ASTIGMATISM.

What It Is, and How Corrected.

What it is, and how corrected. Astigmatism or Irregular Vision is one of the most common of all the refractive errors. It is due to the irregular curvature of the film known as the Cornea. Of course no instrument is sufficient to correct it, but in the hands of a thoroughly efficient and competent eye specialist the ophthalmometer reveals the exact condition of the eye in a way that nothing else can. If your eyes need attention have DR. J. T. JOHNSON to put them under this wonderful instrument. Office hours 8:30 to 12:30; 2 to 6. 302 1/2 S. Elm St.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

By the Greensboro Bar in Honor of the Lamented David Schenck.

A meeting of the Greensboro Bar was held in the court house in Greensboro today. The meeting was organized by the election of Col. J. T. Morehead as chairman and A. M. Scales as secretary. L. M. Scott introduced the following resolutions as chairman of a committee heretofore appointed:

"Whereas the hand of God has recently taken from our midst our friend and brother lawyer, David Schenck, Jr., in the first flush of a strong and noble manhood holding every promise of an honorable and useful career, and left in sadness the family, the friends, the associates to whom he had so endeared himself by his kindly heart and sterling worth:

"Be it now resolved by the members of the Bar of Greensboro in meeting assembled;

"That in the death of David Schenck Jr., we each feel sorrow of a personal loss, and mourn for one who was sometimes a professional associate, sometimes a professional adversary, always a true and noble friend.

"That in his death his family has lost a devoted husband, son and brother; his profession an honored member; and his city, county and state an upright and useful citizen.

"That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this court, published in the papers of this city, and sent to his grief stricken family with the expression of our heartfelt sympathy.

"That as a mark of respect we move that this court do now adjourn.

"L. M. Scott,
"S. B. Adams,
"Chas. M. Stedman,
"Committee."

RECEIPTS AT THE CITY POUND.

Twenty-five Dogs Impounded Since Yesterday Morning.

No less than twenty-five dogs have been impounded in Greensboro since yesterday morning.

Among the number are canines of all descriptions—from the meekest pup to the most independent full-grown dog, all of which were caught wandering aimlessly about the streets without the necessary passports.

Chief Scott offers twenty-five cents each for dogs caught on the streets without a tax check and this accounts for the big receipts at the pound. Every boot black in the city has thrown aside his polish box and gone into the dog catching business, and every canine that sets his foot in the street is tolled or carried to the city pound.

Chief Scott will hold a mammoth dog sale at the pound tomorrow. Any canine, no matter what his real value, will be "railed off" for the moderate sum of $1.00. All dogs not sold will be carried off and shot.

"THE MIDNIGHT FIRE"

Will Be Presented During Gala Week By Winston Talent.

Messrs. Bertram and Willard have completed arrangements to bring the dramatic company connected with the Wins' on Friday night of gala week for the reproduction of the "Midnight Fire," the play which was presented in Winston a short while ago. The play will be presented in the Academy of Music. That a crowd will pack the Academy of Music on that night goes without saying. Greensboro people remember gratefully the quick response the Winston-Salem fire department gave when this city called, and will be glad to show their appreciation by giving the dramatic company an enthusiastic reception here.

As before the play will be given under the personal direction of Messrs. Bertram & Willard, who are the authors, and both of whom play important roles.

Little processions of boys are passing up and down the streets bearing placards that they will not sell the World nor the Journal, and these papers are not procurable upon the streets, but each of the newspaper concerns have hired boys at the front entrances of their buildings who are selling papers to boys who sell only other papers.

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Of the Democratic Party Meets At Chicago Today.

