SHE SUES ON A CORSET AD.

Alleges That Her Face on Some Other Woman's Figure Appears in a Newspaper Cut.

New York Sun. Helen Grantley, described by her counsel, Leon Laski, as a member of one of the first families of Virginia, saw an advertisement in the Herald of May 12, a picture of a woman wearing a corset and very few other things and declares that the face of the woman is her face, but not the figure. Accordingly she has brought suit in the Supreme Court against Weingarten Brothers, advertisers of the corset, for $50,000 damages.

The advertisement, Miss Grantley said, consisted of a three-quarter size picture of a woman in a partial state of undress, being clothed so that her arms were bare, and her undergarments and corsets were visible and exposing parts of her bosom, which picture included the head and face of the plaintiff herein, and which picture was intended to and did convey to the public the idea or impression that it was a picture of the plaintiff herein, taken in such state of undress.

Miss Grantley who said that the use of her picture was "knowingly malicious, illegal, unwarranted and without authority," and brought her into "public hatred, ridicule and contempt, leading persons to believe that she posed for such picture in such state of undress."

She asserted that such publication had caused her to suffer a severe nervous shock and great mental anguish, and she was greatly humiliated by scoffs and jeers of persons who recognized her face in the afore mentioned picture.

This commission is composed of Alderman Sergeant and Merrimon and Gen. J. D. Glenn. Mr. R. R. King appeared before them and offered to furnish the lights and pump the water under a contract similar to the one offered by the Greensboro Electric Company, for $9,000. Mr. Z. V. Taylor, in behalf of his company, offered to do it for the same figures. Mr. King, in behalf of the present company, then offered to do it for $8,900. The proposition of Mr. Taylor's company was accepted, the other company not being prepared to operate a street railway. THE ENTERPE CLUB

Annual to be Held Next Fall— Officers Elected for the ensuing Year.

The last week of work for the Enterpe Club was filled with much pleasure and bright prospects for next year.

The club was most charmingly entertained last Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Dorsey Hagan in an "At Home" which was particularly happy in its beautiful decorations of pink and white, a game of musical conundrums and much enjoyed refreshments.

On Saturday the last business and musical meeting was held at Mrs. Norman Wills', who proved a charming hostess. After a well rendered program from the American composers, cake, ices, and other delicacies were served.

The year has been a very successful one in the work done and the interest manifested by all the members and next year promises to be no less productive. Instead of holding their annual musical in June as they had hoped the Club decided to give it next fall.

The following members were elected officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. Chas. L. Van Noppen; Vice-President, Mrs. Clarence Brown; Secretary, Mrs. J. Norman Wills; Treasurer, Mrs. Dr. Banner.

A BAD MAN.

Pat Gibson, white, was tried before Justice of the Peace Eckel yesterday afternoon, charged with the larceny of $5, carrying concealed weapons, and resisting and fighting an officer in the discharge of his duty. He was convicted in all three counts, and was bound over to court in the sum of $150 in each case. Being unable to furnish the bail, he was remanded to jail. He is from somewhere in the neighborhood of Proximity, and is known as a desperate character.

GUILTY OF ATTEMPT TO BRIBE.

SO SAYS JUDGE BROWNE IN STATES- VILLE COURT.

Gorham Fined $50 and Sentenced to 20 Days in Jail—Brown Fined $50—Ramsey Sentenced to 20 Days in Jail—The Case Appealed.

The following account of the proceedings in the Stateville court yesterday is taken from the Statesville correspondence of the News and Observer:

Statesville, N. C., May 27.—At 5 o'clock this afternoon Judge Brown rendered his judgment in the contempt proceedings here. He discharged respondents Deaton, one of the jurors, and Lawyer L. C. Caldwell, and found Respondents J. A. Gorham, law agent of the Southern Railway, J. H. Brown, one of the jurors, and R. A. Ramsey guilty for a contempt of court.

Brown was fined fifty dollars, Ramsey was sentenced to twenty days in jail and Gorham was fined fifty dollars and sentenced to twenty days in jail. Judge Brown held that the respondents were entitled to appeal which all three did. They were each required to give bond in the sum of two thousand dollars for appearance at the November term of court, and the bonds were promptly given.

At the opening of court this morning respondents' answers were read. Respondent Caldwell denied ever talking with any member of the jury about the case. His answer stated that his conversation with respondent Ramsey testified to in affidavits of Brawley, Bowles, and others was in reference to a suit which he, Caldwell, was defending for Ramsey for the recovery of real estate and that the Long case was not mentioned. He denied in detail all of the allegations in the affidavits of plaintiff's witnesses touching any alleged wrong doing on his part. He was corroborated in several particulars by affidavits of H. P. Grier and J. F. Gamble, members of the Iredell bar. Affidavits of a large number of our good citizens testifying to Caldwell's good character were read.

Respondent Ramsey admitted being with R. V. Brawley, who testified in an affidavit Saturday, denied that he talked to him. He said in his affidavit that Brawley was drunk. Two other affidavits were read which said that Brawley was under the influence of liquor.

Respondent Gorham admitted in his answer that Judge Brown had spent the night with him in his room, but he denied having said anything to him about the case. There were several affidavits corroborating him in certain particulars and testifying to his good character. Respondent Brown admitted having slept in Gorham's room but denied any wrong doing. He said the case was not mentioned. The plaintiff then resumed and read the affidavits read Saturday, the substance of which was wired Saturday. There were several affidavits in replication testifying to Brawley's good character and to the fact that he was not drunk on Friday night. Two citations, those of ex-Marshall T. J. Allison and Alderman C. B. Webb, testified that Ramsey's character is not good. In fact it appears that Brawley was not intoxicated, but pretended to be in order to entrap Ramsey.

Large crowds heard the investigation today. Lawyers Price, Henderson, Gamble and Watson addressed the court. The case has developed much feeling among our people and probably justice would be subserved by the removal of the case to another county for the next trial.

Court adjourned for the term this afternoon.

A Long Trip.

Miss Bessie Eller left this afternoon to attend the marriage of one of her school mates in Blair, Nebraska, her old home. She will spend a month or more visiting friends and relatives in Nebraska, Ohio, and Iowa.

Trimming the Trees.

The trees in front of the Government building were trimmed this afternoon, the lower branches being all topped off. This was a needed improvement, but the cutting of the trees entirely down would be to destroy the only pretty thing about the building.
