Centenary Epworth League Spent a Profitable Evening.

One of the most interesting literary meetings of the Epworth League of Centenary Methodist church has held in a long time, was the one held in the church last evening, when several carefully prepared papers were read on the beautiful life and remarkable career of Rt. Hon. William Ewart Gladstone, the most learned and distinguished statesman of the nineteenth century.

There was a large attendance of members and friends, who listened with great interest to the rendition of the following program:

Music—Chorus.

Paper—Gladstone's Biography

Paper—His Political Career

Music—Chorus.

Paper—His Important Reforms.

Paper—Gladstone's Literature.

THE CHARLESTON WRECKED

United States Cruiser Stranded on the Reefs off Luzon

QUITE A FIERCE ENGAGEMENT

At Jacinto in Which 77 Filipinos are Killed—Americans Lost 7 Killed and 29 Wounded.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Manila, Nov. 14.—The United States cruiser Charleston, which had been patrolling the northern coast of Luzon, was wrecked off the northwest coast of the island Tuesday, Nov. 7. All on board were saved. The crew numbered 380. As far as is known, nobody was injured. Not until today the news reached here causing great excitement. The admiral has sent a boat to investigate the disaster and bring back the ship's officers and crew. Only the bare fact of the wreck was learned. It is not even known whether it was total.

LATER REP RT.

Manila, Nov. 15.—The Charleston ran aground upon a hidden reef near Vigan. The crew worked the machinery for two days and nights trying to get off, but a typhoon arising compelled them to take to the boats. They took refuge upon a small island five miles away.

FIERCE ENGAGEMENT.

San Fabian, Nov. 11 (delayed)—Wheaton's advance force, proceeding eastward to join Hinds and Lawton, met an insurgent force at San Jacinto, five miles south of here, today. The enemy was routed after a fierce engagement, the Filipinos losing 77 killed. The Thirty-third regiment, which led the attack, lost 7 killed, including one officer. Fifteen were wounded. Twenty-nine rebels and fourteen rifles were captured.

MAJOR LOGAN DEAD.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 14.—A private telegram from Manila states that Major John A. Logan, Jr., is dead.

WHERE'S AGUINALDO?

Manila, Nov. 14.—The whereabouts of Aguinaldo and his cabinet is an enigma. Oils has learned that Aguinaldo recently issued a proclamation transferring the capital to Baguio, because Tarlac is unhealthy. It is suspected that if the insurgent leaders are not already Baguio-bound they are retiring there. It is hoped that Wheaton has joined Young and is forming a cordon from San Fabian to San Isidro. A majority of the natives welcome the American army enthusiastically. Some hide in swamps, and the women, unable to flee, fall to their knees, clasping a crucifix, and beg for mercy.

KILLED LEADING A BATTALION.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The war department has received a dispatch stating that Logan was killed while leading a battalion across the country. His body will be brought back on the transport Nix.

NATIVES FRIENDLY.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Watson cables that the Charleston wreck was unchanged upon the coral reef on the morning of the 2nd. Everybody was safely landed on Kamigula Island, armed with rifles and two Colts. The natives are friendly.

MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE.

Is the Verdict of the Jury Against Reed and Cobler.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Winston-Salem, Nov. 14.—Argument of counsel in the case against Tom Reed and Bob Cobler for killing Lee Brinkley here on the night of September 13th, was concluded at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and Judge Stevens charged the jury, reciting all the evidence to them. The jury retired about 4 p. m., and at 11 o'clock this morning returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree against both Reed and Cobler.

Tom Hudson, who was arrested on the same charge, was released last Saturday afternoon after all the evidence had been heard.

When court convened this afternoon Judge Stevens pronounced sentence upon the prisoners, giving Reed 8 years in the state penitentiary and Cobler 6 years.

An appeal was taken to the superior court.

THE BATH.

