SPEAKERSHIP TALK.

Who Will Be the Minority Candidate. Mr. Robert's Case.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, D. C., November 28.—The estimates of the friends of the candidates for the minority leadership very greatly. The consensus of opinion however, seems to be that Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, will lead on the first ballot. De Armond will probably get the next largest vote, with Bankhead or Sulzer close for third place. The friends of Sulzer are about the only ones who do not claim the selection of their candidate. Richardson, De Armond and Bankhead, all being very confident of their selection. Mr. Bankhead's friends claim that he will enter the caucus with not less than forty votes, but the other candidates do not concede him much more than twenty. They give the Alabamian his own delegation, Florida, and a few scattering votes from various southern states. The conservative estimates give him about thirty to start with. Bankhead's best chance for securing the minority nomination for speaker, as stated heretofore, will be in the event that there is a deadlock in the caucus, when he would be likely to get accessions from both Richardson and De Armond, and perhaps from Sulzer. It is predicted by many congressmen now here that if Richardson is not made the Democratic leader on the first or second ballot, that he will not be selected at all.

It is probable that both the republican and democratic caucuses will be held on Saturday. The republicans will likely meet in the hall of the house of representatives Saturday night. In their caucus there will be no contest over organization, excepting for the office of sergeant-at-arms, and Mr. Russell, the present incumbent is making an earnest canvass for reelection. He has made a good official, and is popular with the members, and from the point of fairness, deserves a reelection, as much as do any of the house officials, but political considerations will probably operate to deprive Mr. Russell of his office.

The democratic caucus will likely assemble also Saturday, although there seems to be a disposition on the part of some of the candidates for the minority leadership to force a caucus on Friday evening. If this is done it will be by the opposition to Mr. Richardson, who will see in it an opportunity to deadlock the caucus, and send the nomination for speaker over until the following day, and this would give an opportunity for twenty-four hours of wire pulling and scheming.

The only business which will be regularly before either the democratic or republican caucus is the nomination of house officers, though it is reported that in both bodies an effort will be made to bring up the case of Mr. Roberts, of Utah. It is the opinion, however, that all action in his case will be left to be acted upon by the house itself.

Only thirty days more in which to avail yourself of the immense bargains we now offer. Fishbale-Katz Co. 227 W. Fishbale-Katz Co. Vick's Catarrh Cream, 25c., relieves catarrh and head colds at once.

Runaway Marriage.

Miss Althia B. Dalley, of this city, and S. E. Holland, of Danville, were united in marriage at Pelham, Rockingham county, Sunday afternoon and went to Danville Sunday night where they will reside. It seems that the parents of the bride objected to the union, but Cupid provided a plan. The couple were out driving and went to Pelham and were made man and wife. Mr. H. Holland formerly held a position with C. C. Townsend, of this city.

The ladies of the Hay Pleasant League are to have a "Lunch Day" and desire us to say you can lunch with them or be served as at a restaurant, with coffee and all delicacies of the season during the afternoon and evening at Odd Fellows Hall, West Market street. No admission charged either to the promenade concert tonight but expect you to patronize the tables. Usual prices. All proceeds for charities.

Winter is now beginning in earnest. We have the warmest goods at the mildest prices.

MEDITERRANEAN SQUADRON

The Strong British Fleet at Gibraltar Suddenly Increased

WHAT IS IN THE WIND NOW?

The Fleet Was Already the Strongest Ever Assembled—Causes Widespread Comment

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Nov. 28.—The powerful battleship Canopus and cruisers Belona, Scout and Europa have been ordered to Gibraltar to reinforce the formidable Mediterranean Squadron. What this mysterious move means the admiralty is keeping carefully concealed, but as the fleet now at Gibraltar is the strongest ever assembled, the increase has excited widespread comment.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Nov. 28.

R. L. Pickett spent yesterday afternoon in Greensboro on business.

D. R. Hoover represented Concord here yesterday.

P. H. Morris and Miss Morris, of Asheboro, were in the city yesterday.

W. P. Wood, one of Asheboro's business men, was here yesterday.

T. W. Seiff came over from Winston yesterday.

Chas. E. Moore came up from Greensboro yesterday.

Miss Mamie Smith, of this place, and Miss Bina Greene, of Boone, who is visiting the former, spent yesterday in Thomasville.

W. W. Jones, of Wilmington, after spending a day with his brother, J. E. Jones, here, returned home yesterday.

A large and neatly executed sign adorns the front of Union furniture factory.

An epidemic of smallpox has broken out at the terra cotta works near Pomona. No doubt the plague will add new terrors to the Pomona (poor mourner). However, whether you are frightened or not, the best thing for you to do is to stay in your own territory and not go near where the disease is prevalent.

Rev. J. R. Scroggs, of the M. E. church, comes back to High Point for another year.

"Captain Dick" will be presented in the opera house here December 7th and 8th. The cast has been selected and the rehearsal will begin tonight in the opera house. This is a thrilling war play, full of love and romance, and does the clever authors, Messrs. Bertram and Willard, much credit.

Messrs. Sherrod and Baker, who disposed of their interests, save one fourth, in the High Point chair factory several weeks ago to a stock company composed of L. J. Ingram and the Messrs. Best, have bought back the same, the deal being made Saturday. We are told that Messrs. Sherrod and Baker will now remain here instead of moving back to their old home at Hamilton, as was first intended. Glad that they, after due consideration, have decided to locate permanently with us.

THE SMALLPOX CASES.

Board of Aldermen Take Action for the Protection of Greensboro.

