NO QUORUM--NO ELECTION

Will Be No Change Until After Quay's Trial.

THE LINES ARE CLOSELY DRAWN

Quay and His Lieutenants Appear to be Hopeful, but the Facts Seem Quite Antagonistic.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Harrisburg, Jan. 30-It is believed there will be no change in the senatorial vote until after Quay's trial is over, which is set for Feb. 20th. The lines are closely drawn and it is hopeless to expect a break under the existing circumstances.

Quay and his lieutenants declare withevery show of confidence that he will be re-elected but the facts seem antagonistic. A quorum today would be greatly to Quay's advantage, but the democrats and anti-Quay republicans will not participate in the vote for fear of some trick.

Later-No quorum. The vote stood: Quay, 35; Jenks, 4.

OPPOSES THE DISPENSARY.

Mr. Cone Says It Is Sure to Impede Our Progress.

Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 30, '99. To the Editor:

Dear Sir:-I was busily engaged in New York last week endeavoring to organize one of the largest manufacturing corporations yet located in Greensboro, when my attention was called to the present agitation for a dispensary law. I could not believe it possible, in these days of advancing civilization and respect for the personal rights of the individual, that a town which I have been telling everybody is the coming town of the state, should so deliberately enter upon a path certain to stop its progress.

I have been explaining to prejudiced northern investors that North Carolina has turned a new leaf, that there will be no more repudiation, no more populism, no more attacks on prosperty or individual rights in the state and that, especially in Greensboro, the stranger will be welcomed with liberality and open-handed hospi-

I have never known a town in which this question was constantly agitated which prospered, and we all know that when the "dispensary" is established, those of us opposed to it will agitate for its discontinuance, and, finally, it will be discontinued, all of which will be bad for the town. The business men, however much they, as we all do, desire the good will and friendship of the preachers and church, do not want to see our business go down and our prosperity interfered with over these personal questions. The church cannot prosper and do good and increase in membership and prosperity when there is no prosperity in the community. Every one knows how unsalable real estate was in Greensboro three years, ago and that today it has a market value. Are holders of property willing to see the former pass dispensary law, and they will find themselves accommodated. The merchant, the real estate owner and dealer, the lawyer, the banker, the clerk, the carpenter, the laborer, in Greensboro is today in better prosperity. comparatively, than in any other town in the state. Are they going to put an end to all that? Dispensaries may be all right for small, provincial, back-woods towns, but not for enterprising and up-to-date cities. We all know how the traveling public feel on this subject and that enterprise will not settle in a community when one part of the people try to regulate the personal rights of the other. What investor will come here with his money under such circumstances? I would much rather see absolute prohibition than this "dispensary" method of forcing men to regulate their appetites.

I say frankly that of all the enterprises I am connected with, and have directly or indirectly influenced to come to Greensboro, not one would have come had we thought such laws would be sprung on us. If there is anything that will kill a town, when others, its competitors, are enjoying all the rights and privileges of an advanced civilization, it is when similar rights and privileges of its own citizens are limited and curtailed. Cannot any one see how Raleigh, Durham, Winston and Charlotte would each benefit at our expense, with such a law in operation here? Can any one imagine the progressive, public-Charlotte passing such a law?

I do not believe that when the time comes, a majority in this community can be found for this proposition, and if it can, it will be unfair, it will be wrong, for such a majority to take away from the minority personal rights and iberties of this kind.

Very truly yours, Moses H. Cone.

Ten firemen were compelled to jump from the burning buildings to the street, and one of them severely injured.

GRENSBORO BOND BILL PASSES. Also Mr. Winston's Bill Flaking Co-

habitation a Felony. Raleigh, Jan. 28-The senate was called to order at 10 o'clock. Prayer was offered by Senator Jones. After reports of committees and the introduction of bills, the calendar taken up and bills as follows passed final reading: To repeal chapter 112, laws of 1895, and chapter 172, laws of 1897, relating to the extension of the boundaries of Mt. A bill to repeal section 3,113 that a local option election may be held in any month during the year, instead of in June, as the law now stands, and on a petition of one-fourth of the citizens of a township, instead of one-half, as formerly. Though not germane the general principal of local option was brought under discussion. Senator Bryan did uot believe in local option. He said prohibition did not prohibit, and only led to evasion of the law and the curtailing of man's rights. High license-say $500 to spirited, liberal, up-to-date, city of $1,000, or even $5,000-was the best policy.

Senator McIntyre did not agree with this view. He said that ten years ago in Lumberton women and children were not safe from drunken men and that general lawlessness prevailed. This was under the high license system. Now, he said, there was local option in Lumberton; there were sobriety and dency and not 100 arrests in a year. He urged that religion and the women and children of North Carolina be given the same chance, at least, as the barroom people of the state.