This is the time of year when our cold bath begins to feel as if it were living up to its name, so it may not be amiss to speak a bit upon the subject. First of all, a cold bath as many suppose is not necessarily water as it comes from the faucet. In point of fact it is any bath of a temperature below 80 degrees. Strange as it may seem some people far from strong have been driven to plunging into icy water just because some other person says the water is cold bath so loudly and persistently.

The people who in case of illness used fairly to shrink at the thought or mention of a bath are even getting educated. Not that great care isn't necessary! Indeed, it is in all bathing, and the bath thermometer should be used by both sick and well. Of course an invalid is only bathed according to the physician's instructions. The bath is a boon. Any one who has tossed and turned in nervous unrest knows the soothing powers of the sponge bath. Each part must be sponged and dried thoroughly and covered. The arms and legs to turn, then the back, then the chest, and then the abdomen. This, with ice on the head, will even quiet delirium.

As for our ordinary, every day bathing we must decide which gives us the best results. A hot bath is least injurious taken on going to bed. They are weakening, however, and should not be too often indulged in, perhaps once a week. A hot bath means a temperature of 100 or 110 degrees. A warm bath means anything from 90 to 100, tepid ranges from 80 to 90, while the cold is anything below 80. Never stay in over 15 or 20 minutes; ten is enough for most of us.

The morning is the best time for the daily bath, and those who find the plunge or the shower bath too much for them, should consider the sponge bath.

Many who are exhausted or chilled by other sorts of baths would find this a splendid tonic. It is more work though.

We do not consider these things enough, and are prone to forget that bathing is of an importance on a par with our food.

Above all let us take the sort of bath which is most beneficial—Philadelphia Record.

Expert Hunters.

A well known hunting party left here this morning for their annual hunting and trapping expedition. They will pitch their tents in the neighborhood of Benaja and will be absent about a week or ten days. The party this year is composed of Messrs. William Simpson and Chas. Tate, of this city, and Tom and Myers Pogram, of Charlotte.

John Barker, who has heretofore been commander-in-chief and commissary general, is prevented from joining the party on account of his accident several weeks ago, in which he suffered a broken leg.

Captain E. L. Gilmer is a member of this expedition, but he is now in search of larger game in the Philippines.

Marshall's Musical Comedy Co. presented "The Little Cades" to a large audience at the Academy of Music last night.

"The Little Cades" is a combination of music and comedy and dramatic situations well calculated to please the varied tastes of the public, and was presented in a careful and painstaking manner by this up-to-date company.

Tonight the bill will be "Miss Juliette," a comedy in 3 acts. It is said to show Miss Paige in an entirely new role. Tomorrow afternoon at the matinee will be presented "A Bachelor's Dilemma."

CRUGER'S BACK UP.

If the English Shoot His Friend He Will Retaliate Six-fold.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Capp Town, Nov. 14.—One of the Boer leaders, a close friend of Kruger, has been arrested at Ladysmith as a spy. As soon as informed of his arrest, Kruger telegraphed Joubert to shoot six British officers from among the prisoners if Marks is shot. Under instructions from Kruger, Joubert sent a copy of this order to Gen. White.

BOMBARDMENT CONTINUES.

Estecourt, Nov. 14.—The Boers are evidently anticipating the British plan of relieving White. They have broken up the railroad below Colenso and are gathering in large numbers south of Ladysmith. It is unknown whether the Taylor river bridge at Colenso was destroyed or not. It is probably mined. The heavy bombardment continues at Ladysmith. East-courts defenses are being constantly strengthened, but it is not believed the Boers will attack the town.

FIRING CEASED.

London, Nov. 14.—A dispatch from Kimberly of the 8th says:

"The Boers ceased firing at the town last evening. The bombardment was maintained throughout yesterday at irregular intervals. Seventy shells were fired, the majority falling into the open spaces on the outskirts of the place. The average range was 6,300 yards. The only damage in Kimberly was the destruction of a cooking pot, pieces of which afterwards sold as souvenirs. Two sergeants were paid for choice spoiling the town with extreme range guns."

TALK ABOUT JUDGE EWART.