The sixteen smallpox patients at the Pomona Terra Cotta Works are reported to be getting along very well today. The cases are all of a very mild form and none of the patients are dangerously sick. The presence of this disease was not discovered until Saturday night. The county commissioners met with Dr. B. W. Best, the county physician, yesterday, and issued an address of warning, which will be found elsewhere. No regular quarantine has been established, except against persons living at Pomona who have been exposed to the disease.

As announced in yesterday's Telegram, the board of aldermen held a special session yesterday evening at 4:30 o'clock, Mayor Taylor presiding. Those present were: Ellington, Hunter, Merritt, Sergeant, Denny, Walker and Wright.

The meeting was held for the purpose of taking some action for the protection of the city against the outbreak of smallpox at Terra Cotta Works, four miles west of the city.

Alderman Merritt offered an ordinance, which was passed, requiring all persons residing or working in the neighborhood of the Terra Cotta Works, or Pomona, who come within the corporate limits of the city of Greensboro within thirty days to have a physician's certificate of recent vaccination. The penalty for violating this is $2.00.

Alderman J. S. Hunter was elected mayor pro tem, vice P. D. Price, resigned.

A Year of Many Sundays.

Eighteen hundred and ninety-nine began Sunday and ends Sunday, and therefore there will be fifty-three Sundays in the year. October, November and December have four or five Sundays each, which is extraordinary. Usually only one month in a quarter has five Sundays.

SENT ON TO COURT.

The Case for Removing the Old Car Track Heard by Squire Eckel.

It will be remembered that on the morning of October 9th, between midnight and day, the iron rails of the old street car track were torn up from the road side of the late David Schenk out North Elm street to H. W. Wharton's, near the finishing mill, a distance of about half a mile.

The work of tearing up the track, it was said, was done by the direction of Caesar Cone, who had several years ago purchased that end of the car track from the street car company.

About 200 yards of the track was on lands of Capt. B. J. Fisher, and it was presumed that the reason for tearing up the rails in the night time was to avoid the annoyance of an injunction, as that part of North Elm, according to court decisions, belongs to Capt. Fisher and it is not certain but that he would have filed objections.

But, true to the prediction of the Telegram, the matter has been heard from again, and as noted in last evening's issue, Capt. Fisher issued a warrant yesterday charging Caesar Cone with removing the rails from his property, and the case was heard before Squire Eckel at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Cone was represented by Ex-Judge W. P. Bynum, Jr., and Mr. Kimball, of the firm of King & Kimball. Col. Staples appeared for Capt. Fisher.

The case was a novel one and very interesting. Mr. W. T. Gayle made a stenographic report of the evidence.

Judge Bynum contended that the warrant, as drawn, did not charge his client with feloniously entering upon lands of Capt. Fisher and wilfully and unlawfully removing said rails in such a manner as to indicate the same to be a part of the realty, and asked that the warrant be either amended or dismissed.

After considerable discussion the warrant was amended and Capt. Fisher was the first witness placed on the stand. He testified that the rails belonged to him and that they were stolen while he was in Washington. He said he acquired the rails in a suit against the city of Greensboro several years ago. He remembered the sale of the property of the street car company to Moses Cone, who transferred same to his brother, Caesar.

F. A. Pearce testified that he took up the rails on October 9th, under the direction of Caesar Cone.

This closed the testimony for the state, and Dr. D. W. C. Benbow was put on the stand for the defense. He said he was an officer of the North Carolina Steel and Iron Company and that the property and rights of the street car company were sold to Mr. Cone. The minutes of the directors and stockholders of the Steel and Iron Company were introduced as evidence, as related to this sale.

Moses H. Cone took the stand and stated that his negotiations for the purchase of the property were made mostly with Capt. Fisher, and that Capt. Fisher, as a director and stockholder, acquiesced in his purchase.

This concluded the testimony and Judge Bynum, in an able and learned speech, opened the argument of counsel. He stated that the evidence showed that the Steel and Iron Company put down the track, and that Capt. Fisher, as a stockholder and director, acquiesced in the sale to Moses H. Cone, who conveyed it to his brother, and the road was never operated after Mr. Cone bought it. He reviewed the evidence and asserted that Caesar Cone had a right to take his own property off the lands of another, and cited 104 N. C. Reports, page 566, as authority.

Col. Staples made a strong argument and began by saying that the North Carolina Steel and Iron Company had no authority to convey this road to Mr. Cone. He argued that Mr. Cone bought nothing from Capt. Fisher, and that the rails were a part of Capt. Fisher's realty. He also reviewed the evidence and stated that there was no testimony to show that the Steel and Iron Company had a title to the car track.

At the conclusion of Col. Staples' speech Squire Eckel stated that there were involved many grave legal points in the suit and he felt it his duty to send it on to superior court to be decided by a jury. Mr. Caesar Cone's bond was fixed at $100.

NORMAL NOTE 3.

The Board of Directors in Session at the Institution.

The majority of the patients at the State Normal and Industrial College are reported much better today, though two or three of the sick are unimproved. Miss Turner, the matron, is critically ill.

The board of directors of the institution met last night and heard the reports of President Melver, Prof. J. L. Ludlow and Dr. R. H. Lewis. The board is also in session today.

The following directors are present: C. U. Mebane, of Raleigh, chairman ex officio; S. M. Gattis, of Hillsboro; W. D. Turner, of Statesville; John E. Fowler, of Clinton; J. A. Blair, of Asheboro, and Dr. J. M. Spainhour, of Lenoir, secretary. H. G. Chatham, of Elkin, is expected today. The other members are detained at their homes by sickness.

Greensboro Selected.

At last night's session of the annual Western North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, at Concord, Greensboro was chosen as the place for holding the next conference, which will be next November. The session of the conference will be held in West Market church.
