HON. D. F. CALDWELL DEAD.

He Passed Away at His Residence Last Night.

WAS IN HIS EIGHTY-FIFTH YEAR

A Conspicuous Figure, a Noted Legislator and a Good Financier—A Brief Sketch of His Life.

Hon. D. F. Caldwell is dead. The news was not unexpected, for he has been in feeble health for some time. Some months ago he was stricken with paralysis but in a measure rallied. He did not, however, regain his former vigor and day before yesterday he suffered another stroke. At eight o'clock last night he breathed his last.

He was a remarkable man. The Cyclopaedia of Eminent and Representative Men of the Carolinas of the Nineteenth Century contains a sketch of him from which we make the following extract:

"David Franklin Caldwell, son of Thomas and Elizabeth Caldwell, was born one mile west of the city of Greensboro, N. C., Guilford county, on the 5th of November, 1814. His parents removed to Greensboro when he was but one year old, and his scholastic training was obtained in the schools of that city. For a time he worked on his father's farm, and in 1841 left the farm to enter the mercantile business in Greensboro, and continued in that enterprise until 1849. In 1848 he was elected to the house of representatives of the state, and was re-elected for five successive terms, only retiring in 1861. In 1860 he began the study of law, and one year later was admitted to the bar. He practiced at Greensboro until the new code was adopted, when he abandoned his profession in disgust. In 1864 he was elected county attorney and served until his retirement from the law. He was a delegate to the constitutional convention of 1865, and in the same year was nominated for congress, but was counted out by Gen. Canby, at Charleston, S. C. In 1872 he was a delegate to the convention that nominated Greeley and Brown for the presidency and vice-presidency, respectively, of the United States, and in 1879 was sent to the state senate, where he remained one term, and in the same year was appointed a member of the committee chosen to compromise the state debt. Mr. Caldwell's course as a member of the legislature was dignified and able. In 1848 he framed and had passed a tax bill, revolutionizing the tax system of the state, and despite the bitterest opposition, finally brought his measure into so great favor with the people that he was practically their unanimous choice for the legislature until his voluntary retirement from public life. He was more than prominent in the organization and building of the North Carolina railroad, and was a prime mover in the establishment of the Greensboro & Cheraw and Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroads."

In 1889 he organized the Bank of Guilford and was made its president, a position which he filled with ability and success until just a few weeks ago when upon filing his resignation, he was succeeded by Mr. R. W. Brooks.

"Uncle Frank" as almost everybody called him, has for many years been a member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral will be conducted from that church tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock by Rev. Dr. Smith, the pastor, and interment will be made in the cemetery at Buffalo church, about three miles north of the city.

Washington, Dec. 30.—A bill to revive the ranks of admiral and vice-admiral of the navy will be favorably reported to congress early in January. It is sure that Dewey will be admiral and there will be a contest as to whether Sampson or Schley will be vice-admiral.

NO DIFFICULTIES

In The Way of The Control of Our New Colonies.

New Haven, Dec. 30.—Prof Simon Baldwin, of Yale, justice of the supreme court and former president of the American Bar Association, in an address before today's session of the American Historical Economic Association, said there were no constitutional difficulties in the way of the permanent control of our new colonies. Until congress acts, the president can govern the new possessions with no other authority than that with which his office is clothed by the constitution. Of the treaty is ratified, then congress can replace the temporary government by whatever form of administration that is deemed proper not inconsistent with the constitution.

THE BANQUET LAST NIGHT

Given By the Cone Export and Commission Company.

ENJOYABLE EVENT AT BENBOW.

Manager Morton Charmed the Guests By His Elegant Spread—There Were Speeches and Music.

As previously announced in this paper the Cone Export and Commission Company entertained their party of representatives of different mills and travelling men, together with a number of invited guests, at the Benbow last night. About nine o'clock the guests began to assemble in the drawing room, and the march to the banquet hall was led by Mr. Moses Cone, president of the Cone company, and Hon. Z. V. Taylor, mayor of Greensboro, while the Italian orchestra played a charming selection.

The banquet table was arranged in the shape of the letter T, a suggestion by Mr. Morton in honor of the travelling men present. The elegant and tempting menu was as follows: Lynhaven oysters on the half shell; cold quail; cold duck with calves foot and wine jelly; cold turkey; spiced oysters; chicken salad; iced asparagus; saratoga chips; celery; oives; mixed pickles; lettuce; orange sherbet; assorted cakes; coffee; fruit.

Manager Morton was present, and was called on for a speech; he, of course, responded. President Moses Cone occupied the head of the table with Vice-president Ceasar Cone and Secretary and Treasurer R. Lindheim, in position to assist in entertaining the visitors. Dr. Geo. A. Mebane was toast master, and was responded to in a happy strain by a number of those present. It was a delightful event and will be pleasantly remembered by all the participants.

