THREE LONG SPEECHES

Financial Bill Strongly Assailed in the Senale.

Washington, Feb. 7-The greater part of today's session of the senate was devoted to discussion of the financial bill. Messrs. Turner, Bate and Allen discussed the subject in lengthy remarks. All three opposed it. Mr Turner charged the republicans with infidelity with regard to bimetalism. He praised the Chicago platform and referred to his party as the "noble, inspired and God-like democracy. length in Manila that has not its long Mr. Bate asserted that the bill was in line of saloons.
