BURIAL OF LIEUT. SHIPP.

How a Comrade Found Him and Marked His Cuban Grave.

The Lincoln Journal, which makes its appearance tomorrow will contain the following account of the finding of the body of Lieutenant William E. Shipp, and of its burial by comrades: For weary days with aching hearts Lieutenant W. E. Shipp's heart-broken wife and sisters waited for some particulars of his death in the battle of Santiago. At last on Tuesday, Mrs. Shipp received a letter from Lieutenant M. H. Barnum, adjutant of the Tenth Regiment, who found and buried the body of his brave brother officer.

He wrote that in passing over the battlefield about noon Friday, July 1, he found Lieut. Shipp lying dead "well in front." He had been "shot through the body, probably through the heart and must have died almost instantly."

That night about 10 o'clock, Lieutenant Barnum went with a detail of men to bury his friends. His intention was to lay them side by side in the same grave, but he could not find Lieut. Shipp's body, it having evidently been found and buried by some other friend.

Lieut. Barnum and his party, in the still watches of the tropical night, upon the Cuban battlefield hallowed by the blood of American heroes, dug a grave and in it placed the body of his friend, and then "knowing," he writes, "that he was a member of the church, and being a member myself, I said the Lord's prayer over the grave after we had laid him in it."

One can imagine the pathetic scene—The Cuban thicket wrapped in darkness; the colored troopers, with the grime and smoke of battle still upon them; with bowed heads grouped around the grave of the beloved officer who had led them in many a hot fight with Indians; the battle-wearied officer at the root, his eyes upturned to the star-studded heavens; the marble face of the dead hero as he lay in his grave the grief-stricken voice of the officer as he said, "Thy will be done," in a language and a petition new to that locality, make up a picture which will live always with those who saw it.

Lieutenant Barnum says that at the head of the grave he placed a board with the inscription: "Lieut. W. E. Shipp, Tenth Cavalry, U. S. A. Killed July 1st, 1898," and otherwise carefully marked the spot so that it can be readily identified and located.

Lieut. Barnum writes that he had not seen Lieut. Shipp that day until he found him dead, but from others he learned that he had been doing splendid work in guiding the troops through the dense growth, a service for which his years of experience in the Indian wars peculiarly fitted him, and that it is thought he met death while carrying orders from one part of the battle field to another.

Lieut. Shipp was the quartermaster of the brigade, a position which he did not want because it was a non-combatant position, and his presence in the front is accounted for by the theory that he had volunteered for the dangerous duty in the discharge of which he met the death of a soldier and a hero.—Morning Post.

THE TERMS OF SURRENDER

Official Despatch Received from General Shafter.

PRESIDENT'S CONGRATULATIONS

The Surrender is Definitely Settled and Much Relief is Felt from the President Down.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Washington, July 16—The war department received the following message from Gen. Shafter this morning at 9:30 o'clock: "Spanish surrendered; particulars later. [Signed] 'Shafter.'"

SUMMARY OF THE TERMS.

Washington, July 16—A summary of terms of the surrender of General Toral and the province of Santiago de Cuba as finally agreed upon is as follows: Twenty thousand refugees to go back to Santiago; the American infantry are to patrol the roads around and about the city; our hospital corps are to give attention to the sick and wounded Spanish; all the Spanish troops in the province of Santiago de Cuba, except ten thousand at Holguin under General Luque are to come to the city and surrender; the guns for the defense of the city are to be turned over in good condition; Americans are to have full use of the Juragua railroad; all Spanish are to be conveyed to Spain with all portable church property; the Spanish troops are to surrender their arms; the Spaniards are to co-operate with the Americans in removing the mines from the harbor; the officers are allowed to retain their side arms.

AWAITS APPROVAL OF MADRID. Siboney, July 15, via Playa del Este—The agreement to surrender all of the Island of Cuba east of the line drawn from Aceraderos to Saquia-Tanamo was signed at four o'clock this afternoon and approved by Gen. Miles and Gen. Blanco. Gen. Toral now awaits the approval of the government at Madrid.

CAUSE OF DELAY. Washington, July 16—The final announcement of the surrender of Santiago was received here with the utmost relief by the officials. The unusual delay was partially accounted for by the difficulty had by Toral in surrendering that part of the command not in the city of Santiago.

It is believed the delay in the negotiations caused us to secure the surrender of the outlying garrisons, some of which questioned Toral's right to surrender them without instructions from Madrid. But the surrender is now definitely settled on our terms and much relief is felt from the president down.

MESSAGE OF CONGRATULATIONS. Washington, July 16—On receipt of General Shafter's official notice of the surrender of Santiago the president sent a message of thanks to the army and congratulated all on the great and wonderful triumph over Spanish arms, and also the grim foe, the tropical heat and other obstacles.

Secretary Alger also sent his congratulations in the message.

IMMUNES FOR SANTIAGO. St. Louis, July 16—Five companies of immigrants have arrived here and will proceed at once to Santiago.

FOURTH EXPEDITION SAILS. San Francisco, July 16—The fourth Manila expedition has sailed with General Otis aboard. The next division will start next Monday.

The Summer School. This school will begin its second session at the A. & M. College next Wednesday, July 20th.

It has a superior corps of instructors for the work—the most of them being specialists. No colored teacher can afford to miss this chance of becoming more efficient in his or her peculiar calling. Tuition fee $2 for the session of three weeks; but the Guilford county teachers will be admitted free on presenting their certificates, or securing a testimonial from Superintendent Wharton that they are bona fide teachers of the county.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Business in Many Lines Brisk in the Dull Season.

