SHRIER-BENDHEIM.

One of the Most Beautiful Weddings Ever Witnessed in Alexandria.

The following account of the marriage of Mr. M. B. Shrier, of this city and Miss Minnie Bendheim, of Alexandria, is taken from yesterday's Alexandria Gazette.

Mr. Magnus B. Shrier, of Greensboro, N. C., and Miss Minnie Bendheim, daughter of Mr. D. Bendheim, of this city, were married in Odd Fellows' Hall, on North Columbus street, last night. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Stern, of Washington. The bride was becomingly attired in white silk, with lace veil and carried a bouquet. She entered the hall on the arm of her father, and was met at the altar by the groom. The groom was attended by his cousin, Jacob Shrier and Miss Shrier acted as maid of honor. The ushers were J. B. Shrier, J. Dreyfus, Aleck Kaufmann, F. Bendheim, Sol. Meyer and L. Ruben. After the ceremony an elaborate reception was held and dancing was kept up until a late hour. Guests were present from Greensboro, Washington, Cleveland, Baltimore and elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Shrier will reside in Greensboro. It was generally conceded that the entire affair was one of the pleasantest ever witnessed in Alexandria.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

The Capitalization of the Cotton Fannel Factory Company.

The news has already been given in these columns that another new enterprise of mammoth proportions is to be installed in Greensboro. Writing about this Mr. G. T. Kearsley says in the Manufacturers' Record of this week:

The most important development of the week at this point has been the closing of contracts, securing to Greensboro the enterprise referred to in my last letter, which is a mill for manufacturing cotton fannels. The company is headed by Messrs. E. & H. Sternberger, of Clio, S. C.; Cone Export & Commission Co., of Greensboro, and interests are also held by northern capitalists. This company has a capitalization of $1,000,000, of which $300,000 has been paid in, and the plant will be promptly installed, which is claimed will be the largest cotton mill in the south, with one exception.

Cotton fannel is now exclusively manufactured in the north, and this development is but another evidence of facilities offered by this section in the manufacture of cotton fabrics.

STATE vs. ALFRED GIBSON.

What Will the Verdict Be?—Some Strong Speeches.

We stated yesterday that Solicitor Brooks was conducting the prosecution alone in the case of Alfred Gibson, charged with rape. We were unaware then, that he was assisted by Mr. G. Sam Bradshaw. The taking of evidence was finished yesterday afternoon and Mr. Bradshaw opened the argument, making a capital speech. The argument has consumed the whole of today. Messrs. Staples and Schenck spoke this morning, both making strong speeches. Solicitor Brooks began speaking when court opened this afternoon and is now making a weighty speech, asking for the defendant's life. He is the closing speech and it is likely that a verdict will be reached today.

Verdict of the jury returned at 4:20—not guilty.

Chinese Measuring Party.

The young ladies' missionary society of West Market street M. E. church gave a Chinese Measuring Party last night at the residence of Mrs. Trotter on Ashstreet, the proceeds of which will go to educate the society's girls in China. The admission was five cents for every foot, and one cent for each extra inch in height, and the young ladies and gentleman turned out well, the receipts being about $17.00. The parlors were handsomely decorated with Chinese parasols, lanterns, etc., numerous parlor games were indulged in, refreshments were served, and every one present spent a very enjoyable evening.

Distributing Free Tickets.

Mr. J. M. Cochran, of Atlanta, is in the city in the interest of the Coca Cola company. He is distributing a number of free tickets good at any fountain where that delicious and refreshing drink is dispensed. If you get anything that looks like a ticket, examine it before you throw it down. It may be good for a glass of Coca Cola.

THE PHILIPPINE SITUATION.

Business Is Proceeding in Spite of Excitement of the Last Two Days.

—Affairs Are More Quiet.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, Feb. 24—Secretary Long took to the cabinet this morning two cipher cablesgrams from Admiral Dewey, dated this morning, one of which says:

"For political reasons the Oregon should be sent here at once."
The other says:

"The Yorktown has arrived and the Charleston and Petree are cruising around the Philippines. Affairs are more quiet."

CABLE FROM OTIS.

Washington, Feb. 25—General Otis cabled today: "On the nights of the 21st, and 22nd and yesterday morning the insurgent troops gained access to the outskirts of the city behind our lines. Many are invading; about a thousand entrenched themselves and were completely routed yesterday. Loss in killed and wounded about five hundred and two hundred prisoners were taken. Our loss is very slight. The city is quiet, confidence is being restored and business is progressing."

THE PRESENT SITUATION.

