Wrinkles

Around the Eyes

Are usually caused by defective sight. Many women, and likewise men, look prematurely old from these wrinkles. The wrinkles in many cases can be removed by wearing correctly fitted glasses. To fit glasses correctly demands a thorough knowledge of refraction and the necessary instruments. We have both: hundreds of satisfied customers will say so.

APPEAL TO WHITE MEN

Regardless of Party, to Redeem the State.

The American continent was discovered by Columbus in 1492. It was then in the inherent possession of savage Indians, who were governed by ignorance and superstition, on which account the British drove them from post to pillar and introduced their own laws of monarchy as superior to Indian superstition, believing that all sovereignty, as vested in the monarchial head of their king, and that no subject had either the right nor power to exercise his own will, but owed allegiance to the will of the monarch over him.

This state of Indian superstition ruled in some parts of this continent, and English monarchy in other parts, for two hundred and eighty-four years, when the American colonies in 1776 discovered, too, the world, and for the world, that neither Indian ignorance and superstition nor British monarchy was worthy of the allegiance of an intelligent people.

But the great and glorious work of formulating a constitution or declaration of principles was left to that illustrious statesman Thomas Jefferson to mould into shape a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

The great democratic party of this nation, and of the world, was laid down by the father of democracy, Thomas Jefferson, in 1776, and he then and there organized the democratic party on the basis that all men were equal before the law and should be heard in all their grievances. But does any one believe that ever the idea of negro equality, socially, legislative, judicial or executive ever entered the brain of Mr. Jefferson? No; not a man living believes such an absurdity. The democratic idea of all men being equal does not apply to the white man and the negro, to a wise man and a fool, to an honest man and a thief, to a truthfult man and a liar. But it does apply to the monarch and his subjects; that they are all of one blood, and in that sense are born equal, and this is the sense and spirit of the American constitution today.

This great democratic party is the only safe body-guard of the State today; it is the only political body whose life, birth and existence is co-equal with the government itself. All other organized bodies have come and gone; they have all perished in and by their corrupt policy, while the democracy of our State was wrecked by the treachery of Grover Cleveland to his pledge of fidelity to their platform, and about 31,000 became dissatisfied and withdrew from the democratic principles or party in North Carolina and organized under the name of The People's or Populist party.

This act of hasty indiscretion opened the door for the negro party to walk into power in North Carolina. I say the "negro party" because they have a voting strength of 120,000 in this State, while the white republicans have only 30,000 voters, and the populist have a voting strength of 31,000. So the negro is 59,000 stronger in North Carolina than the white republicans and populist combined.

Then, if the Mississippi river is the great river of the State, because it is the largest river in the State, and all smaller rivers that fuse with it are tributaries to the Mississippi river, the negro is the great republican political river in North Carolina because it is over three times as large as the white republican tributary river, and the same may be said of the little white tributary populist river of 31,000 votes and as those white little streams can be seen and look nice and even look large, as they run over the pebbles of the brook, by themselves; but when they enter themselves into the great black republican sea of 120,000 negro voters, like the little river, they are swallowed by the big river, you stop on the shore and exclaim, little white pig river and little dog creek are lost, lost, lost, forever; lost! never to be seen nor their darling names to be sounded again as a political party. But the great democratic party is 150,000 strong in North Carolina. This river is now called "Great White River," 30,000 stronger than the black sea, 120,000 stronger than little white dog creek and 119,000 stronger than little white pig river.

Now suppose the democrats were to fold their arms and say we will not run a candidate for the next four years nor take any part in politics and leave the fight between the negroes, the white republicans and the populist. What would be the result? The negroes with 120,000 voters would be fools to fuse with either the white republicans of only 30,000 strong or the populist of 31,000 strong. The only political fusion then would be between the white republicans and the white populist and after they fused, the negro could de-

FEDERAL TROOPS ASKED FOR.

Governor Russell and Senator Pritchard Want Uncle Sam to Help Them in North Carolina.

Washington, Oct. 24.—At an informal cabinet meeting today at the White House, the President broached the subject of the possibility of having to send Federal troops into North Carolina during the November election. The gravity of the situation in that state is felt by administration officials here and nobody knows what may be the outcome. It has leaked out that Senator Pritchard has written a letter to the republican officials, stating his fears in plain language. He goes so far as to say that it is more than possible Governor Russell will call on President McKinley for the troops if there is not a change in the situation. Senator Pritchard states that the state troops are all in the government service, and not many are available to quell prospective riots. The views of Senator Pritchard and Governor Russell, which had been conveyed to the president, were fully explained by him to the cabinet officers. These members of the cabinet were present: Attorney General Griggs, Secretaries Alger, Long and Hay. Of course the President has no power to send Federal troops into the state until the Governor has made requisition for them, and show that he is unable to handle the situation with the forces at his command, and again Governor Russell could not call for Federal troops until the supposed rioting had actually occurred and he was able to show that he had exhausted all the efforts of the state to suppress it. With these facts well considered and understood, that while the president is said to be adverse to using Federal troops at election times, yet he will be prepared to act should the occasion demand, and comply with Governor Russell's requisition. It is understood that Senator Pritchard's letter was written before the riot near Lumberton, N. C., and is based on the intense race prejudice and the reported wholesale purchase of arms.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Senator Pritchard has suggested bringing United States troops into North Carolina, ostensibly to preserve the peace, but as democrats here believe to influence the coming congressional and legislative elections in the state. He has written two letters here, one to the President and one to Chairman Babcock, of the republican congressional committee. Both are of similar tenor. In his letter to the President, which formed the subject of a special cabinet meeting today, and which was written last Friday and received this morning Senator Pritchard says that democrats have raised the race issue in this campaign; that most intense feeling exists; that democrats have instituted a system of intimidation of negroes that threatens the peace of the State, that whites are arming and that colored people are buying weapons wherever purchasable, although merchants, a majority of whom are Democrats, will not sell weapons to the colored people. The most serious trouble is looked for in counties where colored people predominate. It is charged that Democrats are buying weapons in those counties to intimidate colored voters to keep them away from the polls. A general discussion of Senator Pritchard's letter followed its reading by the President, who handed it to Attorney General Griggs. The gravity of the situation was admitted by members of the Cabinet after the meeting adjourned. During the session of the Cabinet Chairman Babcock called, but when informed that the President had laid Senator Pritchard's letter before the Cabinet, he did not send his letter in, feeling, as he said, that the letter would receive the consideration if demanded. He was fearful the President might overlook it in the accumulation of matters.