It's Hoped the Matter Won't be Brought Before the Senate

THE SITUATION IN KENTUCKY

Not Pleasing to Either Democrats or Republicans—Congressmen at Washington.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Nov. 14.—It looks as if very soon there would be an end to the case of Judge Ewart. It is reported that the judge is considering withdrawing as a candidate for the federal judgeship, and that at the beginning of the coming session of congress he will not seek a re-nomination from President McKinley. Judge Ewart has already been twice nominated for this office, and each time his nomination has been held up through the influence of Senator Butler, and consequently he has failed to secure confirmation. In spite of the grave charges made by Senator Butler, and the opponents of the judge, President McKinley has twice given him recess appointments, and he is now holding a commission of this character. When congress meets, however, this commission will expire. It is said by those who are in a position to know that the president may not feel called upon to continue the contest with the senate over this judgeship, even if Judge Ewart should seek a re-nomination next winter. In addition to this, it is said on good authority that at the last session of congress, when it became apparent that the senate would reject the nomination, if a vote was taken on it, that Mr. Ewart appealed to his friends to prevent him from falling under an adverse vote, promising that if the nomination was held up until the end of the session that he would withdraw as a candidate at the coming session. Senator Pritchard, in spite of the fire of the opposition to Judge Ewart, has remained firm in his support of the president. Originally the senator did not favor the nomination of Ewart, but after the nomination was made he gave it his hearty support, and has personally led the fight for confirmation. If Judge Ewart should remain a candidate, there is no doubt but that the senator would continue to support him, and fight for confirmation by the senate.

North Carolina people in Washington are convinced that Judge Ewart, if nominated by the president, will not stand any more show in the Senate than he did last winter, and therefore they think it would be wise for the president to prolong a recess appointment to a judgeship should be made, and that above all his personal character should be above reproach.

The Kentucky situation is not pleasing to either the republican or democratic members of congress who are in Washington. Most of the democrats, outside of Kentucky, would not have cared much had Goebel been defeated by a majority so large as would have effectually killed Goebel and Goebelianism politically. As it is the fear is expressed by many democrats that the bitterness engendered during the campaign will not be entirely effaced before the campaign next year. No doubt is felt but that Bryan can carry the state by a large majority next year, but at the same time they feel that the manner in which the silver leader has been mixed in the unpleasant situation in the Blue-grass state may render him weaker than he otherwise would be.

Republicans in the city generally believe that their party carried Kentucky, but they express doubts as to whether Gen. Taylor is seated in the event of a contest before the state legislature.

Ex-Senator William Pitt Kellogg, of Louisiana, is in the city. He has been through the state of Kentucky, and in speaking of the situation in that state he said that he had no doubt that Taylor was elected governor. It is his opinion, however, that the election will be carried to the legislature, and that Goebel will win on a contest.

Representative Jones, of Virginia, has returned to Washington. Mr. Jones says that the situation politically is all that can be wished for by the democrats. He is much pleased at the success of the party in carrying Maryland and Nebraska. In the other states, the campaign, he says, were fought on state and personal issues, national issues not entering the contests to any great extent.

Star service has been established in Virginia as follows: Medley to Salem; Perdue to Fagg, and Leonis to Mallory.

The post office department has been informed that the postoffice at Rose has been moved from Alamance county into Chatham county.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU HIGH POINT, N. C., Nov. 14.

J. H. Wood of Randleman was here yesterday.

J. W. McAlister came up from Worthville Monday.

Fred Jones left this morning on a business trip of several days to Winston.

J. G. F. Randolph, of the benevolent city—Boston—was in the city last evening.

H. L. Adams, Oscar Lewis and P. F. Kelly, of Charlotte, were guests of this city yesterday.

Dr. Turner and Samuel Coffin were homeward-bound passengers on the 7:12 local last night.

P. D. Christian and Tom Clairborne represented the "city of hills"—Lynchburg—here yesterday.

Hargreaves Heap represented one of the capitals of Rhode Island—Providence—here yesterday.

A neat and convenient table has been added to the telegraph office for the use of the operators.