Manila, Feb. 24—Owing to the wholesale arrests of all suspected Filipinos yesterday and the clearance of the streets by seven o'clock last night the threatened renewal of the scenes of the previous night did not occur with the exception of a few shots in the neighborhood of the penitentiary. The city is quiet as possible, but outside of Manila the rebels are very active. Near Calocan there have been several lively skirmishes. At daylight the enemy was driven back with severe loss.

The feeling in the city is much improved today and business generally has been resumed. Hughes police is generally commended for preserving excellent order. The Scandia arrived last night with the Twentieth Infantry.

CONTINUED SKIRMISHING.

Manila, Feb. 24, 4:35 p. m.—Despite the excitement of the past two days, business is proceeding as usual and there is general confidence in the ability of the authorities to maintain order. American women were sent on board transport to safeguard them against danger. Sharpshooting has practically ceased but there is continued skirmishing. In McArthur's front one American was killed and four wounded this morning. The Utah battery this morning bombarded the church San Francisco Delmonte, which was used by the insurgents as a fortress from which they attacked the South Dakota's yesterday.

An Atrocious Negro

Jonesboro, Feb. 23—Some time ago there appeared in the town a negro by the name of George Edwards, who claimed to be a clergyman of the Baptist church. He was modest and humble in his way, and was not long in gaining the affections of Penny McCoy, twenty years his senior, and who is possessed of some cash and a good tract of ground. They were married. It turns out that the negro is not a preacher, but a veritable demon. In the last month he has beaten his wife cruelly several times; tied her out in the yard during the cold snap; stuck a pitchfork in her arm; and finally, last Saturday, stuck the prong of an iron table fork in the old woman's eye, destroying the sight thereof. It was only by accident that his atrocities became known. The negroes were on the point of lynching him. But he is now safe in jail at Carthage, and Penny doesn't want to see him any more.

Defaulting Cashier of The National Bank of Asheville, Brought Back.

Lawrence Pulliam, formerly one of the most popular men in Western North Carolina, was brought to Greensboro last night, by Deputy Marshal H. M. Moore, and J. H. Shine, of San Francisco, Cal., and turned over to Marshal Millikan who placed him in jail.

The case of Lawrence Pulliam is a sad and remarkable one. He was at one time looked upon as one of the brightest men in his section and when Judge Douglas was marshal of the Western district, he appointed Pulliam his chief deputy. Later he held the position of cashier of the National Bank, of Asheville. He occupied a high place in the society of that city. In 1893 he defaulted and absconded with several thousand dollars and since that time nothing had been heard from him until, on the 20th of January last he confessed his crime and surrendered to the authorities at Oakland, California.

He was brought back to North Carolina disgraced and looking little better than a tramp.

He has a bright eye, an unusually intelligent face, his shoulders are somewhat bent and his look despondent. There is little in his personal appearance to recall the high position which he once so acceptably filled. He will have nothing whatever to say of his trouble and in talking to Marshal Millikan said nothing except that he thought he would be able to give the bond of $5,000 required of him. He told Mr. Millikan that he would answer no questions and ask none. He is now in jail here, where if he is unable to give bond, he will be kept until the special term of Federal court which convenes in Asheville on March 6th.

Charlotte Loses its Committee.

The "Queen City" is making a gallant fight for the dispensary. They went to Raleigh yesterday nearly 200 strong with petitions representing a majority of everything that is white in Mecklenburg county, eight-tenths of the property and nine-tenths of the decency and yet Senator Osborne "demanded" of the committee an unfavorable report, which was made. The advocates of the measure will fight until the finish and promise to be there in strong numbers on next Tuesday, when the bill comes up before the senate.

Senator Osborne should have remembered the advice of that great man who once said: "Avoid all entangling alliances." Speed the day when the influence of the saloon will be eliminated from our politics! Pityable spectacle! An ex-attorney general of the state prevented from representing the will of his constituents by the bonds in which he is bound to saloon men.

NATIONAL CAPITAL GOSSIP.

Opinions as to the Contested Election Cases.

KITCHIN ON THE AMENDMENT.

