BRUTE KILLS INFANT.

Commits the Fiendish Assault in Mother's Absence.

McKeesport, Pa., June 3.—Five thousand men are clamoring about the city prison for the release of Benjamin Fetty, alias Watton, arrested this morning for an assault on the three-year-old daughter of Thomas Sullivan, of No. 225 Martin street. The baby is in a dying condition.

About 10 o'clock this morning Mrs. Sullivan went to the store and left the baby in charge of her two little boys. Shortly after she left Fetty went to the house and gave the boys five cents with which to go and buy candy.

When they left he carried the baby back into the kitchen and accomplished his fiendish crime. The children returned and found the baby unconscious. Neighbors started in pursuit of Fetty, who ran up the Pennsylvania Railroad track and hid in a box car, from which he was dragged by the train crew, who attempted to throw him under the wheels of their locomotive.

The police had a desperate fight with the mob, but Fetty was finally landed in the patrol wagon and hurried to the central station with a howling crowd in pursuit.

All day long a crowd hung about the station. After the mills closed at 6 o'clock, the crowds increased to thousands. All the members of the police force are guarding the city prison. The fire department was ordered to lend assistance, but the men refused, saying they believe death is the only proper punishment for Fetty. Mayor Black at 10 o'clock made a speech to the mob, informing them that the first man who attempts to enter the prison will be shot. Privately, Mayor Black stated that if it were his child he would kill the first man who stood in his way to the cell where Fetty is confined. Several of the police announce that if it comes to fighting or resigning they will quit the force.

Fetty, who is 28 years old, has been identified as the man who terribly assaulted three little girls in Homestead a couple of weeks ago. The prisoner is utterly unconcerned.

WRECK ON THE SOUTHERN.

Switch Engine Dashes Into a Moving Passenger Train With Fatal Results.

Atlanta, Ga., June 4.—A switch engine in the yards of the Southern Railway shops near the city limits dashed into a passenger train as it was passing today, killing three passengers and injuring 16, three of them, it is feared fatally.

The dead are: Mrs. A. A. Lemon, of McDonough, Ga.; Irma, ten-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lemon; H. H. Vickers, of Florville, Ga. The injured are: Mrs. Julia Kersey, Atlanta, may die; A. F. Bunn, McDonough, Ga., may die; A. F. Fouche, McDonough, Ga., may die; D. A. George, Rex, Ga.; Wm. Richardson, Stockbridge, Ga.; Miss Rosa Withers, Washington; Miss Alma Massenburg, Washington; Mrs. F. M. Smith, McDonough, Ga.; W. F. Tidwell, McDonough; Rosa Lee, Stockbridge; Mrs. J. F. Ridley, Huntsville, Ala.; Mrs. A. F. Bunn, McDonough; Miss Bunn, McDonough; N. H. Vickers, Floville; Pierce Stewart, McDonough, young son of Mrs. Lemon.

Just beyond the Southern shops are the coal chutes and all about these are sidetracks. On one of these sidetracks and only a few feet from the main track an engine was standing that had only a short time before been abandoned by its engineer and fireman. As the train was passing the junction of this sidetrack, the switch engine suddenly dashed backward into the moving train. The first-class day coach was thrown over on its side and partly demolished, the Pullman car "Arcturus" was thrown from the track and one end smashed into kindling wood while the trucks were knocked from under the combination smoker and passenger coach. Those killed were in the day coach.

No, Maude, dear; a club woman is not necessarily heartless, and she may also have diamonds.

A BENEVOLENT DESPOT.

Does the Country Need More of the Same Sort of Persons?

New York Tribune.

Bishop William L. Derrick, of the African Methodist Episcopal church, is a sage and a philosopher. He has just been presiding over a church conference of Brooklyn. He rules his flock with patriarchal authority which some other religious organization might term despotic, but with a good sense which some others would greatly profit by. Anybody who has become accustomed to the too common habit of church committee and conventions of launching anathemas against persons who believe that an army canteen is a good thing rather than a bad thing, or who argue that an exposition ground is better open than closed on Sunday, or who take a different view from them on the moral questions involved in any public policy, will rejoice at the measure of the saving grace of humor and common sense which Bishop Derrick brings to the rescue of a race whose wrongs might not unnaturally move them to loud protests and denunciations whenever occasion offered.

The conference has a committee on the state of the country it looked over the country and saw many things amiss, including the condition of the negroes in South Carolina, but Bishop Derrick said: "Let Tillman alone. He's too bad to be noticed, and all you might say would only recoil on yourselves." That was all well enough for the bishop, but the committee had a report to make, and didn't like to be deprived of all its good material. So the chairman objected, and asked if he wanted a blank piece of paper for a report, and the bishop answered: "Yes! A blank piece of paper is a good deal better than a lot of inflammatory rubbish. Just report, 'We have examined into the condition of the country, and we find that the United States is at peace with all the world.' That will do first rate."

Indeed it will! It will do in nine cases out of ten in the matter of committee reports and conference proceedings of all kinds. The amount of rubbish, inflammatory and otherwise, sent forth for the affliction of mankind by all sorts of people who feel that they must stir up something is beyond computation. If we only had a few more benevolent despotic Bishop Derricks to attend conventions and curb the fanatics, busybodies, and bores! How delightful it would be if half the misplaced zeal for "viewing with alarm" things unimportant or things unchangeable could be quieted, not with leave to print, but with a hint that a blank piece of paper would be an excellent report!

