

No More Credit.

After Sept. 30th, 1898, we will adopt the Cash System. Our books will be closed and our prices reduced from ten to fifteen per cent. We are convinced that this is the proper way to conduct a dry goods and shoe business to the mutual interest of customer and merchant. It will cost any merchant from ten to fifteen per cent more to do a credit business than it would to sell the same amount of goods for cash; this difference we propose to give our customers if they are willing to pay us spot cash. (Proof of the above statement can be seen below.) We feel sure that any one buying for cash will not fail to see where it will be to their interest to trade with us. Thanking you for past favors, we are,
Yours truly,
J. M. HENDRIX & CO.

EXAMPLE.—Mr. A buys dry goods and shoes to the amount of $1,000 and sells them on credit at a profit of 30 per cent, his gain is $300, but this is not all, as the following will prove. Any merchant doing a credit business is bound to have some losses. This we will put at the low estimate of 5 per cent. He will have to employ a bookkeeper and collector, which will cost him 5 per cent, and if he sells on credit he must necessarily lose 5 per cent discount which he would get off if he paid cash for his goods. Add all these losses and expenses together and we find that Mr. A instead of making $300, has only made $150.

Now we will look at the other side of this question. Mr. B buys dry goods and shoes to the amount of $1,000 and sells them for cash at a profit of 15 per cent; his profit would be $150. Mr. B, by selling his goods for cash will be able to pay cash and get the 5 per cent discount which would amount to $50. Add this to the $150 and we find that Mr. B has made $200, or $50 more than Mr. A, and has sold his goods at one-half the profit. In other words Mr. B, the cash man, has sold his customers goods 15 per cent less than Mr. A, and has made $50 more. Is it not plain to see that selling goods for cash is of mutual interest to merchant and buyer?

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., Sept. 26, '98. }
The railroad between here and Jamestown is so well ballasted that it is almost impassable, even to the pedestrian.

Fifteen Syrians passed through this morning on the vestibule enroute to New Orleans. They were natural born jabberers.

H. C. Petty, one of Archdale's most popular young men, left Saturday night to enter Haverford College in Pennsylvania.

We regret very much that our subscribers who get their papers at the drugstore failed to get their paper Saturday night.

The Southbound breakfast train was about two hours late yesterday morning on account of the cylinder head being blown out.

Rev. W. R. Gillon, of Lexington, left this morning for Greensboro, after preaching two very able sermons at the Presbyterian church.

W. H. Wilson, proprietor of Jarrrell's hotel, was taken very ill yesterday with apoplexy. We are glad to state that he is some better today and trust that he will soon be out again.

J. L. Peacock, of Atlanta, who has been visiting his son, L. J. Peacock, returned home Saturday night. He was accompanied by Mrs. L. J. Peacock, who will spend several weeks visiting there.

J. M. Stevens asks us to state that his son Plato M., left his home last night and forbids any one from harboring him. He is sixteen years of age, rather large for his age and when he left he was wearing a black suit of clothes. Any information as to his whereabouts will be gladly received by Mr. Stevens.

Our community was in a great state of consternation yesterday caused by the absence of two of High Point's "400," W. C. Jones and C. A. Barbee. It was thought that they were either lost, strayed or stolen. We wired in every direction to find out if they had been sighted anywhere. Late in the afternoon we received a telegram from the chief of police of one of our leading eastern cities stating that they were in the town on social business. "Bill" and "Kit" returned this morning sound as a dollar to the gratification of their many friends.

Gospel Temperance Meeting.
The Union gospel services of the South Greensboro W. C. T. U. were held at Grace M. P. church last night. The pretty auditorium was packed full of attentive listeners and people were turned away for lack of room.

Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey had been selected to preach the sermon, which he did in an argumentative and able manner. He took the position that the human body, the grandest work of God, "fearfully and wonderfully made," belongs to God, and that man has no right to defile and destroy it by intemperance of any kind. This view was strongly and forcefully presented. It was an interesting discourse and gave those who heard it much to think about.