Miss Abbie White, of Thomasville who has been visiting Miss Nellie Rankin, returned home last evening.

Arthur Ross, of Randleman, was here last night en route to Fort Scott, Kansas, to buy a drove of horses and mules.

The residence of Jno. Walborn, in the northeastern part of the city, is rapidly nearing completion. The roof is now being painted by F. J. Collins.

Mabel Paige, the charming comedienne, supported by an excellent company, will appear at the opera house here Thursday night for a three nights' engagement. This is one of the strongest aggregations on the road.

Mrs. Davis and children, of near Danville, arrived last night to make High Point their future home. Mr. Davis, who is interested in the National Lounge and Bed Spring Co., of this place, will follow in a few days. Mrs. Davis is a daughter of Capt. W. E. Johns. Glad to have them with us.

Mr. Whitmore, who for the past year has conducted a bakery, confectionery and fruit stand here, has disposed of his stock and will make Durham his future home. Mr. Whit, proprietor of the book store, bought his stock of confections. Sorry to lose the bakery, and especially Mr. Whitmore.

Last night some of our youthful citizens got it into their heads that the "secret" shower was something to be placed during the night and to take place on "Monday" "Tuesday" or "Wednesday" as the case may be. This is very ridiculous and a thing to be ashamed of.

The great underwear market is expected from manufacturers and dealers on the morning of the 15th—tomorrow. There may be a small shower early tonight, but the greater shower is expected after midnight. It will be worth our while to not retire until after 12 o'clock tonight, or you might miss seeing this culmination of the heavy which only occurs once every 33 years. We learn that the factory whistles will not give their notes of warning. However, if the shower does not come off as expected, you can look for it until the 15th.

Thursday Night.

Lovers of high class entertainment, musical and literary, are awaiting with pleasurable anticipation the coming of the Ideal Entertainers, an organization of distinguished artists presenting a program of unusual excellence and an entertainment which is refreshingly novel and original. While partaking very largely of a musical character, the performance is quite a radical departure from the ordinary concert program, and in fact is infinitely superior. How pleasingly diversified is the program may be realized from the varied qualifications of the artists engaged, the personal beauty of Marcella M. Klocks, dramatic soprano, Elizabeth MacKintyre, violinist, Caroline Conkling, dramatic reader and elocutionist, Almee Collarius, solo pianist and accompanist, Helen Cushing, authoress and mezzo soprano, and Louis M. Vall, impersonator, and baritone soloist. An attractive feature of the entertainment will be the presentation by Miss Cushing and Mr. Vall of the clever sketch, entitled "Honored," the work of the lady mentioned. See them at the Academy of Music on Thursday night, November 16th.

Wholesale Stealing.

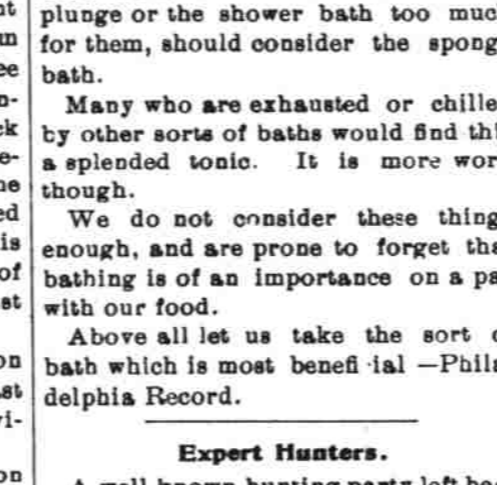

There is at least two negroes in Greensboro who do not believe in doing things by half. About 10:30 last night when Walker Lewis passed the little ticket near the coal chute, he seeped two negroes who were carrying suspicious packages. As he neared them they dropped their loads and fled. Upon examination Mr. Lewis found six sides of meat and two 60-pound cans of lard. He reported his find to Officer Leavelle, who engaged a carriage and the meat and lard were placed in the freight depot. The goods were stolen from an unlocked box car which was on a siding near the coal chute. The thieves have not been apprehended.
