memorial theatre at Stratford-on-Avon.

Miss Goodhue's Entertainment.

The entertainment given last night at the Academy of Music by Miss Goodhue, of New York, was one of the best ever seen in Greensboro. Miss Goodhue easily showed that she is a finished elocutionist and the program of last night demonstrated Miss Goodhue's ability as an impersonator. Her impersonations of little folks in the Knight of 19th century, "what a little boy thinks," "seeing things in the dark," and the experience of a young society woman were exceedingly true to life and very laughable. In the portrayal of child life Miss Goodhue is most happy. A mosaic of familiar authors, showed most clearly her versatility as an elocutionist. The imitations of "bird talk" were the best ever heard here. As a little girl expressed it; they were so true to life that everyone looked to find the birds. No one portion of the program can be selected as the best, for all of the selections were admirably rendered. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment and should Miss Goodhue ever return to Greensboro she will receive a most hearty reception.

Misses Minnie and Hetty Lyon charmed their audience with instrumental duets. Miss Minnie Lyon played some very pretty selections on the violin accompanied by her sister on the piano.

Mrs. Hagan's solo, accompanied by Mrs. Van Noppen on the Piano, was very prettily sung and won for her much applause. The music was exceptionally good and was much enjoyed.

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vansory had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither lens accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vansory sent the old lenses with an explanation to the oculist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following: DR. HARRY FRIEDENWALD, 1029 MADISON AVE., BALTIMORE, Jan 31st, '98.

DEAR SIR:— Yours of the 29th to hand. Dr. Johnson is Perfectly Right. The glasses you sent are not those ordered. I cannot understand how such a mistake occurred. Very truly yours, H. FRIEDENWALD.
