PORTUGUESE AND BRITISH LINES HOLDING ENEMY

BY WILLIAM P. SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, April 9.—The Germans attacked violently the British and Portuguese positions from the Labasse canal to a point southward from Armentieres at 8 o'clock this morning. The enemy apparently gained a footing east of Lepatin and Petillon, and at Givenechy. On the left flank the British are holding firmly. Hot fighting is continuing. General Von Quast's attack followed a violent bombardment, opening at 4:45, and continuing for an hour or two. It then died down.

Supt. Hoy Taylor Hands Resignation

Superintendent Hoy Taylor of the Greenville Public Schools, has tendered his resignation to the Board of school trustees to take effect at close of this session. Mr. Taylor informs this paper that he has made no definite plans for the future.
Mr. Taylor has been the superintendent of the schools here for the past five years, coming to Greenville from Biscoe, N. C., where he occupied a similar position for six years. He taught in the Cary High School for one year prior to this.
Mr. Taylor is an A. B. graduate from Trinity College, this state, and an A. M. graduate from Columbia University, New York.
Under his administration here the schools in all departments have made marked progress. The enrollment has increased sixty per cent. The present high school building, a credit to any town, has been erected and the playground equipped and surfaced. The number of teachers employed have kept pace with the progress of the schools. Five years ago when Mr. Taylor assumed duties of superintendent there were only 70 students in the High School and two teachers; today, there are 150 students with seven teachers. During the present year a domestic department has been inaugurated. The above goes to show what Superintendent Taylor has seen performed during his five year's administration as the head of the Greenville school system.
Universal regret will be expressed upon learning that Mr. Taylor has severed his connection with the public schools in this city and wherever his lot is cast the best wishes of the entire community will go with him.
The resignations of Superintendent Taylor and Principal Epps means that it will be up to the board of school trustees to furnish a new superintendent and principal for next year's session.

GIRL OF MY HEART HIGHLY PLEASURES EVERYWHERE

The following article from the Cumberland, Md., Evening Times, attests the satisfaction given theatre-goers of that city by the "Girl of My Heart" Company.
Songs that a month or so from now will be nation-wide hits were heard for the first time on any stage at the premiere last night at the Maryland Theatre of "The Girl of My Heart," a diverting and tuff musical comedy produced by Tenny J. Kelly, with book and lyrics by Arthur J. Lamb, and music by Jules Chauvenet. The staging was done by Augustin Glassmire, the dances were put on by Maxwell Schenck, and the music was under the direction of Louis Gress. Author, producer and others connected with the show in an official capacity were present the first night. A good sized audience welcomed the new musical comedy, and the encores were frequent.
It would be hard to select the one big song hit, for nearly all the numbers are unusually melodious, while others have the snap and swing that will make them instant hits. "Girl of My Heart," "Linger by the Fountain" and "My Mabel, Speak to Me," are the three most pretentious and melodious songs. The two first named are sure to be popular, and the third is going to run a close second in winning encores. "I Want a Husband" is the best of all the numbers for dancing and will be found on hundreds of programs before spring. These are not all the catchy vocal numbers by any means. But the others depend more on the personality of the singers for their effect.
Edna Luke in the leading role is all that could be desired. Having been here in "The Prince of Pilsen" and a couple of other successful musical shows, she is not new to Cumberland. In "The Girl of My Heart" she has the best role yet given her, and she makes full use of every opportunity for clever and "peppy" acting. She is full of life, buzzes with personality and wears her numerous changes of costume with distinction. She sings "You're My Pal" and "You Mustn't Fish in My Fish Pond" with telling effect, and received the most wholehearted applause for her renditions.
Florence Beresford won the audience with her sweet singing voice and charm of personality. Miss Bresford combines beauty and grace admirably and is an actress of much power of expression. Her duet with Yartner Saxton, "Linger by the Fountain," was

This action practically places the country's business under Federal control.

Jennette - Tyson Nuptials This P. M.

