Is Being Flagrantly Violated.

We wonder if the citizens of Greenville know that the following ordinance is still in vogue here?

Chapter II, Section 8. No person shall place, throw or sweep on any sidewalk, or in any of the streets or open lots of the town, any filth, trash, glass, paper, boxes, nails, pieces of board, shingles, barrels, hoops, watermelon rinds or any other thing of nuisance whatever, but the same shall be deposited in boxes, barrels, crates, or other vessels, and placed on the street in convenient places for removal by the town on Mondays and Thursdays of each week. Any person violating this ordinance shall be fined five dollars for each offense.

One of our readers makes inquiry through the columns of this paper today and asks: "Is this ordinance enforced? If it were enforced, would you have to pay a fine?"

We think the inquiry is pertinent for from the appearance of things this ordinance is being flagrantly violated. There is one thing sure, trash can be seen upon all sides, and especially is this true on Evans street right in the business section. If the ordinance is not enforced, it ought to go off the books and become null and void. Our people should have pride enough for appearance sake, if not for health's sake, to keep their premises clean. No such ordinance as the above should ever become imperative, but as it has, it ought to be carried out.

Let's see to it that Greenville is a clean town. It means much so far as health is concerned.

Our Great Rally Day.

Great things are going to be done in Greenville on Friday, April 19th, this being the time set apart for the master stroke in the Third Liberty Loan campaign for the sale of $3,000,000,000 worth of bonds throughout the United States between April 6th and May 4th, so far as Pitt county is concerned. While our apportionment is a mere bagatelle when we think of the above amount, still, we must be in the band wagon and do our share. The committee in charge of this rally day for Pitt county is now hard at work and have already mapped out their plans. All signs point to a glorious day—a day for which every citizen will feel proud and prouder still in knowing that he or she had some part in it.

Every citizen residing in Pitt county has a cordial invitation to be in Greenville Friday, April 19, and bring his entire family. Let everybody come and learn something more about the cruel war, and also how this country is endeavoring to win it. This war is got to be won, and we, as loyal American citizens, MUST HELP. Those who remain at home must do their best as well as those on the firing line. Win we must; win we shall! The purchase of Liberty Bonds is going to be no small factor in accomplishing this purpose and aim. So everybody be in Greenville on the 19th of April and help push along the Liberty Loan drive in Pitt county. Everybody is going to have a big time. Come! the town will be yours if you do. All together for a history-making day in good old Greenville!

Terms of the Liberty Loan.

Here are some interesting facts regarding the Third Liberty Loan issue, which all should read carefully:

Amount of loan, $3,000,000,000.
Date of bonds, May 9, 1918, payable September 15, 1928.
First interest coupon for 120 days, payable September 15, 1918.
Interest thereafter payable semi-annually—March 15th and September 15th.

Bonds not convertible and not subject to call for redemption before maturity.

Bonds carry the same exemption from taxation as those of the Second Liberty Loan.

If the terms and conditions of the Liberty Loan were understood by a larger number of persons, a larger number of sales would result. The only person who really can refuse to buy a bond is he who does not know what it's all about. It is up to him to acquaint himself with the details. Any banker in Greenville, or in Pitt county, will be glad to give out whatever information is desired.

If you are hesitating about buying a bond because you are doubtful regarding some point about the issue, don't hesitate any longer. Get the information you want and then proceed to buy as many bonds as you can afford.

Supt. Taylor's Resignation.

Regret is expressed on all sides that Superintendent Hoy Taylor will not be at the head of the Greenville Public Schools for another year, as he has tendered his resignation to the school board to take effect at the close of the present scholastic year. Mr. Taylor has been at the head of the public schools here for the past five years, and during his administration marked improvements along all lines have been made. He has striven assiduously for the success of the schools and in addition to this, has made a most excellent citizen. His determination to leave Greenville is to be deprecated.

A man or a nation fights best when "fighting mad." The United States has not yet reached that stage. The battle line is three thousand miles from our shores. Before we declared war a few of our citizens lost their lives by lawless submarine warfare. The taking over of a very small portion of the front by our troops has meant a few casualties. But the war has not come home to the American people as a whole. If America is to get into the war, we must by imagination visualize its horrors, which our allies are able to see at their very doors.

A Fine Showing.

Greenville made a fine showing last night in the contributions to the War Savings Stamp Campaign for over $20,000 was subscribed right off the bat, as a result of the powerful address delivered at the Court-house by Ex-Mayor O. B. Eaton of Winston-Salem. The address was one of the very finest ever heard here and that it bore fruit is evidenced by the way those present subscribed. Quite a number joined the Limit Club. The subscriptions ranged from $1,000 down to $50.

Everybody is feeling good over the result today as it begins to look like the county is going "over the top" so far as War Savings Stamps are concerned. We have always had faith in the people of this county to do the right thing and we know they are not going to be behind this time. That was a great meeting last night.

Do Your Bit

I ask the merchants of Greenville during the campaign now on for the sale of Liberty Loan Bonds, that they donate their advertising space from now until Saturday, May 4, to further the cause in this county. We must do our part in this trying hour and we must arouse the people to the necessity of buying bonds. Lets work as a unit and see to it that Pitt county "goes over the top."

We cannot afford to be "slackers" and not heed the call of our country.

N. O. WARREN

Chairman, Third Liberty Loan Campaign for Pitt County.