Attorney General Griggs was seen by the Post correspondent this afternoon. He produced Senator Pritchard's letter—two type-written pages, beginning: "My Dear Mr. President," "This is a private political letter," said Mr. Griggs, in response to a request for a copy, "and it would be manifestly improper for me to make it public." He said it referred to the North Carolina situation which, he said, was represented as threatening.

"Will you send Deputy United States marshals to preserve the peace?" he was asked. "Marshals have authority to appoint additional deputies if necessity arises, and I will approve such appointments when made," he replied.

Mr. Griggs said that no United States troops would be sent into the state unless called for by Governor Russell, unless the United States mails were interfered with. "In that case," he said, "troops will be sent whether the governor calls for them or not."

Reflecting a moment, Mr. Griggs said: "The people of North Carolina, South Carolina, California or New Jersey may as well understand, now as at any other time, that when riot or violence is threatened and governors ask for troops of the government, they will be sent, and when sent they will preserve the peace if they have to overrun the state. Order must and will be maintained there."

Attorney General Griggs has the entire matter in charge, and if Governor Russell should deem the situation to be so critical as to demand troops, he will communicate with Mr. Griggs, upon whose advice the president will act.

The object of Governor Russell's recent mysterious visit to Senator Pritchard, in the light of Pritchard's letter to the president, is now made clear.

As there are no state troops in service, should armed force be necessary national troops will have to be sent.

Inquiry at the war department develops that the Second regiment will be mustered out by October 29th. There is no probability that even in an emergency this regiment will be retained for possible service, as it is believed to be in sympathy with the white movement.

Adjutant General Corbin said this evening that he had no official knowledge of contemplated trouble in North Carolina and had not been asked for troops. In case troops are ordered to North Carolina they will be from Atlanta, and Northern regiments will be sent.

Assistant Attorney General Boyd left here today for North Carolina, to remain until after the election. He will keep Griggs posted.—News and Observer special.

A DEFIANT NEGRO JAILED.

An Old Offender Met his Match and Marched Before a Pistol.

Walter Hutson, a big meerschaum-colored coon who has an idea that he is the strongest man since Sampson, was arrested yesterday for beating a colored woman at a house in Warnersville. Policeman Jeffries made the arrest, but when he was about to handcuff the negro, he refused to allow it and abused the officer, giving him to understand that he could whip the whole police force. Officer Jeffries then stepped off a few feet, leveled his pistol at Hutson and told him in a way that showed the negro that he meant what he said, that if he did not turn and march double quick time toward the jail that he would fire. Hutson was conquered. He turned and marched at the point of the pistol until they met officer Scott, when both the officers applied their nippers and took the negro to jail.

Hutson is an old offender and is wanted here on several charges. For months he has defied the police and has always escaped arrest, before. During the fight the woman succeeded in reaching Hutson's head with a chair and made an ugly bump on his forehead. She was also locked up.

Asked What Vessels Are Capable of Being Armed—The Swiss of the British Lion's Tail.

By Cable THE TELEGRAM.

London, Oct. 25.—All interest today is centered in Lord Salisbury's addition to the Fashoda correspondence which is contained in the British Blue Book upon the subject. Conservative newspapers express themselves as highly pleased with his rejoinder to the French Yellow Book. They declare it dispels the idea that the British Premier is willing to negotiate the whole question. The Liberal and Radical organs still consider that Marquis Salisbury's attitude admits the negotiations as promising a friendly arrangement. The entire press, however, scouts the idea of the cession of Fashoda, as coming within the sphere of discussion.

London, Oct. 25.—The admiralty has sent a circular to the leading steamship companies asking them to submit reports indicating what ships in their respective fleets are capable of being particularly armed for their own defense. The design is to arm these ships with a view of reducing as far as possible the navy in case of war. The government contemplates supplying the necessary guns and ammunition.

The young ladies democratic club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the President, Miss Virginia Hamner. We trust that every true white lady in this city will join this club and will do all that is within her power to help on this great cause.

Upon invitation from the democratic club, Zeb. Vance Taylor, mayor of Greensboro, came up last night to address the club on the political issues. He was met at the train by several members of the club and the cornet band. After the roll of the club was increased to over 400, Mr. Taylor was introduced by President Doda-mead who said that a man with his (Taylor's) name could not be anything but a democrat and a white man (great applause.) The club could not have secured a better man for this occasion. He made a splendid speech. During his speech he read a letter from Dr. D. W. C. Benbow, which appeared in the Greensboro Record, stating that the situation in the east had not been overdrawn. In closing Mr. Taylor said that he trusted that the club had been as much inspired by his coming as he was himself. They were.
