STEEL CORPORATIONS OFFER PLANTS TO GOVERNMENT

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON.—The steel makers of the nation today promised to heed the President's warning against extorting blood money in big profits on their products. In a meeting here today with the government chiefs, the representatives of all the large steel interests offered to place their plants at the disposal of the government, at a price to be fixed later. The price will be in keeping with the President's idea of a patriotic margin.

LOCAL BOARD EXPLAINS MANNER OF OBTAINING EX- EMPTION FROM DRAFT

(10) Those found morally deficient. Any person who is a felon must have certificate from Clerk of Court. After the claims for exemption have been considered the Local Board shall decide, subject to appeal to the district board by the individual or by the Government, each claim for exemption within 3 days after the affidavits in support of the respective claims have been filed.

Each local board shall issue a certificate of discharge to each person by or in respect of whom a claim for discharge has been filed in accordance with these rules and regulations, if, in the opinion of the local board such claim has been substantiated as required by the rules and regulations and the right to a certificate or discharge established. Such certificate may be absolute, conditional, or temporary, as the case may require. No discharge shall continue when a cause therefor no longer exists. Local boards may revoke such certificates of discharge when the cause for issuance no longer exists, and restore the name of the person on the list of those called for service. The person concerned will be notified by mail.

The next step will be the certifying to the district board of two lists—names of those not exempted. All the records in each case will be forwarded to the district board for review. Including the records of the physical examinations. Copy of these lists will also be published in the papers. Within two days after they are sent to the district board, a notice will also be sent to each man who is not exempted to the address on the Registration Card. In case the claim for exemption was filed by another party for the person certified to, they will be sent a notice in like manner.

An appeal may be taken from any final decision of a local board. Each claim of appeal must be made to such local board within ten days after he has been notified that is not exempted. Forms will be provided for this purpose by the local board. There can be no appeal from any order or decision of any local board except the final decision on a claim of exemption.

The provost marshal general may appeal from the decision of any local board to the district board. It shall be the duty of the provost marshal generally or specifically, to designate some person to take appeals from all decisions of local boards to the district boards where certificates of discharge were granted on account of "those whose status with respect to dependents—render their exclusion desirable."

Local boards may order the physical examination of any person called and the hearing on a claim for exemption transferred to another local board. After his notice is mailed after the drawing, on account of permanent removal or necessary absence as shown by affidavits, his original local board may issue an order transferring his physical examination and his claims for exemption to another local board. The physical examinations will be conducted by the physician on the board in the presence of another member of the board. No one will be exempted for physical reasons until he has been reexamined by a second physician who is not a member of the board. Finally the board as a whole must decide whether he should be exempted for physical reasons or not.

District Boards.
District Boards (1) Hear appeals from the final decision of the local boards (2) exercise original jurisdiction in cases of people engaged in industries including agriculture, found to be necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment, or the effective operation of the military forces, or the maintenance of the national interest during the emergency. The decisions of the district board will be final in cases of appeals and in cases where they have original jurisdiction their decisions may be appealed from to the President.

In appeals—district boards may receive additional evidence in support or in opposition to any claim of exemption provided such evidence is in the form of affidavits (in duplicate) and is filed within 5 days after the notice of the filing of a claim of appeal. Within 5 days the district board will render its decision dating from the time the proofs are closed.

In the case of farmers, after they are examined by the local board for physical exemption they then forward their papers to the district board and they must state that they are farming, that what they are raising is necessary for the military establishment; that their continuance therein is necessary; and that they cannot be replaced by another without direct substantial material loss and detriment to the adequate and effective operation of the said farm or enterprise. All this must be filed on a form supplied by the local board after they have been examined physically. If they are discharged the certificates come from the district board.

All not exempted are certified to the Adjutant General of the state by the district board and the Adjutant General mails them a letter and notifies them that they are called for military service and shall order them to report for military service in person at a specified time and place. This excerpt of the regulations is given out for the information of all concerned. If you will retain a copy of this you know what to expect.

Brinkley, one of Greenville's leading tobacco warehousemen, and a member of the firm of Brinkley, Rice and Spain, has just returned from an extended trip through the north-eastern section of the state. The trip was made through the country, and the Aoshkie, Hertford, Perquimans and Edenton sections were visited.

Young Bloodhounds Show Up Excellent

The young blood hounds recently secured by officers Patrick and Moye are showing up excellently in their practice runs, and bid fair to become the best pair of dogs in the state. During the past three weeks they have followed three trails, and each time have succeeded in tracking their quarry and finally catching him.

Yesterday in a practice run they followed the make-believe criminal through the crowd of people at the Norfolk-Southern station, and up steps in a house to where he had hid.

The good work of these dogs will have a deterring effect upon those who have been committing a series of robberies around Greenville during the past few months.

"Monkey Rum" Gets Mr. Drake in "Bad"

It is a generally known fact that a duck loves water, but it is also true that a drake loves monkey rum. At least Dr. Drake, a vendor of patent medicine, does, or did until it caused a run-in with the police of this town which landed him in the "cooler" to have time to think it over.

Although this is supposed to be a dry town in a dry county of a dry state, in some manner the said doctor connected with a bottle of as good, or as bad, monkey rum as is usually found in these parts.

After a sitting with the fire water he finally took a sleeping spell in the Norfolk-Southern station, and was still wandering in the sweet inebriated sleep when the officers appeared on the scene and took him in charge.