God's ideal of beauty never smiled upon a fairer bride nor a more gallant groom, than this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when Miss Annie Leonard Tyson, one of Greenville's charming young women, was wedded to Sergeant Sydney Earl Jennette, of Camp Sevier.
The nuptials were consummated in Memorial Baptist Church, where so many young hearts have been made to pulsate as one till death do them part, and was witnessed by a large company of well wishers and friends. For weeks Greenville society had been anticipating this auspicious event, and this afternoon their anticipation glided into realization. Like the beautiful birds in lovely springtime, they were mated for all that life holds sweet, and all wish for them during life's vicissitudes, one grand sweet song.
The church was one of beauty; the color scheme, white and green, being carried out in snow balls, dogwood blossoms, ferns, evergreens and white tulle, this being backed up by the soft rays of numerous waxen tapers.
Prior to the arrival of the bridal party, and during the time the polite and attentive ushers seated the visitors, Mrs. Lena Utley, gowned in white, with white hat and corsage of red roses, rendered quite an attractive musical program, and just before the bridal party was announced, Mrs. W. L. Hall, sister of the bride, comely attired in a frock of white crepe de chine, with white picture hat and corsage bouquet of Richmond red roses, sang most charmingly, "O, Perfect Love." As the sweet notes of the song slipped away in the distance, the organ, under the deft touch of the organist, Mrs. Lena Utley, announced the entrance of the bridal party with Lohengrin's march.
The first to enter were the bridesmaids, leaning on the arm of the groomsmen as follows: Miss Pattie Wooten with Mr. Walter Sheppard, of Farmville; Miss Christine Tyson with Mr. Marvin Jones, of Farmville; Miss Annie Perkins with Mr. W. L. Hall; Miss Eva McDonald, of Mount Olive with Mr. Richard King. The bridesmaids were gowned in white organdie frocks with large white Leghorn hats, trimmed in black ribbon, velvet and red roses. Their bouquets were Richmond red roses.
The next to enter was the maid of honor, Miss Izma Jennette, of Lake Landing, and sister of the groom, wearing a handsome gown of white organdie and white satin hat, trimmed in red roses. Her bouquet was Richmond red roses. Preceding the bride was sweet little Miss Jane Tyson Hall. Arriving at the altar, she was joined by the gallant groom.
The bride-elect was a cynosure for all, as she wended her way to the chancel, and never looked more charming and attractive. She wore a lovely creation of white tulle with satin entrain. Nestling in her arms could be seen a lovely bouquet of bride's roses. Arriving at the altar, she was joined by the gallant groom.
As the organ glided into the sweet notes of Traumerl, they faced the Rev. W. H. Moore, the pastor, who used the impressive and beautiful ring ceremony, making them man and wife for life's journey. As the last words of the pastor were spoken, the familiar notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march filled the church, and the party, amid the merry peal of the wedding bell, left the church for the home of the bride on Greene street, where the bride donned her going-away gown.
Sergeant and Mrs. Jennette, amid a shower of rice and old shoes, and the congratulations of their friends, left this afternoon via the Norfolk Southern for Asheville, N. C., where they will spend their honeymoon before going to Fleming.

Bank of Ayden Declares Dividend

They are still doing things over in Ayden. At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Ayden April 2, a dividend of 19 per cent was declared. This is indeed a most creditable showing and like other banks in Pitt county is evidence of the fact that the people have confidence in their financial institutions.
A resolution was offered and unanimously carried that the amount of the dividend, $19,000.00 be invested in the Third Liberty Loan bonds. The Bank of Ayden previously purchased $50,000 of the second series. This is a record to be proud of. The Bank of Ayden is one of the county's strong and growing banking institutions. Its officers are men of fine business acumen and under their guidance the bank is progressing along all lines.

AYDEN CITIZENS TO BUY QUOTA OF W. S. STAMPS

(Special to The Daily News)
AYDEN, N. C., April 10.—Although the weather was very inclement, a fair crowd of ladies and gentlemen were in attendance at the Christian Church here last night to hear Ex-Mayor O. B. Eaton of Winston-Salem, who came for the purpose of speaking on War Savings Stamps, and also to effect an organization of the citizens to push their sale.
The meeting was presided over by Mr. R. W. Smith, who introduced Mr. D. M. Clark of Greenville, county chairman of the War Savings Stamps campaign, who in turn introduced the speaker of the evening.
Mr. Eaton's remarks were listened to with great interest, and thoroughly enjoyed by those who braved the weather to go out.
Several citizens, who are members of the committee are out this morning, together with Mr. Eaton, soliciting pledges for the purchase of stamps. The first stage of the canvass revealed that the people are becoming interested in the Stamp movement and are going to put over their quota in short order. Messrs. R. W. and J. R. Smith, J. R. Turnage, J. B. Pierce, Supt. Covington of the city schools and others comprise the active committee.
Ayden has never been known to fall down on the job at anything. To say that she is patriotic is putting it mildly. The community is prosperous, and the little city is rapidly coming to the front as a business center. Hotel accommodations are excellent and the schools are the equal of any to be found.
Only a few days ago the town added waterworks and sewerage. Since that time various enterprises have come this way, among them being the National Veneering Co., perhaps the biggest establishment of its kind in the Eastern part of the State.
Ayden can be counted on to do her part in any good movement.