THE ILLINOIS FACTIONAL FIGHT

Between Altgeld And Harrison—Little Interest Taken in It By Southern Democrats.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, July 20—Several well known southern democrats, mostly members of the national democratic committee, have within the past few days passed through the city to attend the meeting at Chicago of the national committee which assembles at the big auditorium today. Those who have passed through the city are of the opinion that the meeting will be an important one, and that it will be harmonious in spite of the factional differences existing in many sections. The most important matter likely to be discussed is the abrogation of the two-thirds rule in the national convention next year. The southern delegates are opposed to this, and many expressed the belief that the time honored rule would remain in force. It is said that the demand for its abrogation is confined principally to the western members of the national committee. The southern and eastern members are mostly opposed to it.

From what could be gathered from the southern members passing through Washington the belief is that Bryan will get the delegations from nearly all, if not all, of the southern states, and that the delegates will be for the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform as the platform next year, combined with a strong condemnation of the policy of the administration in connection with the Philippine war, and a declaration against trusts.

The factional fight which has cropped out in Illinois between Altgeld-Harrison and Gahan has been somewhat discussed, but most of the southern members take but little interest in it, saying that it is merely a local fight among Illinois politicians who can fight it out to suit themselves. They do not believe it will have any effect upon the success of the Chicago meeting about to convene.

Virginia people coming to Washington are of the opinion that the decision of Governor Tyler not to take the stump during the senatorial canvass against Senator Martin, will be beneficial to him, rather than to lessen his chances for success. The governor would be open to criticism from his enemies if he abandoned his duties as governor of the state to take the stump in a political campaign, and more so to engage in a factional contest. Both the friends of Governor Tyler, and the friends of Governor Martin say that the contest for the senate will be conducted upon a high plane, and that as far as possible that there will be no personalities, or bitter feeling injected into the campaign. Both of the candidates have the reputation of being good campaign organizers, and a warm contest is generally looked for.

Several southern people, mostly from Charleston and other points in South Carolina, were in the city yesterday, having come over to Washington on their way home from Richmond, where they went to attend the meeting of the Young People's Baptist Union. The delegation spent the day yesterday visiting the many points of interest. They will leave for home, it is understood, today. The party were much pleased with the convention, and say that it was a success.

R. L. Timberlake, formerly of Washington, who has been until recently connected with the auditing department of the Norfolk & Western Railroad, has been transferred to the auditing department of the Southern Railway, and is now stationed in this city.

Hon. Claudius Dockery, of North Carolina, who is contesting for the seat of Hon. John D. Bellamy, of the 6th North Carolina district, is in the city. Mr. Dockery says that his contest is in good shape, and he expects to get the seat.

Rev. J. E. Thacker, the well known divine of Alexandria, Va., who left last week for North Carolina to spend his summer vacation, was called suddenly home to conduct the funeral services of a member of his church.

Postoffice has been discontinued in North Carolina at Brayville, Chatham county. Mail will hereafter be sent to Veina.

The postoffice department has ordered on and after the 23rd inst., the dispatch of inner registered sacks between Wilmington, N. C., and Baltimore, and also between Wilmington and Richmond, daily, instead of daily except Sunday, as at present.

J. A. Long and wife, of Wilson, N. C., are in the city for a few days, stopping at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Z. B. Vanoe, of North Carolina, is registered at the St. James Hotel.

Solid pink, solid blue and solid red corded pique, only 12 1/2 cents per yard at Thacker & Brockmann's.

THE BAND UNIFORMS.

The uniforms for the Gate City Band arrived several days ago, but the boys say the public shall not have even a peep at them until the grand gala week parade in which the band will play. The boys will make welcoming music at all the passenger trains which arrive on the day and night before the parade day, but they will wear no uniforms except white pants.

A description of the new suits is prohibited, but the Telegram is allowed to state the substantial fact that they are the prettiest suits ever seen in Greensboro.

Ladies' blue thread vests, very nice quality, 25 cents each, at Thacker & Brockmann's.

Celery Plants.

Splendid time now for transplanting celery plants. The J. Van Lindley Nursery Company has a big stock of the leading varieties, fine plants. Get your ground ready and phone them your order.

Men's balbriggan shirts, 25, 35 and 50 cents each, special values, at Thacker & Brockmann's.