A Handsome Mascot.
Private Robert Croker, of High Point, passed through this morning enroute to Cedar Falls to visit relatives. He is a member of Co. D, Second regiment, and while at Land's End, S. C., he captured the champion mascot of his regiment. It is a little alligator 2 feet 10 inches long and is a handsome pet—if you don't look at his mouth. Private Croker and a few companions captured another 4 feet 6 inches long, but he was too big for a pet and they dispatched him.
The little fellow's age is estimated at 4 years.

Washington Jottings.
General Stewart L. Woodford has filed his resignation as Minister to Spain.
About 500 applications for pensions arising out of the war with Spain have been filed at the Pension office.
Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen will begin his vacation by inspecting the four principal navy yards of the Atlantic coast, going in the Dolphin first to Norfolk, then to League Island, then to Brooklyn and then to Boston.

REV. DR. E. A. YATES WRITES,

A Medley of Philosophy, Irony and Satire.

HE'S SEEKING FOR INFORMATION.

Confronted By a Strange Problem, the Good Doctor Is Restless to Have It Solved.

From the Durham Sun of Saturday we take the following:

Editor Sun:—I am not going to meddle with the great discussion nor "challenge the jury." I may after a while get the boys all righted up, but for the present I am after light. I have always been of an inquiring turn of mind, and when confronted with a strange problem, am restless until I solve it, or get some editor to unravel the thing for me, and hence I write to you.

The newspapers have been for some time advertising Trinity College in such a way that the recent opening of the institution had a larger number of students than she ever had before in all her history. This is a little puzzling, but my philosophy at this point relieves me somewhat.

Just after I had worried over the problem as to how the Philippine islands were to be governed, here comes this other botheration. In the midst of all the clatter about the Duke's money going to Trinity College, and the great sin of it, and all that, and the dire combustion and ruin touched off therefor in the newspapers, it seems so strange to me that nearly all the papers have missed the main point and have allowed the awful evil to run on unnoticed. Let me ask you as one of the saviors of this country, if this good old man's money is to go on poisoning the youth of this land, what will become of us in a few years?

I learn upon good authority that these Socratic corruptors of our youth have actually given this money poison to several colleges in the western part of our state, and that the colleges were so stupid that they never found out it was poison, and stood, with some others, with open mouths, seeming to say "pizen us agin;" that Mr. Geo. W. Watts, a Presbyterian member of the American Tobacco Company—(whatever that means)—has put the same kind of filthy lucre into a hospital in Durham, and that even the sick are not to be exempt from the poison;—and also from the same poisoner twenty-five thousand of filthy lucre to a Presbyterian theological institute, and that the poor young theologues are to be thus tampered with. And worse still, that the Duke has actually even slipped up on the blind side of the Quakers and injected some of their poison into Guilford College!

But worse still. We might leave the mountaineer colleges to take care of themselves and defend their literary "innards" from this Duke poison; we might leave the Quakers, who have long since got beyond quaking at small matters, to take care of themselves, and even the sick at Watts hospital may not know that they are being poisoned by American Tobacco Company money. But oh, even the heart of an iron monkey ought to soften at the ruin of the poor orphans at Oxford! Why, it is said that fifteen thousand dollars of this poison have gone to his home put up by the good for the little fatherless and motherless children! Will Duke never stop? And have the papers been paralyzed by the awful shock produced by the Duke's hurling three hundred thousand dollars of these poisoned wheels at Trinity College, so that they have not awakened to the awful evils which I have mentioned above? Will not the papers awake and save the Quakers and save North Carolina colleges? and save the orphans? and save the sick at Watts hospital? What is the matter with all these newspaper watchers on Zion's walls? Can this negligence on their part be explained? No cry has not gone up against any of these givings of money save and except that given to Trinity College!

Oh, well, what troubles me is I cannot distinguish the whichness from the what, or the wherefore from the when. The howness of the whoever has become so tangled up with the whence-ness of the somewhat that I am compelled, Mr. Editor, to ask you why is this thus?