Senator Ward said that he wished to propose an amendment to the bill, that cities and counties should be included in the bill, in addition to townships, for, he said, as the measure stands, whiskey could be driven from one township to another where there was no police surveilance, and to be effective its provisions should apply it is believed that all of them permore generally. Many bills were introduced, among which was one by Mr. Alexander, of Rutherford, to create the "Vance textile department" of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. The bill simply amends section 9, public laws of 1897, chapter 410, by adding to said section: "It shall be the duty of said board to establish and maintain a department of the college in which shall be taught the manufacture of textile goods."

The bill introduced by Winston, of Bertie, to make cohabitation between the whith and black races a felony, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than four months or in the state prison for not more than five years came up for consideration with a favorable report from the committee. The bill evoked considerable discussion. Speaker Connor called Hon. Locke Craig to the chair and took the floor in advocacy of the measure. Ex-Judge Allen and Mr. Justice opposed the bill on the ground that it would provoke blackmail and fraud.

An aye and nay vote was demanded on the vote. The bill passed second reading by a vote of 62 to 24. Ray, of Macon, objected to the passage of the bill on its third reading.

Winston declined to give his consent to postponement and the bill passed its final reading. "A clincher" was then put on the bill by a motion to reconsider and lay on the table.

The bill to regulate the measurement of timber came up with an unfavorable report. A substitute was offered by the committee. Jones, of Pender, the author of the bill, said that there was no uniform rule for timber measurement in the state, and that such laws were usual. Winston, of Bertie, offered an amendment excluding Bertie and Hertford from the operation of the bill. He declared that the proposed enactment would work a great injustice to the seller. Leatherwood opposed the bill. He said it would do Western North Carolina a great injustice and was the worst measure yet introduced in the legislature. He declared further that the bill if enacted, would drive capital from the state. Rountree favored that such an important matter should be carefully considered, and he asked that the bill be recommitteed to the committee on propositions and griev-Chatham county; to incorporate the ances. MR. KITCHIN IS EULOGIZED | NI

For His Speech on the Army Reorganization Bill.

THE BILL'S CHANCES NOT BRIGHT.

Only Three North Carolina Congressmen Favor It-They are Messrs. White, Linney and Pearson.

Special to THE TELEGRAM. Washington, Jan. 30.-The speech of Representative Kitchin, of North Carolina, upon the army reorganization bill, which is now pending in the house, was one of the best that has been delivered by the opposition to to the measure. Mr. Kitchin has received and is receiving many congratulations on account of his effort, and it is believed that it will be an important aid in killing the measure in the house, if it is accomplished. So far as can be learned the majority of the North Carolina delegation in the house will vote against the bill to increase the army. So far as known there are only three members of the nine who are favorable to its passage, Representatives White, Linney and Pearson. The adoption of the amendment reducing the army from the original figure proposed, 100,000 to 50,000, will undoubtedly aid in passing the bill through the house, as many republicans, in view of the reduction will give the measure their vote tomorrow, who otherwise would not have supported the bill at all. The vote upon the opposition wil' undoubtedly register their strongest vote upon a motion to recommit the bill, which will probably be made by Representative Hay, of the committee on military affairs, who is leading the opposition in the house. Upon a motion to rethe democrats, but whether there will be enough to carry the motion remains

The chances for the passage of the bill through the senate, as it now stands, are not very bright. Senator Butler is opposed to the increase, and he stated the other day that he does not believe that the senate will pass the house bill. If any measure is enacted into law at this session, it will be a compromise measure. Among the petitions presented to the senate on Saturday was one by Sena tor Pritchard, of North Carolina, on behalf of the state senate and assembly, reduesting that an appropriation be made to establish a light beacon at the Cape Channel in Pamlico Sound. In the house of representatives a similar petition was presented on behalf of the state legislature, by Representative White.

Senator Butler, by request, has introduced a bill in the senate to regulate the service, and fix the hours of policemen in the District of Columbia. The measure provides for the limiting of the hours of policemen to eight hours per day, as a day's service. -Senator Pritchard introduced one or two bills Saturday, for Senator Elkins, of West Virginia, who was called home on account of the senatorial contest in West Virginia. One of the bills provides for an increase of salary for the second and third assistant secretaries of state. The other measure provides for an increase of salary of the consul at Windsor, Nova Scotia. Among the late nominations confirmed by the senate is that of Ella C. Peace, to be postmaster at Oxford, Granville county, North Carolina. The nomination was confirmed by the senate late Saturday night, and she will be duly commissioned.

It is announced that Mrs. James Baker, wife of assistant librarian of the senate, will not return to Washington for several weeks, owing to the death of her sister, Mrs. Hamilton Erwin, which took place at Morganton, North Carolina, on Monday last.
