LISTEN SHERIFF HOSKINS!

Will You Give the Information Asked for Below?

H. T. White, colored, handed us the following, signed by himself, and asked us to publish the same. It is an open letter to Sheriff J. A. Hoskins, the present incumbent and republican candidate for re-election:

To Hon. J. A. Hoskins, sheriff of Guilford County, N. C.

Dear Sir: The fatal die has been cast and your name has again gone before the people of the good county of Guilford for the highest office in the county. This office, financially, is very desirable to a hungry office-seeker, to say nothing of its social influence. So now, sheriff, as the day of election is drawing so nigh, and the army of opposition is thick and strong, as a citizen of the county who has always tried to do my political duty, I think I have a right to have a few very important queries satisfactorily answered, both for my benefit as well as many other good citizens of our county.

You will doubtless remember, dear sheriff, that early in March last an humble and unpretentious citizen of your town and county made application to you for the simple position of tax collector, but I am sorry to say that our beloved sheriff not only failed to recognize my application but had me to understand that he had placed all places under his administration so far as the colored members of his party were concerned, under the strict civil service rules, and gave me as a test of my efficiency a trial in spelling the word "Mississippi" and running right off.

I failed to spell the word, not because of ignorance of geography but because I always considered it nonsense to shake fodder after a runaway horse. I think I could have if he would have stood long enough to listen. But I guess our sheriff didn't care to listen.

In my communication to His Highness, I asked him if the office was under civil service rule and as he did not answer me then, it will perhaps be well for him to answer now, as many others are now asking this same question, and if he does not answer the office of sheriff of this county may go under civil service rules and then the day of "Retribution" of which I warned him at the time will truly have come and woe to the illustrious sheriff.

Our sheriff will please recall to mind the card of H. T. White of Oct. 15th, 1897. If it has been lost or forgotten I can refresh his mind. We are republicans of course, but we are acting on Longfellows advice:
In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
Be not like dumb, driven cattle—
Be a hero in the strife.
Men who want our vote must remember us longer than up to election day. We have been tools in men's hands long enough to be used to elevate them to position and power, to then be forgotten till needed again. Yes, sir, Sheriff, that kind of business is becoming a thing of the past. Of this be you assured.

Is the office under civil service? I earnestly hope our dear sheriff will satisfactorily explain this matter so we can get it out of the way at once or it will no doubt be necessary to refer to this matter again, because the people are demanding an answer and must be answered.
For the present I remain your humble subject.

FEDERAL COURT OPENS.

Judge Hamilton G. Ewart Is on the Bench.

Federal court opened in the county court house in this city this morning at 10 o'clock, his Honor Judge Hamilton G. Ewart on the bench. This is Judge Ewart's first court in the capacity of federal court judge and it is, perhaps, a little more awkward to him than it will be by and by.

His Honor's charge to the grand jury occupied twenty-five minutes and was read from manuscript. It may be more impressive when the judge learns it by heart so that he can tell it to the jury without the use of his manuscript. Though brief, it was quite thorough and covered the ground from the selling of a one-cent stamp below the regular price to operating a "moonshine" still in the woods.

The attendance upon this term of court is, perhaps, larger than the last term, yet there are no very important cases to be tried, mostly for retailing, we are informed. Wilkes and Stokes counties are well represented, as usual, a large delegation from Stokes arriving on the noon C. F. & Y. V. train.

We have a complete line of Hill & Green's Little Giant Shoe Shoes, the best wearing child shoes on earth. Try a pair. Shrier sells them, 216 S Elm St.

SUNDAY'S TERRIBLE STORM.

People Rescued From Homes in Boats.

STORM RAGED NINETEEN HOURS.

Fernandina, Fla., and Brunswick, Ga., Are the Heaviest Losers—Great Loss of Life.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Savannah, Oct. 4.—Communication by courier has been established today with points in Florida which were cut off by the storm of Sunday. The reports received show great loss of life and damage to property of several million dollars.

Fernandina and Brunswick lost about a half million dollars each. Both of these cities are cut off by wire and the village of St. Mary's, Georgia, is wiped out. At Fernandina the water rose for several blocks in the city and people were rescued from their homes in boats. The roofs of nearly all buildings were blown off or damaged. Four churches were destroyed. Cargo after cargo of goods were completely blown away and the docks at the quarantine station were entirely destroyed. The employees escaped in rafts.

A large hotel and twenty cottages on Fernandina Beach were destroyed and the inhabitants floated ashore on rafts. The chief losers are Cooney, Eckstein Co., of Norfolk, Borden & Co., Fernandina, Atlantic Coast and Export Lumber Co., of Boston and Jacksonville, W. A. Evans, of Fernandina and George Baxter & Co., of New York.

