CHARLES A. COOK.

A Democrat Deprecates Newspaper Criticism of Him.

Editor Telegram:
Having observed a tendency in many of the newspapers to greatly belittle Hon. C. A. Cook, an aspirant for the position of brigadier general in the volunteer army, I deem it but just and generous that the man should have his deserts.

I am a democrat. He is a republican. If President McKinley sees proper to appoint to this position a man whom he thinks by nature fitted for the responsibility, though not a West Pointer, or who was not old enough to have served in the late war, he might go far before finding a better appointee than Mr. Cook.

I have the pleasure of knowing him. He is, primarily, a gentleman, courteous, manly. He is a lawyer of well-known and unquestionable ability. He is thoroughly cultured—a graduate of Princeton University.

No man, be he democrat, populist, or republican, can dare gainsay the sterling integrity of "Charlie Cook." He is the son of honor. Above all, he is, under all circumstances, morally and physically courageous.

Possessing, as he does, these many qualifications necessary for a successful commanding officer, it strikes me as hardly fair to belittle the man for his patriotic aspirations. If it be thought imperative that none but West Pointers or veterans be appointed to command then criticize the president, don't ridicule or malign the aspirant.

But if a nation should decree that none should command who had not seen previous actual service, might she not at the same time be fittingly likened to the fond mother who forbade her son to go near the water until he had learned to swim?

Mr. Cook needs no flattering eulogiums; but does not merit being placed in the category of "pie-hunting, cross-roads politicians."

SHAFTER'S PLAN OF ATTACK

Will Take Santiago by Siege Instead of by Assault.

ENEMY STRONGLY ENTRENCHED

Health of the Army Excellent And City Can Be Taken in Two Days.

Burial of Rough Riders.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Playa del Este, June 29—News has reached the Cuban headquarters and has since been communicated by Gen. Castillo to Gen. Shafter that the Spaniards are strongly entrenched at Santa Ursula and Lagunas. Both places are important entrances to the city of Santiago. Two batteries of heavy artillery have been erected, including guns landed from the Spanish cruisers in the harbor. The batteries are supported by a force of 6,000 men. The Cuban outposts have erected a strong fortress and have strengthened the other defenses.

General Shafter has issued rigid orders to his troops not to engage the Spaniards unnecessarily, his object being to keep troops strong for a decisive attack later. It is known that the Spaniards are preparing to make a desperate resistance.

METHOD OF ATTACK ON CITY.

Washington, June 29—Although there is nothing in the plans of the administration upon which to base a belief that Santiago will be attacked within a few days yet there is a general feeling prevalent among the officials that the news of a battle, similar to the one fought last week, will be forthcoming. This opinion has foundation in the fact that General Joe Wheeler's division has moved up to a point within rifle shot of the Spanish outpost surrounding the capital. Some anxiety is felt in regard to the Spanish reinforcements under General Padro. The subjugation of Santiago will not be brought about by storming the earthworks, which are military methods used half a century ago, but by the latest methods of modern warfare. Great use will be made of General Shafter's big guns, which have been landed from the transports, to reduce the defenses of Santiago. As these guns will create havoc among the Spaniards without causing a great loss of life it is believed that this method will ultimately be adopted.

WOUNDED DOING WELL.

Washington, June 29—Major General Shafter cables the war department that the health of the army under his command is remarkably good. No deaths have occurred among those wounded in the battle at La Quasina. The graves of the dead, General Shafter states, have been so marked as to make their identification sure.

ROUGH RIDERS BURIED.

Guantanamo Bay, June 28, via Playa del Este, June 29—The funeral of the dead Rough Riders took place yesterday at a beautiful spot about one mile from the battle field. Men from all the regiments attended the burial. A small iron cross has been erected to mark the spot where the heroes are buried. The effects of the dead soldiers have been preserved and will be handed over to friends.

A ROYAL DECREE.

Madrid, June 29—The Queen Regent will issue a royal decree which will cause to be formed an auxiliary cruiser division at Cadiz.

DETAILS OF OPERATIONS.

Washington, June 29—The navy department issued a bulletin today as follows: On 16th batteries at entrance of Santiago were bombarded and silenced; on 15th fort at Guantanamo destroyed; 16th. Yankee engaged gunboat off Cienfuegos; 17th. Harlowe, with two launches under Powell and Hart, examined Cabanas bay under a fierce fire; 19. Garcia visited the flagship; 20th. transports arrive.

(Signed) Sampson.

DETAILS OF THE BATTLE.

Sibony, June 29—Details of the fight between Rough Riders and Spaniards is as follows: Americans, 17, killed, 63 wounded; Spaniards, 11 wagon loads mortally wounded, 38 left dead on the field. Spanish troops engaged numbered 4,000.

CAMARA RECALLED.

