FUN JUST BEGUN.

Senator McLaurin Intimates That There is Diversion Ahead.

Washington, June 10.—Senator McLaurin, who has just returned from South Carolina, was a caller at the White House this morning. He declined to discuss the political situation in the Palmetto State and his controversy with Senator Tillman further than to say that he proposed to continue the same line of action which he had been following for some time. He intimated that the fight was not yet over; in fact, that it was only just beginning. He would not, however, state what he intended to do, because it would give his opponents an advantage which he did not wish to allow them.

When asked concerning Senator Tillman individually, Senator McLaurin said: "He has called me a manly dog, and there the matter rests. That was his first argument and it is his last. I must decline to discuss his attitude." Senator McLaurin said that he has business in Washington at present in the interest of the Charleston and West Indian Exposition, which begins in Charleston in December. The government has agreed, in view of the fact that an appropriation was made by Congress, for the exposition to loan a portion of the exhibit at Buffalo, if the Charleston people provide a suitable building. This they intend to do. The matter of allowing certain goods which came in bonded for the Pan-American Exposition and which the Charleston directors wish to secure, is still unsettled. Secretary Gage has the question under consideration at present. If there is found to be no legal hindrance some of these goods, especially those from the West India and Central American countries, will be permitted to go to Charleston.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Small Boy Has a Close Shave for His Life at the Depot Today.

A small boy, walking carelessly along the platform at the Southern depot at noon today, had a narrow escape from death. A shifting engine was backing towards the west, and the boy was walking in the same direction. The engine bell was ringing, but the boy seemingly did not hear it, and was only warned by the shouts of a bystander, and the friendly hand of the man on the rear of the tender who reached out to shove him away before the engine should strike him. He did not seem scared at all by his narrow escape, but continued unconcernedly on his way.

M'KINLEY WANTS NO THIRD TERM.

MAKES A PERSONAL STATEMENT

SAYS THAT HE DOES NOT WANT IT AND WOULDN'T HAVE IT.

Holds A Long Formed Purpose to Retire to Private Life When His Second Term is up—Great Interests of Administration and Country now at Hand.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Washington, June 11.—

The following personal statement from the President was given out at the White House today:

"I regret that the suggestion of a third term has been made. I doubt whether I am called upon to give it notice.

"But there are now questions of the gravest importance before the administration and the country, and their just consideration should not be prejudiced in the public mind by even the suspicion of a thought of a third term. In view, therefore, of the reiteration of a suggestion of it, I will say now, once for all, expressing a long settled conviction, that not only I am not and will not be a candidate for a third term, but would not accept the nomination for it if it were tendered me. My ambition is to serve through my second term to the acceptance of my countrymen, whose generous confidence in me is so deeply appreciated, and then with them to do my duty in the ranks of private citizenship.

ONE PISTOL FOR TWO.

A Man and Wife Found Dead in Bed in a Chicago Hotel.

Chicago, June 10.—Side by side, each with a bullet wound in the temple, the dead bodies of L. Hartman and his wife were found in their bed at the Great Northern Hotel, this evening. The room showed no evidences of a struggle, the covering of the bed well tucked about him, but the revolver clutched in the right hand of the husband told the story of the double tragedy. Of the pair that courted death so successfully nothing is known by the managers of the hotel, beyond a report that the man has wealthy connections in New York, and that the woman apparently was once an actress under the stage name of Rose Wolek. From information given by a woman who inquired for them this morning, it is supposed that the case is one of a runaway marriage with death as the result of despondency over the obduracy of an unforgiving father.

Hartman and his wife registered at the hotel on June 6, giving as their address New York. Both were stylishly dressed, and appeared to be persons of means. They did not mingle with the other guests and spent most of the time in their rooms. They were reserved in manner, but it is surmised that they were on their wedding trip. Early Sunday night they retired to their apartments and nothing was seen of them until this evening, when they were found dead in bed. The chambermaid tried to gain entrance to the room but was unable to do so. Later in the day she repeated the attempt with the same result. Repeated knockings failed to obtain an answer, and the hotel office being notified, the room was broken into tonight, and the discovery was made of the double tragedy.

Several Wrong Doers.

The mayor had several cases yesterday afternoon at his matinee. Two carriage drivers were made to disgorge, because they went off, leaving their teams in the street. The liquor cases growing out of the arrests on Sunday were dismissed, the crippled negro, Wharton, being warned that if he was again caught he would be sent to the poor house. A white man from near Jamestown was fined a small amount for being drunk and down.

Sample Cups of Coffee.

The Sculls Perfect Coffee Company have an exhibit of their coffee in the store of Messrs J. W. Scott & Company. The exhibit is in charge of Mrs. DeWitt and she takes a deal of pleasure in serving coffee to any person who likes the drink. The coffee she makes is very fine, and well worth a trial.

A handsome thermometer has been placed in front of the store of J. W. Scott & Co. It is an advertisement of the Santiago Cigar, and is a good thing on a hot day.
