

HERE AND THERE.

How an Obstinate Bride Was Brought to Terms. Objected to Saying "Obey." When the Groom Started to Leave She Quickly Said It.

In telling about 'Some People I Have Married,' in the Ladies' Home Journal for June, the Rev. D. M. Steele says: "Being an Episcopalian, I always use the formal printed service of the prayerbook. In this the greatest stickler is 'obey.' One day a couple came to me, bringing as witnesses the parents of both bride and groom. Everything proceeded smoothly to the point 'love, honor and obey,' when the bride refused to say the last. I repeated it and waited. Again she refused and I shut up my book. They talked it over, and the more seriously they argued and discussed the more stubbornly she refused. The parents became angry, the groom excited and the bride hysterical. To humor her he joined in the request for me to leave it out. But I liked the fellow and decided that a little sternness from me in the present might be a favor to him in the future. So I told them I had no authority to change it and would not do so. I tried to show the foolishness of her objection: 'Well, this household must have a head somewhere. I will leave it out for her if you say it.' Then it was his time to refuse, which he did. He gathered up his hat and started for the door, when, presto, change! she sprang after him, led him back by the hand, looked meekly up at him and said it."

"Embarrassment," said the writer, appears to be the natural concomitant of matrimony. At least this is true in the incipient stages. Invariably, however, there is a striking contrast between the relative composure of the man and the woman. Both are nervous, but never both at the same time. If they come a week before hand to make arrangements she is rattled and he is cool; while on the day of the ceremony she rises to the occasion and he sinks under it. Thus I have never seen a bride who was scared; I have never seen a groom who was not."

Shot by a Jealous Husband in Columbia.

The State. There was a great stir in the southeastern part of the city last night. A white man was shot down under rather romantic circumstances.

Noah Garner, the wounded man, is an employe of the Columbia Duck Mill. So is a Mrs. Blackwell to whom Garner has been paying attentions. She passed off as a widow, he as a free lance.

A Mr. Blackwell appeared on the scene last night, and it is said that Garner had a wife in Greenville. The affair is the outcome of the Garner's alleged desertion of his wife to be followed by the other woman.

The story, as the police have been able to gather it, is that Garner and the Blackwell woman had been out walking. He had secured her a place to work here and had found her a boarding house. Ever since she came from Greenville he had been constant in his attentions.

As they approached the boarding house a form confronted them. Deliberately the stranger fired upon Garner. The ball took effect just below the right nipple and Garner is dangerously hurt. Blackwell, for it was he, walked away. Garner was taken into a house near by. The police patrolled the neighborhood between the State dispensary and the Granby mill, but Blackwell could not be found.

Poets are the only people who ever talk about kissing women's feet, and they get money for it.

Rheumatism

Rheumatism is due to an excess of acid in the blood. When this escapes through the pores of the skin, as it often does, it produces some form of skin eruption—some itching disease like Eczema or Tetter—but when these little tubes or sweat glands are suddenly closed by exposure to cold and sudden chilling of the body, then the poisons thrown off by the blood, finding no outlet, settle in membranes, muscles, tissues and nerves. These parts become greatly inflamed, feverish and hot; dagger-like, maddening pains follow in quick succession, the muscles become extremely tender, the nerves break down and the sufferer is soon reduced to a state of helplessness and misery. This acid poison penetrates the joints and seems to dry out the natural oils, and the legs, arms and fingers become so stiff and sore that every movement is attended with excruciating pains.

Liniments, plasters, electricity and baths, while their use may give temporary ease, cannot be called cures, for the disease returns with every change of the weather.

S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by working a complete change in the blood; the acids are neutralized, the circulation purified and the rich, healthy blood that is carried to the irritated, aching muscles and joints, soothes and heals them. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism even when inherited or brought on by the excessive use of mercury. Opium, in some form, is the basis of nearly all so-called Rheumatic Cures, which deaden the pain but do not touch the disease and lead to ruinous habits. Alkalies and the potash and mineral remedies so often prescribed, affect the tender lining of the stomach and weaken the digestion, thus adding another burden to the already weak and impoverished blood. S. S. S. contains no mineral or dangerous drug of any kind, but is a simple, vegetable remedy and the most perfect blood purifier known. Send for our book on Rheumatism and write our physicians if you wish any information or advice. We would be glad to mail you a book free; we charge nothing whatever for medical advice.