New York, July 16—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade today says: The destruction of the Spanish fleet, Europe's quick appreciation of the feat, yearning of flags of truce at Santiago, and at last surrender, have all influenced some markets day by day. But Americans see that not many outside matters greatly influence business which enables them to market $1,210,274,015 worth of domestic products abroad in the year, against $616,652,844 worth imported.

The new loan has proved a stupendous success over $1,300,000,000 having been subscribed, and it is now the question of chief interest whether any banks will get enough, after personal subscriptions have been accepted, to support further circulation. Industries and business are naturally at the lowest point for the year, and therefore records are the more impressive. Just when stagnation is customary very many iron and steel mills are crowded with orders for months. The demand for woolen goods is better, though prices for some have been reduced. Cotton has been steady, in spite of good crop prospects, owing to larger foreign buying. Mills in this country are doing their share, and the demand for goods is gradually growing better.

Wheat has been dropping in price under estimates of 680,000,000 to 700,000,000 bushels this year. Corn exports are decreasing. The price is nearly 1 cent stronger. The volume of business still exceeds that of any previous year, for the week 17.1 per cent greater than last year. Failures have been 215, against 263 last year.

A convention of the democrats of the Fifth Congressional district of North Carolina is hereby called to meet at Greensboro on Thursday, 21st day of July, 1898, to nominate a candidate for congress for said district and to select an executive committee and for such other business as may come before the convention.

"NEARER MY GOD TO THEE."

The Soldiers Were Singing When the News Arrived.

WATSON IS AWAITING ORDERS.

Blank Spaces in Madrid Newspapers. Active Preparations for Coast Defense—Laying Mines.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM. Off Santiago, July 16—The messages from the army to Admiral Sampson yesterday were regarded as official and no doubt existed in the minds of the officials who felt that Toral had surrendered. And no further message was received until this morning several vessels were allowed to go to Guantanamo for supplies.

As soon as the official and final agreement was signaled to the fleet, the vessels were recalled on duty the same as usual. Every ship in the fleet has volunteered to be the first to enter the narrow harbor. The commanders on all the smaller vessels pleaded diligently to be allowed to be the first to pass old Morro.

Admiral Sampson was compelled to decline all offers. He does not think it necessary for any warship to go nearer the city at present. The Red Cross steamship State of Texas, with Clara Barton aboard, will probably be the first to pass into the harbor after the surrender.

"NEARER MY GOD TO THEE." Siboney, July 15, via Playa del Este 16—The agreement to surrender Santiago was signed at four o'clock this afternoon. The news of the first agreement to surrender yesterday was received with great joy by the troops. The news first came an hour after General Shafter met General Toral.

An orderly who was with them waved his hat in the direction of the ninth infantry, which was the signal agreed upon. The ninth infantry was holding religious services and were at that moment singing: "Nearer My God to Thee." The men stopped singing instantly and broke into lusty cheers. General Wheeler rode up saying there would be no more fighting and was greeted with an ovation. The cheers were renewed and passed along the line from one regiment to another.

This morning, however, there was a reaction, when it was learned that it was but a piece of Spanish treachery to gain time. This, and similar reports spread rapidly and there were many murmurs and threats heard among the troops until an agreement was finally reached and signed.

BLANCO'S APPROVAL. Gen. Blanco signified his approval but added that the approval of the government at Madrid would be necessary, and wanted the matter postponed until an answer could be heard from Spain. The Americans refused to concede this but agreed that the signatures should be conditional. The approval of the Spanish government is expected today.

PRECAUTION AGAINST TREACHERY. By the terms of the surrender twenty-five thousand Spaniards lay down arms and submit to be taken home; an event unheard of in the history of the world. While the staff are satisfied that the surrender is genuine General Shafter is taking no chances. He has directed Garcia to keep a sharp lookout for any Spanish reinforcements, and is taking every precaution against treachery.

READY FOR SPAIN. Siboney, July 16—The officers of Shafter's staff say they know nothing about the time the troops will start for the Porto Rican expedition. They will probably not start for several weeks yet.

It is stated that troops will not be allowed to enter Santiago for at least a week. Commodore Watson's fleet is all ready to sail for Spain and is awaiting orders which are momentarily expected.

SPAIN LAYING TORPEDOES. Madrid, July 16—Newspapers today are conspicuous on account of the blank spaces in their columns, denoting suppressions by the government censors. Three regiments have been ordered to Algeiras. Active preparations for coast defence are being made and long lines of torpedoes have been laid in Barcelona channel and other harbors.

"Remember the Maine." Also those new foot form $3.00, $3.50, $4.00 and $5.00 shoes at the Carolina Shoe company. S. B. Norris, Manager.

CORREA'S IDEA OF PEACE.

Thinks It Can Be Brought About by Leaving Cubans to Choose.

Madrid, July 15—The minister of war, General Correa, is quoted as saying in an interview that he thought peace might be arranged on the following terms: The United States and Spain to agree to let the Cubans decide by a plebiscite whether they desire independence or autonomy under the suzerainty of Spain.

The two governments to agree to abide by the result of the plebiscite. In the event of the Cubans voting for independence, the United States to allow Spain nine months in which to withdraw her army, gradually and dignifiedly from Cuba, "as soldiers should after having fought like heroes."

Continuing, the minister for war said: "We ought to retain Porto Rico at all costs, in order to be always near Cuba, of which the Americans will be able to despoil us in course of time, and in order to more easily communicate with the South American Republics, which daily displays the greatest enthusiasm for Spain."

"As to the Philippine Islands it is certain we will retain them even though the Americans succeed in occupying Manila, of which place their occupation will be most brief. An official dispatch announces that the rebel chiefs and the Americans will not always agree, which is to Spain's advantage."

The government has formed a scheme which will not only assure Spain the possession of the Philippine Islands, but which will re-establish tranquility."