Dead Man as a Scare-Crow.

Connellsville, Pa., June 3.—All day travelers along the road between this place and Moyer admired what they supposed to be a very cleverly arranged scarecrow, in a field on the Buttermore farm. It was the figure of a man suspended from a tree, the feet about six feet from the ground with all the clothes on.

A clear-sighted teamster went up into the field to investigate, and found the supposed scarecrow to be the body of a man. The body was evidently that of an Italian, the complexion being dark, the hair black and the features fine and sharply chiseled. He had climbed out on a limb of the tree, and with the rope about his neck, dropped off.

Train up a child in the way it should go, and if it is a girl watch it.

NEW PRESIDENT.

Prof. Ira D. Remsen the Trustees' Choice to Succeed Dr. Gilman.

Baltimore, Md., June 3.—Prof. Ira D. Remsen, who since the founding of the Johns Hopkins University in 1876, has occupied the chair of chemistry, will be the future President of this institution to succeed Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, resigned.

This decision was reached by the trustees at a meeting held this afternoon. Dr. Gilman's resignation will take effect this month. Prof. Remsen will enter upon his duties as President at the beginning of the academic year in September.

The new President whose name was among the first mentioned for the place would have preferred to remain in charge of the chemistry department, but insisted urging on the part of the members of the board led him to change his mind.

He accepted the place on condition that he be permitted to continue directing the work in the chemical laboratory. Dr. Remsen is popular with the students at the university, and demonstrated his ability as an executive during the year he occupied the President's position while Dr. Gilman was temporarily absent.

Prof. Remsen was born in New York in 1846. He received his degree of B. A. when 19 years old at the College of the City of New York. Two years later he was made a Doctor of Medicine at the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons. After this he went abroad to study, and in 1870 received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at the University of Goettingen. After serving for a short time as assistant in chemistry at the University of Tuebingen he returned to America and assumed the professorship of chemistry at Williams College, whence he came to Johns Hopkins. For his writings Dr. Remsen has the degree of LL. D. from the Columbia College and Princeton University.

Robbery Story a Fake.

Seattle, Wash., June 2.—George Mulligan, of Kansas, who claimed Friday night that he was assaulted and robbed of $17,000, is himself under surveillance. Mulligan was not robbed. He confessed to the chief of police that he had kept the money hidden in the hotel, where he was stopping at the time, and made up his story. The money has been recovered.

Mulligan stated to the chief of police that he was trying to test his companions. Mulligan's thirty-three companions, members of the Eagle Placer Mining Company, had the utmost confidence in him. So great was the confidence of these men in their leader that they made statements to the effect that they fully believed that Mulligan had been robbed, and that they were willing to pay the loss. They were on their way to the Yukon, and were going to conduct a placer mining establishments.

TUNNELING A MOUNTAIN.

Account of a Stupendous Engineering Feat in the West.

Montana Record.

The wonderful achievements of tunneling a big mountain at Sherman, Wyoming, by the Union Pacific in order to reduce the grade and shorten the track has been accomplished, and on May 1 regular service was commenced on the new line from Buford to Tie Siding, which becomes a part of the main line of "the overland route."

The contract for this work was awarded about a year ago, and its completion is reckoned one of the most astonishing feats of railroad engineering yet accomplished. The general public has no idea of the gigantic tunneling through the Rockies in connection with this work.

The Sherman tunnel, forming a very important part of the project, is situated between Dale Creek and Tie Siding, nearly half a mile long. In the mountain it pierces the archaic formation, one of the hardest of granite rocks, from which comes Sherman gravel, so extensively used on the Union Pacific for ballast.

Standing conspicuously out in this great engineering work are two fills. Lone tree fill and Dale creek fill. The embankment at the last named fill is 145 feet in the highest place, 900 feet long, 40 feet wide at the top, 115 feet at the bottom. The Lone Tree fill is southeast of the town of Sherman. The embankment is 130 feet high at the highest point. These two fills involved the handling of 500,000 cubic yards of earth and stone.

Two of the old embankments adjacent required the moving of 250,000 yards, so that this particular part of the work, all within the distance of a mile, necessitated the moving of more than 750,000 cubic yards of earth and rock. Through the embankments pass large concrete and iron culverts, to provide for the drainage of the large area obtaining on Dale creek. The new tunnel is so well constructed that with freedom from density of air one may see clearly with the naked eye from one end of the tunnel to the other.

The saving in motive power to the Union Pacific by the construction of the new line will be immense, and is evidenced by the fact that the maximum grade per mile is reduced from 97.68 per cent. to 43.3 per cent. between Buford and Laramie alone. The Union Pacific now will be able to make faster time to the Western points and haul heavier loads than ever before.

Bees Nearly Kill a Child.

Bloomsburg, Pa., June 3.—Frank, the young son of Millard McBride, of this city, was almost killed today by a swarm of bees. The lad was playing in the yard when attacked. His cries attracted the attention of his mother, who swooned upon seeing her child in such awful agony. She quickly regained consciousness, however, and rushing into the swarm, rescued the lad. He was horribly stung, but will recover.
