Proposes to Return to Canteen.

Baltimore Sun.
It is believed that Secretary Root will ask Congress at the next session to authorize the re-establishment of the "canteen" at army posts. If he will have these institutions called by some other name it may do away with some of the fierce opposition to them on the part of the temperance societies. Persons who are not familiar with them might infer from the name that they are simply drinking saloons, and doubtless many who have asked Congress to prohibit them did so under that impression. In point of fact the sale of wine and beer at the army canteen is only an incidental feature, although an important one. The canteen is a social club for the soldiers a place where they can smoke their pipes, read the newspapers and play such games as are played at Young Men's Christian Association rooms. In addition to this it is a store where articles most needed by tired men, including varieties of food which are not served with regularity, can be purchased at cost. The canteens had been a feature of army posts for some years when attacked by Congress at the last session. The enlisted men are understood to be in favor of them, the soldiers of War are said to favor their restoration and the army officers seem to view them almost as a whole and the civilians, or at least a good many of them, opposed the abolition.

Poisoned by Absorption
POISON OAK, POISON IVY, BARBER'S ITCH, LEAD AND BRASS POISONING, ETC.
Through the pores of the skin many poisons are absorbed into the blood, deranging the circulation and affecting the constitution as quickly and seriously as those generated within the system. Just under the skin are innumerable hair-like blood vessels, and connecting these with the skin are millions of small tubes or glands, through which the poison is conveyed to the blood system. During the spring and summer, while the skin is most active and the pores well open, we are much more liable to be affected by Poison Oak and Ivy and other dangerous plants. Workers in brass, copper, lead and zinc have their health impaired and the blood supply poisoned through the absorption of fine particles of these metals and the acids used in polishing and cleaning them. Inhaling the fumes of lead give painters that pallid, waxy appearance of the skin. Barber's Itch is another disease that reaches the blood through the skin, and is a most obstinate one when it becomes firmly fixed in the system. After the poison has reached the blood and been disseminated throughout the system it is too late to resort to local applications. In many cases the blood is affected simultaneously with the appearance of the rash or eruption on the skin, and all efforts should be directed to the purification and building up of the blood. Ugly eruptions and sores will continue to break out in spite of salves, washes, soaps or other external treatment.
S. S. S. is especially recommended for poisons of this character. So completely does it destroy the effects of the Oak and Ivy that there is no possibility of its reappearance, and it is equally as efficacious in brass or lead poisoning or Barber's Itch; building up and purifying the blood and driving out of the circulation impurities of every kind, and removing every blemish, sore or eruption from the skin. There is no substitute for S. S. S.; it is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the safest and best in all constitutional or blood diseases.