Some of the visitors left the city this morning, others will go tonight, while still others will remain until tomorrow. Several of the party who have been here before are gratified and delighted at the growth of Greensboro, and a few who were never here before were greatly surprised at finding a city here with such evidences of thrift and push.

All hail to the Cone Export and Commission Company; and warm greetings to their friends and representatives, whom they so lavishly entertained at the Benbow last night.

AFRO-AMERICAN COUNCIL.

Bishop Walters Charges South With Barbarity to Negroes.

Washington, Dec. 29.—The first annual meeting of the Afro-American council opened in this city today. Bishop Alexander Walters, of New Jersey, presided. The council grew out of the meeting of prominent colored men at Rochester, September 15, and was called in the interest of the amelioration of the condition of the Afro-American race. Rev. I. L. Thomas delivered the address of welcome to which Rev. J. M. Henderson, of New York, responded. Bishop Walters delivered a lengthy address in which he reviewed the condition of the negroes from the time of the revolution to today. The south, he said, must treat the negro as it would have the negro treat the south. The south could no longer shield its barbarity to the negro with the excuse of protecting its women.

Bishop Walters could not understand the motives of those members of the race who counsel inaction. With the President silent in his message upon the riots at Wilmington, the time had come for the colored man to act; to act with firmness, calmness and after due deliberation. Every reference to the need of reforms in the south brought forth thunderous applause and expressions of approval.

To Prevent Dreyfus' Return.

Paris, Dec. 30.—An enthusiastic meeting of two thousand members of the League of Patriots was held today and resolutions passed pledging the league to prevent the return of Dreyfus to France, even at the cost of a revolution.

NO LEGISLATION REQUIRED

For Government to Care for Confederate Cemeteries.

OFFICIALS WANT INFORMATION.

White Trying to Get 3d N. C. Kept in Service—Departments Closed For Funeral of Senator Morrill.

SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 30.—In line with the present utterances of President McKinley on his southern tour, relative to the care of the graves of the confederate dead by the north, as well as the south, the officials of the war department have sent communications to the Adjutant General of several of the southern states, requesting information as to the location of the various Confederate cemeteries. At the war department it was impossible to learn much about the communications excepting the fact that they had been sent to the various southern states under the direction of the secretary of war. It is thought that the only object at present is to get the exact location of the cemeteries for the use of the department and in the event that it is deemed later advisable to put the president's suggestion into practical operation, the war department would have the data at hand to act intelligently in the matter. Secretary Alger, and other officials at the war department regard President McKinley's suggestion as one which should be adopted, and will do all in their power to have it carried out. It is said at the department by many of the officials that no legislation by congress would be required for the purpose of caring for the cemeteries in the south the same as is done in the case of the national cemeteries in the north and elsewhere throughout the union. At the office of the adjutant general of the war department it was stated yesterday that when the replies from the various states in the south are received at the war department they will be placed on the files of the department for future reference. On next decoration day, May 30th, it is likely that the country will witness the suggestion of the President of the United States carried into effect for the first time.

Assistant Adjutant Cosby, who is stationed at Sumnersville, South Carolina, is in the city on a visit to his father and mother during the Christmas holidays. The father is a pay director in the United States navy. Adjutant Cosby was seen the other day, and he stated that the desire on the part of the volunteers to be mustered out of the service is becoming general, and the president's action is awaited with considerable interest by the men now located at the various winter camps in the southern states. Mr. Cosby will return to his post of duty shortly after New Year's day.

Governor Russell's appointment of Day as superintendent of the state penitentiary, is criticised by North Carolina republicans in the city on the ground that Day is a democrat. Notwithstanding the criticism from the party friends of the governor, the fact remains that Mr. Day has not of late years affiliated with the democratic party, and at the presidential election he voted for McKinley for president. It is said also that at the last election Day voted for the republican nominee for congress in his congressional district.

Representative White, the colored member of the house from the first North Carolina district saw the president yesterday and requested him to continue the 3rd North Carolina (colored) regiment now stationed at Macon, Georgia, in the service. The president did not promise to grant Mr. White's request, but stated that the list has not yet been decided upon, and until he receives it from the war department he cannot state what regiments will be mustered out, or what regiments will be retained. Among North Carolina people here the impression has been that the 3rd regiment would be one of the regiments to be mustered out.

As a mark of respect to the memory of the late Senator Morrill, of Vermont, the executive departments, by order of the president will be closed tomorrow, the day of the funeral after eleven o'clock.

Senator Daniel, who has been at Lynchburg since the adjournment of congress, accompanied by his wife and son, has left for an extended trip to Havana.

Representative White stated the other day in addition to Mr. Pearson, that one or two other republican candidates for congress at the last election would enter contests against the democratic congressmen-elect.