Washington Newspaper Man to Wed in Asheville—Thought General Wheeler has lost his Seat.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, Feb. 24—The refusal of the house of representatives yesterday afternoon to consider the Virginia contested election case of Brown vs. Swanson, will end all efforts to get the case before the house at this session, and Mr. Swanson will retain his seat until the end of his term. The vote against consideration yesterday was even more emphatic than on the last occasion when Representative Crumpacker attempted to get the case before the house. General Walker, chairman of the committee, was not present when the vote was taken. The vote yesterday, which is virtually a vote declaring Mr. Swanson entitled to the seat, is very gratifying to his friends who have stood by him in his contest. Many republicans believe that he was legally elected over his republican opponent, and expressed this opinion by voting in the affirmative. Other republicans who believe Mr. Swanson entitled to his seat, but who did not care to go on record against the motion to consider, found it convenient to attend to other business yesterday, which required their presence outside of the legislative hall during the voting. The consequence was that when the house met yesterday there was a correspondingly large representation on the democratic side of the house.

There are a few other contested election cases from the south remaining on the house calendar, including two cases from South Carolina, one of them being a contest for the seat of Representative Elliott. It is not likely that any of the remaining cases will be considered, as the house does not seem disposed to waste its time in their consideration during the last days of the session, when there is likely to be a rush of business which it is important should be disposed of before adjournment.

Representative Kitchin, of North Carolina, the only democratic member of the present house from the state, and who will also be a member of the next congress, says that the amendment to the constitution regarding elections in North Carolina, will pass by a large majority. The people of the state, he says, are determined to add the amendment to the constitution of the state, and he thinks that it will rid the state of negro rule, and of the disgraceful acts which have characterized the fusion regime in the state. Mr. Kitchin does not think there is the slightest ground for the law being declared unconstitutional.

The southern contingent in Washington is much interested in the approaching marriage of Miss Lulu Dressel, formerly of Columbus, Ohio, who is now living with her mother at Asheville, North Carolina, to Mr. Howard N. Thompson, a well known Washington correspondent. The wedding, it is said will be very quiet, and will take place early in March at Asheville. Mr. Thompson is connected with the Associated Press, and with several newspapers in the south.

It is thought that the house will adopt the report of the committee in which they declare that Gen. Wheeler and other members of the house, who accepted commissions in the volunteer army have lost their seats in congress. The decision of the house in this matter may have an important bearing in the West Virginia senatorial contest of McGraw against Scott, as Scott was elected by the votes of two members of the Legislature who served in the volunteer army. McGraw does not claim to have been elected, but his claim is that there has been no election.

Senator Butler from the senate naval committee has reported a bill for the relief of Julius A. Kaiser. The bill is reported favorably by the committee, and without amendment.

Dr. J. L. Moore and wife, of North Carolina, were in the city yesterday morning. They registered at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Mrs. A. C. Avery, of North Carolina, has joined her husband here, the latter having been in Washington for several days this week.

Ponta Del Gado, Azores, Feb. 24—The Bulgaria arrived here today in tow of another steamer. There are 840 people aboard, all in good health. The Bulgaria broke down on Feb 2nd and has drifted helplessly ever since. She stopped eleven days repairing machinery and rudder. She lost one man during the operation. The British steamer Autilian attempted to take the Bulgaria in tow but gave it up and she proceeded alone.

WIDE TIRE VEHICLES.

Bills Have Been Introduced to Promote Their Use.

Bills have been introduced by Messrs. Carroll, of Alamance, and Clarkson, of Mecklenburg, which have for their purpose the adoption of wide tires on all wagons and other draft vehicles, and it is greatly to be hoped that these bills will be adopted for all of the counties in the state. They levy no taxes; they impose no fines or penalties; they do not compel any one to use wide tires; and in order to do so throw away wagons or narrow-tired wheels; they simply encourage people to use wide tires, whenever new wagons or new wheels for old wagons need to be purchased.

It is generally admitted that macadam roads are too expensive to be generally adopted in North Carolina. It is also generally admitted that while the dirt roads are the least expensive to build, they are the most costly roads to use, especially during the winter season, when the surfaces are softened by rain and cut to pieces by the narrow wheels. But all experiments and experience go to show that the use of wide tires on the dirt roads, whether these roads be of sand or clay, not only does not cut the road to pieces, but actually packs and smooths the surface, consequently the use of wide tires benefits the road and hence we should do everything possible to encourage the use of these wide tires on the public roads of the state. This will be accomplished by the adoption of the bills proposed by Messrs. Carroll and Clarkson, which simply provide that any person using wide-tired wagons can, for a limited number of years, be relieved of a portion of his road tax, not exceeding one-half of the road tax paid by such person during any year. It is wise to adopt this measure, as it will set the people to thinking about the wide tires; will encourage and help them to make the change; and this measure works no hardship on people not using or owning wagons, for the reason that the adoption of the wide tire benefits the road more than would the payment of this part of a man's road tax.—News and Observer.