Washington, June 29—The state department is informed that Camara has been recalled from Suez. It has been decided to rush Watson's fleet to Gibraltar.

BATTLE GROUND CELEBRATION.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH WILL BE FITTINGLY OBSERVED.

The Names of The Speakers, Guests and Marshals—Everything in First Class Order.

It is the purpose of the Battle Ground management to make this year's celebration a greater success than any previous year's and in point of varied attractions and artistic display to eclipse all former efforts. The program, as partly decided upon, gives promise of more than fulfilling their wishes. With the patriotism displayed since the present war began everybody seems to take an increased interest in the Fourth of July and will celebrate the day this year as never before.

The parade this year will receive greater attention than ever before and will in no wise be a minor feature. It has been placed in charge of Mr. W. G. Mebane, chief marshal, which, in itself, is a sufficient guarantee that it will be a success in every sense of the word. Mr. Mebane has appointed the following persons to act as marshals: J. W. Williamson, L. B. Williamson, W. E. Holt, Jr., Howell Fry, Harry Harwood, Robert Gorrell, C. McAdoo, William Tallman, J. Simpson Shenck, H. H. Tate, C. A. Penn, H. D. Mebans, George Tate, E. B. King, A. H. Staples, T. S. Horrey, Fred Cone, Norvin Lindheim, Will Powe, Robert Harris, J. R. Boyd and John Williams.

Next Monday morning at nine o'clock the procession will form on Davie street. It will be composed of the marshals, the decorated carriages containing the speakers of the day and distinguished visitors, then will follow private buggies and carriages, and all the persons on horse back with tri-colored bunting decorations on vehicles and horses and the High Point Comet Band of twenty-eight pieces. All of the fire and hose wagons will be in the parade fully decorated. The last portion of procession will be composed of bicyclists on decorated wheels under the management of Mr. Garland Daniel. The parade will begin promptly at half past nine o'clock. It will proceed from Davie to South Elm street and up that street to the courthouse. From here the procession will go down West Market and from this street to Edgeworth and on to the Battle Ground, reaching this historic place about 11 o'clock.

The owners of all the business houses and residences along the line of march are asked to decorate their houses with flags and bunting.

The annual oration will be delivered by the Honorable Robert M. Douglas, associate justice of the Supreme court of North Carolina. The management has made a wise selection and the visitors are to be congratulated that they will have the pleasure of hearing this scholarly and eloquent son of North Carolina. Among the guests this year will be the Honorable James Boyd, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, Hon. Chas. A. Cooke, who will probably be a Brigadier General by that date, His Excellency, Daniel L. Russell, and very probably a party of congressmen from the national capital, and other distinguished men from the state.

Mr. Zeb V. Taylor, after the oration, will present an elegant oil painting of General George Washington. This portrait was painted by Mr. David L. Clark, of High Point. It will be received on behalf of the Battle Ground company, by Mr. A. B. Kimball. It has been the custom of Mr. Clark to present a portrait of some revolutionary hero or distinguished gentleman at each annual celebration. Among the oil paintings he has presented may be mentioned the portraits of North Carolina's three signers of the Declaration of Independence—Joseph Hughes, William Hooper and John Penn; also portraits of General Greene, Col. William Washington and the president of the Battle Ground company, Judge David Schenck. They compose one of the handsomest collections of oil portraits in the state.

The roads leading to the Battle Ground are in excellent condition and everything is propitious for a most successful celebration.

In the afternoon two road races will be run from the Battle Ground to Greensboro. At night the annual German will be given at the McAdoo House.

SPANISH SLOOPS CAPTURED.

Havana, June 29—It is reported that the Americans are having great difficulty in advancing on Santiago. It is also claimed that the steady fire of the Spaniards prevents the advance on the city. The despatches also declare that the Spaniards are determined to fight to their death.

BY SIEGE, NOT ASSAULT.

Washington, June 29—General Shafter reports to Secretary Alger that he has surveyed the field at Santiago and could capture the city by assault in forty-eight hours. He has decided in view of the smaller loss of life involved in that way to wait until the big guns are in a position to bombard the city and to carry the city that way instead of by assault.

What Does the "K" Mean?

A Telegram reporter was called into Hiatt & Lamb's store today to solve the mysteries of an egg which they have on exhibition. It is a chicken egg, eight inches around the long way by six and one-half inches around the middle. On the small end is the letter "k" and the k seems to be causing the trouble. Old farmers have already begun to come in and tell that they or their mothers or one of their neighbors had a hen which just before the last war laid an egg something less than a foot in diameter with a W on one end. Of course that "W" brought on the war and now they say this K means that when the war is over we will have a King. Those who cannot swallow this solution are permitted to consider it a Spanish egg and that the "K" means that Spain will soon be without a king. Solutions left at Hiatt & Lamb's store between 8 o'clock a. m. and 6 p. m. will receive their prompt and careful attention.