All of Brunswick was inundated from four to six feet. The storm raged furiously for nineteen hours.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., Oct. 4, '98.
The regular monthly meeting of the board of aldermen was held last night in the mayors office. After setting aside a few complaints other business was transacted as follows:
Resolved that the cemetery committee be instructed to instruct the keeper of the cemetery not to allow any person to bury in any of the reserved lots without they pay for same. The street committee was directed to prosecute the work on the sidewalks with greater vigor and if the owners of the property will not do the work within thirty days after notice, the street overseer be directed to have the work done in good shape and tax the owner with the cost.

The use of Ben det dirt was disapproved by the board for sidewalks as it is not fit for such purposes. The board was instructed to request the citizens to plant trees and shrubbery in the cemetery and to beautify it in every way possible. There was some other business transacted though of no importance to the public.

The new guard house will be launched within a few days. We have not heard yet who will christen it, but it will doubtless be christened by the first person incarcerated in her tombs. We trust, however, that there will be no Bradley Richardson dispute over the christening of this structure.

Sad Case of Drowning at Philadelphia.

A GREAT BUT SILENT CROWD.

Watching The Divers as They Search For the Body of James Laundry Who Fell From a Boat.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—A great but silent crowd thronged the Cumberland street wharf today watching the divers searching for the body of James Laundry, who accidentally fell from a boat which was drawn under the wharf where the tide rose and drowned him before the rescuers could reach him.

All manner of efforts were tried to reach the unfortunate man while he called out to the party and urged them to hurry as the tide was crawling up. His father stood on the wharf and called to him to "Hold on." The divers made faithful efforts to reach him but failed to find him and the tide kept on rising and finally engulfed and drowned him.

THE NEW JUDGE.

A Swap of Offices—The New Candidate for Solicitor.

The following appointments were yesterday made and commissions for them were issued by the Governor:
William P. Bynum, Jr., of Greensboro, judge superior court for the Fifth Judicial district, vice Spencer B. Adams, resigned.

William D. Merritt, of Roxboro, solicitor of the Fifth Judicial district, vice W. P. Bynum, Jr., resigned.

These appointments also mean that there will be a corresponding change in the fusion ticket in the Fifth district. Merritt, who was nominated for judge, will become the candidate for solicitor and Bynum, who was nominated for solicitor, will be the candidate for judge.

This change has been in contemplation for some time. It was discussed at the meeting of the fusion conference committee more than a week ago, but nothing was done. Sunday Mr. Merritt came here to consult with Holton and Thompson and the Governor—the powers that put up and take down candidates at will. He told them that he and Mr. Bynum had agreed, provided it met with their royal highness to swap places. Holton said swap and swap they did.

Mr. Bynum arrived here on the morning train, in company with Mr. Holton. They went at once to republican headquarters at the Park Hotel. There Mr. Merritt joined them and the three proceeded to the capitol where Mr. Bynum wrote out his resignation as solicitor and the new commissions were made out.

This matter has been in contemplation for some time, but hung fire for the following reason:

It first came up on the question of appointment of a successor to Judge Adams. Adams asked the appointment of Merritt, the candidate for the place. He thought this would strengthen his own candidacy for congress, Merritt being a populist and the populists being the uncertain quantity.

The governor, however remembering that Holden once made a very big blunder in appointing him (Russell) judge at a very tender age, objected to Merritt on account of his youth and inexperience. Finally he declared he would not appoint him.

It was then that Merritt and Bynum agreed, since Merritt couldn't be appointed judge, to swap places on the ticket. The bargain was completed yesterday when they got their commissions. Mr. Bynum left on the afternoon train for Bladen county, where he begins a term of court today. Mr. Merritt went to Durham to attend his first court this week as solicitor.

William P. Bynum, Jr., the new judge, is a son of Judge W. P. Bynum. He was born August 1, 1861, in McDowell county. Four years later his parents moved to Stokes county. In 1883, young Bynum graduated from Trinity College. A year later he graduated from Dick and Dillard's law school, at Greensboro, and received his license. He was sworn in at Charlotte in February, by Judge MacRae. Immediately he began the practice of his profession in partnership with Judge Bynum, at Charlotte. Three years later he moved to Greensboro and has ever since been a resident of that place. In 1894 he was elected solicitor for the Fifth Judicial district.

The new solicitor, Mr. William D. Merritt, is 26 years old, the son of Dr. Merritt, of Person county. He has been practicing law five years and has in that time built up a successful business.—News & Observer.
